Scots Cheer Ike's Arrival

U.S. Stays Aloof From India Fray

Red Incursions On Frontier Bring Plea For UN Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States stayed officially aloof Friday from India's troubles with Red China. Hopes grew, however, for an eventual shift in India's neutralist policy in the cold war.

On Capitol Hill, the disclosure of small-scale Red incursions at remote frontier points in India set off demands for quick intervention by the United Nations.

Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) both said the U.N. should step in.

Mansfield and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) agreed in seeing a tie-in between the Communist action and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming talks in Washington with President Eisenhower.

Familiar Tactic

"The familiar Communist tactic of keeping the West off balance," was how Mansfield expressed it.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif) suggested that Khrushchev ought to make clear what the Soviet position is on the Indian matter before coming here.

The State Department had no comment on Indian Prime Minister Nehru's disclosure of the new Red activity.

"I think Mr. Nehru is perfectly capable of speaking for India in this situation," press officer Lincoln White said.

Preliminary accounts reaching here were interpreted as showing no major invasion but rather a continuation of incidents that have focused critical Indian attention on Red China recently.

Terms Of Invasion

Nehru spoke in terms of an invasion by 200 Red Chinese troops. He said a protest had been dispatched to Peiping but he did not indicate he planned military counteraction.

A main point of Nehru's policy has been that India should stay out of foreign quarrels.

But there was also an increasing feeling that Peiping's own actions are prodding the Indians into a hard look at international communism that Washington had never been able to persuade them to undertake.

Chuck Berry Is Arrested

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) —Negro rock 'n' roll singer Charles (Chuck) Berry was in jail on a disorderly conduct charge Friday for allegedly trying to date a 20-year-old white girl.

Berry, 28, was arrested Thursday night at a high school fraternity dance held in an "officers club" at the Municipal Airport here, where the 153rd Air National Guard Tactical Reconnaissance Squad is stationed.

Air National Guard officials declined comment on the arrest.

County Attorney Paul Busby said Berry, of St. Louis and New York, was taken into custody on the complaint of the girl, whom he did not identify.

He said that bond would not be set for the singer until an investigation was completed.

Berry, whose recordings include "Maybellene" and "Memphis, Tennessee," was singing at the dance. He was said to be on a solo tour of the southeast. The dance was sponsored by Theta Kappa Omega high school fraternity just before the opening of the school year.

Wrong House, Wrong Bed, Wrong Wife

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Frances Garboski's husband works at night, so when a man slipped quietly into her bed early Friday morning she naturally assumed it was her spouse.

When the man left a few moments later the 33-year-old Long Island housewife, sleepily asked, "Where are you going?" Then she dozed off again.

When her husband, Edward, came to bed nearly two hours later she asked, "What's the idea walking out like that?"

"Walking out?" repeated her startled husband. "Look, I just got here. I was bowling."

"Well, then who. . . .?" she asked.

Police are asking themselves the same question.

They list the case as attempted burglary, but say it might have been a neighbor blundering into the wrong house.

Senate Seeks Instructions On Labor Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate conferees on the labor regulation bill decided Friday to go to the Senate floor next week for instructions on three deadlocked points.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) told of the decision at the end of the ninth day of meetings between Senate and House representatives trying to adjust different versions of the legislation.

Dirksen framed a resolution calling on the Senate to tell its conferees to accept the House language on secondary boycotts, organizational picketing and no man's land labor cases.

Dirksen, GOP leader of the Senatel is one of three Republicans who are the minority group on the Senate conference side.

Generally speaking, the House language is more stringent than the Senate's, and is accordingly opposed more vigorously by organized labor.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), the conference chairman and spokesman for the four Democratic senators comprising the majority for the Senate, announced he would have a counterproposal to Dirksen's to take up on the floor.

Kennedy's resolution will call for the Senate to instruct its representatives to go along with most points in a compromise plan presented by the four Democratic senators earlier this week.

The three deadlocked issues are:

No man's land cases — labor cases which fall between federal and state jurisdiction; secondary boycotts — labor action such as picket lines directed at a third party not directly involved in a labor dispute, and organizational picketing — use of picket lines in an effort to line up plant workers in favor of a particular union.

U.S. To Launch Satellites For Communication

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department announced plans Friday night to hurl communications satellites into high polar orbits to relay messages between ground bases and military aircraft.

The satellite communications system apparently will be designed chiefly for use by the Strategic Air Command's globe-girdling hydrogen bombers.

The plan was disclosed in a brief announcement that development contracts would be awarded to General Electric Co. and the Bendix Aviation Corp.

General Electric will develop the satellite vehicle system at a cost of $5,500,000. Bendix will develop the communications subsystem, or "talking" part of the satellite, at a cost of $8,500,000.

The project carries the name "Notus," a Greek word meaning "the south wind."

"The polar communications satellite, which will provide reliable two-way instantaneous communications in the polar regions, will be integrated into an overall global satellite communications network," the department said.

Duke Labeled One Of Worst Dressed Men

LONDON (UPI)—A men's fashion magazine Friday accused the Duke of Windsor of wearing "outdated clothes" and lumped him with Elvis Presley and Liberace as one of the worst dressed men of prominence in the world.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan also made the list in the magazine, man about town.

It said the Duke, who has been listed for years as one of their best-dressed men, has fallen behind in fashions.

"He's turned his back on style," the magazine said. "Like so many people past middle age, he seems to dress in an outdated style which reminds him of the heyday of his life but which is no longer at all in vogue."

Church Backs Filth Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic spokesmen threw their support Friday to a new drive against obscenity-by-mail.

They backed Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in asking tougher laws against those persons who, he said, are pouring "pornographic filth in the family mailbox."

Summerfield and others testified at a joint hearing of the Senate subcommittees on Juvenile Delinquency and Constitutional Amendments.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman, said estimates are that filth peddlers take in a half to three billion dollars a year—most of it from youths between the ages of 12 and 18.

Msgr. George H. Guilfoyle, executive director of Catholic Charities in New York, siad he and his associates have found a definite connection between juvenile delinquency and the sale of smut.

Ministers Clear Way For Survey By Ike, Mac

LONDON (AP) — The foreign ministers of Britain and the United States cleared the decks Friday for a survey of major world affairs by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The President and Prime Minister begin their talks in secrecy Saturday. They will carry on through the weekend.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd brought American and British views into line on a variety of issues involving relations with the Soviet Union.

These were the highlights given by American and British spokesmen:

1. The disarmament problem.

Qualified sources reported a new Western move is imminent here. American - British - French messages will soon ask the Soviet Union to join in a request to the United Nations formally to turn over long-stalled disarmament negotiations to a new 10-nation body to have headquarters in Geneva, they said. There would be five Western and five Communist nations on the group.

2. U.N. General Assembly problems.

This was presumed by informants to include methods of dealing with the issue of Algeria. A number of Asian and African powers are planning to indict France for its campaign against Algerian nationalist rebels.

3. The Berlin crisis and the German problem.

In this context it was understood the issue arose of a long-projected Big Four summit conference. Lloyd apparently restated the British view that top-level talks are essential and inevitable. The American view is that the Soviets must first give some clear indication progress is possible, either on a stopgap Berlin deal or on the reunion of Germany.

4. American-British-Soviet negotiations for a ban on nuclear weapons tests.

Herter and Lloyd were reported to be still hopeful that an agreement will be negotiated with the Russians allowing for control and inspections arrangements.

Auxiliary Fuel Line Leak Cancels X15 Test Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A leak in a line carrying fuel for an auxiliary power system held the X15 rocket plane earthbound Friday.

"I'm extremely disappointed," test pilot Scott Crossfield told reporters. He added, however, he does not consider postponement of the plane's first power flight a real setback in its calendar.

Crossfield spent more than two hours in his space suit within the cockpit while technicians worked on the hydrogen peroxide system. Despite temperatures in the 90s, he suffered no discomfort because the cockpit was ventilated.

A successful initial flight will be a major step in development of the X15, designed to carry a man at least 100 miles high at speeds near 4,000 miles an hour.

The leak did not involve the plane's fuel system. Crossfield said the faulty line carried hydrogen peroxide used to provide electricity for auxiliary power for hydraulic controls and communications.

"No serious damage is involved but the situation could have become serious upstairs," the pilot said.

Takeoff from this desert test center originally was set for 7 a.m. After several delays the Air Force announced cancellation of the flight.

Officials said the flight will not be rescheduled before next Tuesday at the earliest.

This X15 is No. 2 in a series of three. Its only previous flight was one locked under the wing of its mother B52 bomber.

The test flight calls for No. 2 to be carried to 38,000 feet by the B52, then cut loose and fly under its own power to about 50,000 feet.

Huge Flood Control Fund Bill Vetoed

Ike Turns Measure Down Because Of 67 New Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hit Congress where it hurts most Friday, vetoing a $1,206,000,000 bill to pay for flood control, reclamation and other water projects all over the United States.

His action, announced by the White House, was greeted by outraged cries on Capitol Hill and Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said an effort to override will be made in the House next Wednesday.

Eisenhower rejected the bill because it provided funds to plan or start 67 new projects he did not recommend in his budget for this fiscal year.

Will Cost More

He estimated these projects ultimately would cost more than 800 million dollars, although the amount earmarked for them in this bill was a relatively small 50 million dollars.

"By any sound test of urgency, these projects should not be started this year if we are to have a responsible federal fiscal policy," the President said in his message to the House.

The White House said Eisenhower vetoed the bill just before leaving for Europe earlier this week. There was no word on why the announcement was held up until Friday.

This was the 144th veto Eisenhower has flung at Congres since entering the White House in January 1953, and the seventh this year. So far, Congress has not been able to override any Eisenhower veto.

The water projects bill he turned down is sometimes referred to derisively as the "pork barrel" bill. This is because it contains money for local construction jobs dear to the hearts of many members of Congress.

Funds Earmarked

The bulk of the funds were earmarked for use by the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau to plan, build and maintain projects designed to curb floods, improve navigation, furnish power, save beaches froms erosion an reclaim arid land.

The $1,206,000,000 total was 30 million dollars more than Eisenhower recommended in January. But he made clear in his message it was the future impact of the unbudgeted items that he was most concerned about.

The President said that even without the unbudgeted projects, spending on water projects this year will reach $1,100,000,000 — a record and almost three-quarters again as much as five years ago.

American Taxes Hit $98 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans paid $98,300,000,000 in taxes to federal, state and local governments last year, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

This amounted to $567.63 for every man, woman and child in the nation. The lion's share of this sum—$392.51 — was collected by Uncle Sam.

The overall total was 300 million dollars below the previous year.

Skyscraper Collapses, Two Men Are Killed

ATLANTA (UPI) —Large parts of the first two floors of a 22-story skyscraper under construction on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Street collapsed Friday. A foreman was crushed to death in the cave-in and at least 15 workmen were injured.

The site, at one of the city's busiest downtown intersections, was crowded with morning rush-hour traffic when the tons of concrete and steel rumbled down with a roar heard over much of the downtown area.

The 15 workmen, many of them half buried in the rubble of steel girders and both wet and hardened cement, were rushed to a hospital. A hurried roll - call showed that foreman W. L. Crawford was missing.

Crawford's body was found two hours later in the basement of the New Georgia Power Co. office building. Workers with acetylene torches were unable to free his body. A giant crane and an automobile wrecker truck, pulling at opposite ends of the wreckage, lifted it enough for his body to be extricated.

Witnesses said a section of the second floor collapsed onto the first floor. The weight caused the concrete-slab first floor to plunge into the basement.

Some workers "rode down" unhurt with the cascading rubble.

James Wilburn Pritchett, 21, Carnesville, Ga., was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions.

"I was walking down the scaffold when the first thing I knew it came in on us," he said. "I was able to dig myself out and started helping the others out when the second slab came down."

TWA Plane Has Engine Trouble

Negro Family Is Freed After 11 Years In Jail

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two young Negroes who practically grew up in prison were reunited with their mother Friday as all three were released under parole.

Rosa Lee Ingram, 54, and the sons, Sammy Lee, now 25, and Wallace, 27, had served 11 years for the slaying of John Stratford, a 66-year-old white tenant farmer.

As she walked from the Colony prison farm at Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Ingram declared, "The burden has done fell off me. I feel like I can live happy now—me and my children."

In an interview after the arrival at the home here of Dr. C.R. Yates, a Negro druggist, Wallace said the news he was going to be freed made him "feel wonderful."

Both young men said they had learned to do a number of things while in prison. Wallace has been cooking and Sammy Lee worked in a dairy and ran a "store" on the side. He revealed he had accumulated $250 profits from his store—actually a box containing such articles as candy, chewing tobacco and cigarets.

Because of Sammy Lee's apparent business acumen, Yates said the youth probably would be put to work in one of the Yates drugstores.

Wallace probably will be employed by the Negro YMCA. W.R. Cochran, executive secretary of the Butler St. branch, said Wallace is expected to take over custodial duties of a new building and, because of his cooking ability to run a small eating place.

Those who aided in gaining a parole for the Ingrams declared their intention to allow the mother and her sons to fade into private life.

The Ingrams first were sentenced to death for the 1947 killing, which followed an argument over a straying mule. The sentences were commuted to life imprisonment amid a great deal of agitation from all parts of the country.

Queen Greets President At Castle Gates

Following Picnic The Talk Turns To Peace And Babies

BALMORAL, Scotland (AP) — The Scots gave President Eisenhower the greatest welcome ever accorded a foreigner on his arrival Friday for a social visit with Queen Elizabeth II.

They gathered in throngs all along the 40 miles from Aberdeen, where his plane landed from London, to Balmoral. They cheered and waved.

Although several months pregnant, the Queen herself brushed aside official plans, left Balmoral Castle and drove the half mile to the gates of the estate to welcome the first American president ever to visit Scotland.

Friday night, after a picnic on the grounds, Eisenhower and the Queen relaxed before a cozy log fire in the castle and talked of peace, babies and absent friends.

Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret at times joined the friendly, highly informal conversation.

Covers Mission

The peace talk covered the weighty mission that brought the President across the Atlantic to see his coleaders of the West before meeting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The talk on absent friends centered on Mrs. Eisenhower.

Few people went to and from the castle, but the word was brought out that the talk had turned easily to babies.

The Queen is expecting her third child in late January or early February.

Ike met her other two children — Prince Charles and Princess Anne—at a castle luncheon.

This was Eisenhower's second visit to Scotland. He visited Balmoral in 1946 as the guest of the Queen's late father, King George VI. At that time he was suppreme commander of the Allied forces.

Scottish officials said that never in their memory had there ever been such an enthusiastic turnout for a foreigner—or any one else for that matter.

Schoolchildren Cheer

In the crowds along the way from Aberdeen were hundreds of schoolchildren. They shouted greetings and waved American flags—some of them hand made.

Eisenhower was visibily touched. Time and again he slowed his car to a near halt to be able to smile his thanks to the throngs so close to his car.

He would lean forward, grin and wave.

Occasionally the enthusiasm was so great that he turned and commented to Prince Philip, driving with him.

At one place, children from a tiny schoolhouse hauled their blackboard alongside the road and pointed to what they had scrawled in chalk: "Welcome President Eisenhower."

Cmdr. Richard Colville, a palace spokesman, said the Queen

Indonesia Mops Up On Rebels

MEDAN, Indonesia (UPI)—Indonesian army troops killed 543 rebels and took 842 prisoners in "mopping-up" operations in Northern Sumatra during the first seven months of 1959, North Sumatra Commander Lt. Col. Djamin Gintings said Friday.

Government losses during the same period amounted to 22 soldiers missing, and 175 wounded, he said.

Gintings told a news conference that rebel strength in Northern Sumatra had dwindled to about 3,000 men and could be regarded as "insignificant."

He said the rebels had "lost their leadership and their morale," were short of food and ammunition, and had "lost all desire to fight."

He did not name the country or countries allegedly supporting the rebel forces.

The rebellion, led by a group of "young colonels" began in February, 1958, after its leaders charged that President Sukarno had allowed Communists to enter the government.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A leak in a line carrying fuel for an auxiliary power system held the X15 rocket plane earthbound Friday.

"I'm extremely disappointed," test pilot Scott Crossfield told reporters. He added, however, he does not consider postponement of the plane's first power flight a real setback in its calendar.

Crossfield spent more than two hours in his space suit within the cockpit while technicians worked on the hydrogen peroxide system. Despite temperatures in the 90s, he suffered no discomfort because the cockpit was ventilated.

A successful initial flight will be a major step in development of the X15, designed to carry a man at least 100 miles high at speeds near 4,000 miles an hour.

The leak did not involve the plane's fuel system. Crossfield said the faulty line carried hydrogen peroxide used to provide electricity for auxiliary power for hydraulic controls and communications.

"No serious damage is involved but the situation could have become serious upstairs," the pilot said.

Takeoff from this desert test center originally was set for 7 a.m. After several delays the Air Force announced cancellation of the flight.

Officials said the flight will not be rescheduled before next Tuesday at the earliest.

This X15 is No. 2 in a series of three. Its only previous flight was one locked under the wing of its mother B52 bomber.

The test flight calls for No. 2 to be carried to 38,000 feet by the B52, then cut loose and fly under its own power to about 50,000 feet.

Huge Flood Control Fund Bill Vetoed

Ike Turns Measure Down Because Of 67 New Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hit Congress where it hurts most Friday, vetoing a $1,206,000,000 bill to pay for flood control, reclamation and other water projects all over the United States.

His action, announced by the White House, was greeted by outraged cries on Capitol Hill and Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said an effort to override will be made in the House next Wednesday.

Eisenhower rejected the bill because it provided funds to plan or start 67 new projects he did not recommend in his budget for this fiscal year.

Will Cost More

He estimated these projects ultimately would cost more than 800 million dollars, although the amount earmarked for them in this bill was a relatively small 50 million dollars.

"By any sound test of urgency, these projects should not be started this year if we are to have a responsible federal fiscal policy," the President said in his message to the House.

The White House said Eisenhower vetoed the bill just before leaving for Europe earlier this week. There was no word on why the announcement was held up until Friday.

This was the 144th veto Eisenhower has flung at Congres since entering the White House in January 1953, and the seventh this year. So far, Congress has not been able to override any Eisenhower veto.

The water projects bill he turned down is sometimes referred to derisively as the "pork barrel" bill. This is because it contains money for local construction jobs dear to the hearts of many members of Congress.

Funds Earmarked

The bulk of the funds were earmarked for use by the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau to plan, build and maintain projects designed to curb floods, improve navigation, furnish power, save beaches froms erosion an reclaim arid land.

The $1,206,000,000 total was 30 million dollars more than Eisenhower recommended in January. But he made clear in his message it was the future impact of the unbudgeted items that he was most concerned about.

The President said that even without the unbudgeted projects, spending on water projects this year will reach $1,100,000,000 — a record and almost three-quarters again as much as five years ago.

American Taxes Hit $98 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans paid $98,300,000,000 in taxes to federal, state and local governments last year, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

This amounted to $567.63 for every man, woman and child in the nation. The lion's share of this sum—$392.51 — was collected by Uncle Sam.

The overall total was 300 million dollars below the previous year.

Skyscraper Collapses, Two Men Are Killed

ATLANTA (UPI) —Large parts of the first two floors of a 22-story skyscraper under construction on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Street collapsed Friday. A foreman was crushed to death in the cave-in and at least 15 workmen were injured.

The site, at one of the city's busiest downtown intersections, was crowded with morning rush-hour traffic when the tons of concrete and steel rumbled down with a roar heard over much of the downtown area.

The 15 workmen, many of them half buried in the rubble of steel girders and both wet and hardened cement, were rushed to a hospital. A hurried roll - call showed that foreman W. L. Crawford was missing.

Crawford's body was found two hours later in the basement of the New Georgia Power Co. office building. Workers with acetylene torches were unable to free his body. A giant crane and an automobile wrecker truck, pulling at opposite ends of the wreckage, lifted it enough for his body to be extricated.

Witnesses said a section of the second floor collapsed onto the first floor. The weight caused the concrete-slab first floor to plunge into the basement.

Some workers "rode down" unhurt with the cascading rubble.

James Wilburn Pritchett, 21, Carnesville, Ga., was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions.

"I was walking down the scaffold when the first thing I knew it came in on us," he said. "I was able to dig myself out and started helping the others out when the second slab came down."

TWA Plane Has Engine Trouble

Negro Family Is Freed After 11 Years In Jail

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two young Negroes who practically grew up in prison were reunited with their mother Friday as all three were released under parole.

Rosa Lee Ingram, 54, and the sons, Sammy Lee, now 25, and Wallace, 27, had served 11 years for the slaying of John Stratford, a 66-year-old white tenant farmer.

As she walked from the Colony prison farm at Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Ingram declared, "The burden has done fell off me. I feel like I can live happy now—me and my children."

In an interview after the arrival at the home here of Dr. C.R. Yates, a Negro druggist, Wallace said the news he was going to be freed made him "feel wonderful."

Both young men said they had learned to do a number of things while in prison. Wallace has been cooking and Sammy Lee worked in a dairy and ran a "store" on the side. He revealed he had accumulated $250 profits from his store—actually a box containing such articles as candy, chewing tobacco and cigarets.

Because of Sammy Lee's apparent business acumen, Yates said the youth probably would be put to work in one of the Yates drugstores.

Wallace probably will be employed by the Negro YMCA. W.R. Cochran, executive secretary of the Butler St. branch, said Wallace is expected to take over custodial duties of a new building and, because of his cooking ability to run a small eating place.

Those who aided in gaining a parole for the Ingrams declared their intention to allow the mother and her sons to fade into private life.

The Ingrams first were sentenced to death for the 1947 killing, which followed an argument over a straying mule. The sentences were commuted to life imprisonment amid a great deal of agitation from all parts of the country.

Queen Greets President At Castle Gates

Following Picnic The Talk Turns To Peace And Babies

BALMORAL, Scotland (AP) — The Scots gave President Eisenhower the greatest welcome ever accorded a foreigner on his arrival Friday for a social visit with Queen Elizabeth II.

They gathered in throngs all along the 40 miles from Aberdeen, where his plane landed from London, to Balmoral. They cheered and waved.

Although several months pregnant, the Queen herself brushed aside official plans, left Balmoral Castle and drove the half mile to the gates of the estate to welcome the first American president ever to visit Scotland.

Friday night, after a picnic on the grounds, Eisenhower and the Queen relaxed before a cozy log fire in the castle and talked of peace, babies and absent friends.

Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret at times joined the friendly, highly informal conversation.

Covers Mission

The peace talk covered the weighty mission that brought the President across the Atlantic to see his coleaders of the West before meeting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The talk on absent friends centered on Mrs. Eisenhower.

Few people went to and from the castle, but the word was brought out that the talk had turned easily to babies.

The Queen is expecting her third child in late January or early February.

Ike met her other two children — Prince Charles and Princess Anne—at a castle luncheon.

This was Eisenhower's second visit to Scotland. He visited Balmoral in 1946 as the guest of the Queen's late father, King George VI. At that time he was suppreme commander of the Allied forces.

Scottish officials said that never in their memory had there ever been such an enthusiastic turnout for a foreigner—or any one else for that matter.

Schoolchildren Cheer

In the crowds along the way from Aberdeen were hundreds of schoolchildren. They shouted greetings and waved American flags—some of them hand made.

Eisenhower was visibily touched. Time and again he slowed his car to a near halt to be able to smile his thanks to the throngs so close to his car.

He would lean forward, grin and wave.

Occasionally the enthusiasm was so great that he turned and commented to Prince Philip, driving with him.

At one place, children from a tiny schoolhouse hauled their blackboard alongside the road and pointed to what they had scrawled in chalk: "Welcome President Eisenhower."

Cmdr. Richard Colville, a palace spokesman, said the Queen

Indonesia Mops Up On Rebels

MEDAN, Indonesia (UPI)—Indonesian army troops killed 543 rebels and took 842 prisoners in "mopping-up" operations in Northern Sumatra during the first seven months of 1959, North Sumatra Commander Lt. Col. Djamin Gintings said Friday.

Government losses during the same period amounted to 22 soldiers missing, and 175 wounded, he said.

Gintings told a news conference that rebel strength in Northern Sumatra had dwindled to about 3,000 men and could be regarded as "insignificant."

He said the rebels had "lost their leadership and their morale," were short of food and ammunition, and had "lost all desire to fight."

He did not name the country or countries allegedly supporting the rebel forces.

The rebellion, led by a group of "young colonels" began in February, 1958, after its leaders charged that President Sukarno had allowed Communists to enter the government.

Soviet To Abide By Nuclear Ban

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday night it will not conduct any nuclear weapons tests so long as the Western powers likewise refrain.

It also said again it is willing to sign an agreement to halt all tests of the atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The declaration was a response to American and British announcements this week extending the Western ban on nuclear tests at least for the rest of this year.

The official news agency Tass announced the action by the Soviet Union's Council of Ministers.

Stating the Soviets will not resume its tests if the Western powers do not, the Soviet statement added: "Only in case of resumption by them of nuclear weapons tetss will the Soviet Union be free from this pledge."

An announcement in Washington Wednesday said the United States was extending a suspension of tests from Oct. 31 to Dec. 31. Britain announced the following day its ban on nuclear weapons tests will go on as long as talks among the three nuclear powers on a suspension treaty show some prospect of success.

(So far as is known, France is going ahead with plans for nuclear weapons tests in the Sahara despite rising protests from Africans and others. President De Gaulle was touring Algeria and not available Friday night for comment.

The Washington announcement of the extension came on the day a six-weeks late summer recess was called by Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union in their Geneva negotiations on a nuclear test ban.

The original U.S. test halt was announced Aug. 22, 1958, and was to last one year from the time the Geneva talks began. They started last Oct. 31.

(The Soviets have not fired any nuclear explosions that the West has detected since Nov. 3, 1958.)

The Soviet government statement noted the extension by the United States and Britain and said the Soviet Union "has long since been striving for the complete cessation of the tests of all types of nuclear weapons."

Proposes State Pay Half Of School Costs

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Maryland's school superintendent proposed Friday that the State pay half the cost of public school operations—13 per cent more than its present burden.

Thomas G. Pullen Jr. suggested the change in a speech before county commissioners attending the opening session of their two-day annual meeting here.

"Who is responsible for education?" asked Pullen, answering, "The responsibility is fundamentally a state one."

Pullen said Maryland counties now bear 58 per cent of the cost of education, with the federal government supporting 5 per cent and the State paying the rest.

He compared this with a highway cost breakdown showing the State financing 80 per cent, local governments 7, and the federal government 13.

He proposed that the State assume 50 per cent of overall education costs and that its contributions range from 30 per cent in "richer" counties to 75 per cent in the "poorer" ones. Discussions of relative wealth among counties traditionally have employed assessable real estate as the determining factor, but State Tax Commission officials acknowledge that in some counties assessments are not pegged as closely to real value as in others.

Pullen noted the federal prohibition against discrimination in public schools because of race and urged that there be none because of geography.

Each county should be given the same quality of education, he said.

The commissioners also heard John S. Shriver, director of the State Bureau of Fiscal Research, discuss new legislation of interest to the counties.

Among speakers at Saturday's session will be John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads Commission; State Sen. John L. Sanford (D-Worcester) and Lloyd L. Simpkins, executive assistant to Gov. Tawes.

Lowly Plebes Given Liberty

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Naval Academy's lowly plebes were living high Friday. They were free to visit the city of Annapolis.

Most of them had their parents or other relatives in tow, and they had to be back by 10 p.m. But it was their first liberty, and it was sweet.

The occasion was "parents open house weekend," a three-day program designed to show parents of the new freshman class what their sons have learned in six weeks at the Academy and what their next four years will be like.

About 1,600 fathers, mothers, guardians and other relatives participated in events of the opening day. On Friday's schedule were two band concerts, boat trips in Severn River, an open house in the academic departments, recreational sailing and movies.

Queen Greets

decided some days ago to go out and meet Eisenhower at the gates of Balmoral Castle.

But she decided not to disclose this for fear of being tied down by formal ceremony.

Guard Of Honor

There was a guard of honor which was for the President and if she had been there officially she would have had to take precedence—creating a formal setting for what was intended to be an informal reunion.

The Queen looked lovely and showed no sign of her coming child as she appeared at the gates.

With her was Princess Margaret slightly nervous in front of the TV cameras that recorded the scene for viewers all over Britain.

The Queen and the President began animated conversation from the moment the 68-year-old chief executive got out of his car.

They chatted, smiled and commented on the Queen's bodyguard, the Royal Highland Fusiliers — especially when the bagpipes began to wail.

Eisenhower went out for the picnic with the royal family at a secluded spot on the estate. After lunch the party changed into country garb and sat around chatting until 3:30.

Drive Over Estate

Then they piled into automobiles and drove around the estate, the Queen acting as driver for Eisenhower, his son Maj. John Eisenhower, Princess Margaret, and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician.

After breakfast at the castle—and it will be an early one—the President will leave Balmoral at 8 a.m. accompanied by Prince Philip.

Eisenhower will take off from Aberdeen's Dyce Airport on his way to a weekend of talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Chequers, the official country home of Macmillan.

163 Workers Are Laid Off By Steel Tieup

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Employment Security said Friday that 163 Maryland workers were laid off during the week ending last Wednesday because of the steel strike.

A department spokesman said the total of Marylanders in secondary industry laid off since the strike began was 4,423. All but 200 of these are in the Baltimore area.

They have joined some 30,000 steel workers in Baltimore who walked off their jobs when the strike began last month.

Secondary industries affected by the steel strike include railroads, motor freight, wholesale and retail trade, construction, the primary metal industry (not including the striking steel companies) and manufacturers of electrical equipment, lumber and wood products and stone, clay and glass products.

Ask Flood Aid

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist China will ask the United States for $38,300,000 to help repair damage from recent floods in Formosa, authoriative sources said Thursday. Total damage caused by the floods is estimated at 94 million dollars, nearly half of it to agriculture.

Police Dogs May Help To Patrol Streets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police dogs may be used to help patrol Washington's streets.

Robert E. McLaughlin, a District of Columbia commissioner, and Police Chief Robert V. Murphy plan to visit Baltimore to observe the use of police dogs there.

The dogs, assigned to accompany patrolmen, are especially effective in discouraging street crime, police said.

Wilde Remains On Arundel County Board

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Frank W. Wilde may remain on the board of Anne Arundel County Commissioners, a Circuit Court judge has decided.

But the decision filed Thursday by Judge James Macgill expressed doubt about the legality of the dual role Wilde filled temporarily as board member and acting county business manager.

Attorney Samuel Schenker claimed Wilde violated the Maryland Constitution by holding both jobs. Wilde acted as county manager while awaiting the hiring of a new manager after the old one resigned.

Schenker filed suit in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court for a wirt of mandamus certifying a vacancy in Wilde's seat on the board.

Judge Macgill ruled that holding the two offices "falls within the scope of the common law inhibition against the holding of two incompatible offices."

But, he said it did not follow that the writ should be granted.

The judge noted that Wilde has vacated the job of county manager, and he said "there is nothing to show that (Wilde) contemplated anything more than a temporary service in the office. . ."

He said a writ of mandamus "will be granted only where the court is satisfied that it will serve some just or useful purpose."

5,000 Chickens Die In Wreck

DENTON, Md. (AP) — More than 5,000 chickens worth an estimated $2,500 were destroyed Friday when a tractor-trailer upset on Maryland 404 near here.

State Police said the driver, Winfred A. Miller, 31, of Rockoak, W. Va. apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Police said the chickens were in 265 crates which jammed together and smothered the fowl.

Miller escaped injury.

Railway Salaries To Be Reduced

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad announced Friday that salaries of non-union employes will be cut by 5 to 10 per cent, effective next Tuesday.

The cut will be 10 per cent on salaries over $10,000, and 5 per cent on those above $7,200.

The railroad said the reductions, affectinge excutives, supervisors and some office employes, are a result of lost revenues in the steel strike which is now in its second month.

Thursday, the railroad reported a net loss of $974,425 in July, mainly because of reduced freight shipments.

Woman's Body Found In Water On Golf Course

BALTIMORE (AP) — The body of 62-year-old Mrs. Alice Wolfe was found Friday lying face up in a golf course stream a few blocks from her home.

A medical examination was planned to determine the cause of death. Police said there were no visible signs of foul play on the badly decomposed body.

The body, dressed in a brown nightgown, was found shortly after police discovered her corduroy jacket and other personal belongings on the bank of the stream near the second hole of the Baltimore Country Club golf course.

Police said a blue umbrella and a thermos bottle were on top of the neatly folded garment. Inside were a wrist watch and an empty bottle of pills.

Relatives had told police after Mrs. Wolfe disappeared that a bottle of sleeping pills was missing from her home in fashionable Roland Park.

Mrs. Wolfe was last seen when she left home early Monday to take her daily walk through the neighborhood. She was reported missing by her daughter, Mrs. Allison Wolfe Fryer, who lives at the same address.

Mrs. Frye said her mother was in the habit of taking walks when she could not sleep. Police said Mrs. Wolfe had been under a doctor's care.

Her husband, Marmaduke Wolfe, is curator of the Flag House.

She was active in the Flag House Assn. and other historical organizations in Baltimore. She was also a member of the Women's Club of Roland Park and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Police, using K-9 Corps dogs, searched the neighborhood and the area near the golf course in full force until Wednesday night. A token search continued until the body was found.

California Seeks Extradition Of Larry Motherwell

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown Friday signed papers seeking extradition from Georgia of Larry Lord Motherwell, accused of slaying a 72-year-old widow whose bones were found in the California mountains.

The papers were turned over to Sheriff W.D. Johnson of Sierra County and L. Kenneth Horton of the California Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, who will leave Saturday for Atlanta.

Motherwell, 43, was arrested in Atlanta shortly after the bones of Mrs. Pearl Putney were found on a lonely mountain road near Downieville. She had last been seen a year earlier with Motherwell in Marysville, Calif. Mrs. Putney was said to have $50,000 in cash and securities when she left Washington, D.C., with Motherwell.

Body Of Youth Found In Bay

CHESAPEAKE BEACH, Md. (AP)—The body of 14-year-old Theodore P. Thiezhota Jr. of Rockville, Md. was found floating in Chesapeake Bay Friday.

The youth disappeared Wednesday while boating with a companion, William P. Bellew of Bethesda.

The body was discovered by Jack Abbott of Chesapeake Beach, State Trooper Donald Ridas reported.

Stocks Lapse Into Routine Irregularity On Weekend

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks lapsed into routine irregularity on the weekend session as traders adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Activity lightened, with the day's 1,930,000-share turnover running 620,000 shares below Thursday.

Many of the leaders were easier in the face of disinterest and the market showed an over-all loss of close to $1 billion in the value of all listed shares.

The speculative buying in evidence Thursday on hopes for an early steel strike settlement petered out as negotiations recessed on a none too optimistic note.

Steels showed losses running to 1½ points in U. S. Steel to around a point in Wheeling and Carpenter. The autos, sharply higher on Thursday, backed off.

Electronics were among the day's best performers. International Telephone, up a point, was the day's most actively traded issue. Zenith, Raytheon, Texas Instruments rose a point to 1½ points.

Following in the active list were General Motors, off ⅝, Allis-Chalmers, up ⅜; American Motors off ½ and Studebaker Packard when-issued, up ⅛.

A few individual issues featured on corporate announcements.

Metals generally were higher, with Reynolds rising another 2⅛ points in the wake of Thursday's stock split announcement. Phelps Dodge gained 1¼.

Among chemicals, Du Pont lost a point; Union Carbide gained 1¼. United Board & Carton, J. C. Penney, Westinghouse Electric, Goodyear Tire, Ritter Co., General Dynamics, Eaton Manufacturing rose a point to nearly 4 points.

The rails were higher on average.

Utilities generally showed fractional loss and American Electric declined more than a point.

Of a total 1,141 issues traded, 458 were higher on the day, 445 lower.

Stocks on the American Exchange turned irregular in moderate trading Friday.

The list favored the upside through most of the session but began easing off around the close.

Soviet To Abide By Nuclear Ban

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday night it will not conduct any nuclear weapons tests so long as the Western powers likewise refrain.

It also said again it is willing to sign an agreement to halt all tests of the atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The declaration was a response to American and British announcements this week extending the Western ban on nuclear tests at least for the rest of this year.

The official news agency Tass announced the action by the Soviet Union's Council of Ministers.

Stating the Soviets will not resume its tests if the Western powers do not, the Soviet statement added: "Only in case of resumption by them of nuclear weapons tetss will the Soviet Union be free from this pledge."

An announcement in Washington Wednesday said the United States was extending a suspension of tests from Oct. 31 to Dec. 31. Britain announced the following day its ban on nuclear weapons tests will go on as long as talks among the three nuclear powers on a suspension treaty show some prospect of success.

(So far as is known, France is going ahead with plans for nuclear weapons tests in the Sahara despite rising protests from Africans and others. President De Gaulle was touring Algeria and not available Friday night for comment.

The Washington announcement of the extension came on the day a six-weeks late summer recess was called by Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union in their Geneva negotiations on a nuclear test ban.

The original U.S. test halt was announced Aug. 22, 1958, and was to last one year from the time the Geneva talks began. They started last Oct. 31.

(The Soviets have not fired any nuclear explosions that the West has detected since Nov. 3, 1958.)

The Soviet government statement noted the extension by the United States and Britain and said the Soviet Union "has long since been striving for the complete cessation of the tests of all types of nuclear weapons."

Proposes State Pay Half Of School Costs

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Maryland's school superintendent proposed Friday that the State pay half the cost of public school operations—13 per cent more than its present burden.

Thomas G. Pullen Jr. suggested the change in a speech before county commissioners attending the opening session of their two-day annual meeting here.

"Who is responsible for education?" asked Pullen, answering, "The responsibility is fundamentally a state one."

Pullen said Maryland counties now bear 58 per cent of the cost of education, with the federal government supporting 5 per cent and the State paying the rest.

He compared this with a highway cost breakdown showing the State financing 80 per cent, local governments 7, and the federal government 13.

He proposed that the State assume 50 per cent of overall education costs and that its contributions range from 30 per cent in "richer" counties to 75 per cent in the "poorer" ones. Discussions of relative wealth among counties traditionally have employed assessable real estate as the determining factor, but State Tax Commission officials acknowledge that in some counties assessments are not pegged as closely to real value as in others.

Pullen noted the federal prohibition against discrimination in public schools because of race and urged that there be none because of geography.

Each county should be given the same quality of education, he said.

The commissioners also heard John S. Shriver, director of the State Bureau of Fiscal Research, discuss new legislation of interest to the counties.

Among speakers at Saturday's session will be John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads Commission; State Sen. John L. Sanford (D-Worcester) and Lloyd L. Simpkins, executive assistant to Gov. Tawes.

Lowly Plebes Given Liberty

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Naval Academy's lowly plebes were living high Friday. They were free to visit the city of Annapolis.

Most of them had their parents or other relatives in tow, and they had to be back by 10 p.m. But it was their first liberty, and it was sweet.

The occasion was "parents open house weekend," a three-day program designed to show parents of the new freshman class what their sons have learned in six weeks at the Academy and what their next four years will be like.

About 1,600 fathers, mothers, guardians and other relatives participated in events of the opening day. On Friday's schedule were two band concerts, boat trips in Severn River, an open house in the academic departments, recreational sailing and movies.

Queen Greets

decided some days ago to go out and meet Eisenhower at the gates of Balmoral Castle.

But she decided not to disclose this for fear of being tied down by formal ceremony.

Guard Of Honor

There was a guard of honor which was for the President and if she had been there officially she would have had to take precedence—creating a formal setting for what was intended to be an informal reunion.

The Queen looked lovely and showed no sign of her coming child as she appeared at the gates.

With her was Princess Margaret slightly nervous in front of the TV cameras that recorded the scene for viewers all over Britain.

The Queen and the President began animated conversation from the moment the 68-year-old chief executive got out of his car.

They chatted, smiled and commented on the Queen's bodyguard, the Royal Highland Fusiliers — especially when the bagpipes began to wail.

Eisenhower went out for the picnic with the royal family at a secluded spot on the estate. After lunch the party changed into country garb and sat around chatting until 3:30.

Drive Over Estate

Then they piled into automobiles and drove around the estate, the Queen acting as driver for Eisenhower, his son Maj. John Eisenhower, Princess Margaret, and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician.

After breakfast at the castle—and it will be an early one—the President will leave Balmoral at 8 a.m. accompanied by Prince Philip.

Eisenhower will take off from Aberdeen's Dyce Airport on his way to a weekend of talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Chequers, the official country home of Macmillan.

163 Workers Are Laid Off By Steel Tieup

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Employment Security said Friday that 163 Maryland workers were laid off during the week ending last Wednesday because of the steel strike.

A department spokesman said the total of Marylanders in secondary industry laid off since the strike began was 4,423. All but 200 of these are in the Baltimore area.

They have joined some 30,000 steel workers in Baltimore who walked off their jobs when the strike began last month.

Secondary industries affected by the steel strike include railroads, motor freight, wholesale and retail trade, construction, the primary metal industry (not including the striking steel companies) and manufacturers of electrical equipment, lumber and wood products and stone, clay and glass products.

Ask Flood Aid

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist China will ask the United States for $38,300,000 to help repair damage from recent floods in Formosa, authoriative sources said Thursday. Total damage caused by the floods is estimated at 94 million dollars, nearly half of it to agriculture.

Police Dogs May Help To Patrol Streets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police dogs may be used to help patrol Washington's streets.

Robert E. McLaughlin, a District of Columbia commissioner, and Police Chief Robert V. Murphy plan to visit Baltimore to observe the use of police dogs there.

The dogs, assigned to accompany patrolmen, are especially effective in discouraging street crime, police said.

Wilde Remains On Arundel County Board

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Frank W. Wilde may remain on the board of Anne Arundel County Commissioners, a Circuit Court judge has decided.

But the decision filed Thursday by Judge James Macgill expressed doubt about the legality of the dual role Wilde filled temporarily as board member and acting county business manager.

Attorney Samuel Schenker claimed Wilde violated the Maryland Constitution by holding both jobs. Wilde acted as county manager while awaiting the hiring of a new manager after the old one resigned.

Schenker filed suit in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court for a wirt of mandamus certifying a vacancy in Wilde's seat on the board.

Judge Macgill ruled that holding the two offices "falls within the scope of the common law inhibition against the holding of two incompatible offices."

But, he said it did not follow that the writ should be granted.

The judge noted that Wilde has vacated the job of county manager, and he said "there is nothing to show that (Wilde) contemplated anything more than a temporary service in the office. . ."

He said a writ of mandamus "will be granted only where the court is satisfied that it will serve some just or useful purpose."

5,000 Chickens Die In Wreck

DENTON, Md. (AP) — More than 5,000 chickens worth an estimated $2,500 were destroyed Friday when a tractor-trailer upset on Maryland 404 near here.

State Police said the driver, Winfred A. Miller, 31, of Rockoak, W. Va. apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Police said the chickens were in 265 crates which jammed together and smothered the fowl.

Miller escaped injury.

Railway Salaries To Be Reduced

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad announced Friday that salaries of non-union employes will be cut by 5 to 10 per cent, effective next Tuesday.

The cut will be 10 per cent on salaries over $10,000, and 5 per cent on those above $7,200.

The railroad said the reductions, affectingе excutives, supervisors and some office employes, are a result of lost revenues in the steel strike which is now in its second month.

Thursday, the railroad reported a net loss of $974,425 in July, mainly because of reduced freight shipments.

Woman's Body Found In Water On Golf Course

BALTIMORE (AP) — The body of 62-year-old Mrs. Alice Wolfe was found Friday lying face up in a golf course stream a few blocks from her home.

A medical examination was planned to determine the cause of death. Police said there were no visible signs of foul play on the badly decomposed body.

The body, dressed in a brown nightgown, was found shortly after police discovered her corduroy jacket and other personal belongings on the bank of the stream near the second hole of the Baltimore Country Club golf course.

Police said a blue umbrella and a thermos bottle were on top of the neatly folded garment. Inside were a wrist watch and an empty bottle of pills.

Relatives had told police after Mrs. Wolfe disappeared that a bottle of sleeping pills was missing from her home in fashionable Roland Park.

Mrs. Wolfe was last seen when she left home early Monday to take her daily walk through the neighborhood. She was reported missing by her daughter, Mrs. Allison Wolfe Fryer, who lives at the same address.

Mrs. Frye, said her mother was in the habit of taking walks when she could not sleep. Police said Mrs. Wolfe had been under a doctor's care.

Her husband, Marmaduke Wolfe, is curator of the Flag House.

She was active in the Flag House Assn. and other historical organizations in Baltimore. She was also a member of the Women's Club of Roland Park and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Police, using K-9 Corps dogs, searched the neighborhood and the area near the golf course in full force until Wednesday night. A token search continued until the body was found.

California Seeks Extradition Of Larry Motherwell

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown Friday signed papers seeking extradition from Georgia of Larry Lord Motherwell, accused of slaying a 72-year-old widow whose bones were found in the California mountains.

The papers were turned over to Sheriff W.D. Johnson of Sierra County and L. Kenneth Horton of the California Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, who will leave Saturday for Atlanta.

Motherwell, 43, was arrested in Atlanta shortly after the bones of Mrs. Pearl Putney were found on a lonely mountain road near Downieville. She had last been seen a year earlier with Motherwell in Marysville, Calif. Mrs. Putney was said to have $50,000 in cash and securities when she left Washington, D.C., with Motherwell.

Body Of Youth Found In Bay

CHESAPEAKE BEACH, Md. (AP)—The body of 14-year-old Theodore P. Thiezhota Jr. of Rockville, Md. was found floating in Chesapeake Bay Friday.

The youth disappeared Wednesday while boating with a companion, William P. Bellew of Bethesda.

The body was discovered by Jack Abbott of Chesapeake Beach. State Trooper Donald Ridas reported.

Stocks Lapse Into Routine Irregularity On Weekend

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks lapsed into routine irregularity on the weekend session as traders adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Activity lightened, with the day's 1,930,000-share turnover running 620,000 shares below Thursday.

Many of the leaders were easier in the face of disinterest and the market showed an over-all loss of close to $1 billion in the value of all listed shares.

The speculative buying in evidence Thursday on hopes for an early steel strike settlement, petered out as negotiations recessed on a none too optimistic note.

Steels showed losses running to 1½ points in U. S. Steel to around a point in Wheeling and Carpenter. The autos, sharply higher on Thursday, backed off.

Electronics were among the day's best performers. International Telephone, up a point, was the day's most actively traded issue. Zenith, Raytheon, Texas Instruments rose a point to 1½ points.

Following in the active list were General Motors, off ⅝, Allis-Chalmers, up ⅜; American Motors off ½ and Studebaker Packard when-issued, up ⅛.

A few individual issues featured on corporate announcements.

Metals generally were higher, with Reynolds rising another 2⅛ points in the wake of Thursday's stock split announcement. Phelps Dodge gained 1¼.

Among chemicals, Du Pont lost a point; Union Carbide gained 1¼. United Board & Carton, J. C. Penney, Westinghouse Electric, Goodyear Tire, Ritter Co., General Dynamics, Eaton Manufacturing rose a point to nearly 4 points.

The rails were higher on average.

Utilities generally showed fractional loss and American Electric declined more than a point.

Of a total 1,141 issues traded, 458 were higher on the day, 445 lower.

Stocks on the American Exchange turned irregular in moderate trading Friday.

The list favored the upside through most of the session but began easing off around the close.

Fall Sweaters Sprout Collars

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW SWEATERS get their design interest right in the neck this fall.

Collars of all shapes and sizes add variety to the campus sweater scene, along with new yarn textures and treatments. A bulky rib-knit cardigan, for instance, may have a shawl collar of looped yarn, giving a furry look. Another may have a hood-collar of raccoon. A dress-up sweater in looped mohair may have a wide scoop neckline and a collar as big as a cape.

With the new variety in styles, college girls will want more sweaters than ever this year. They have found that a sweater wardrobe, with color-coordinated skirts, shorts and slacks, can take them through practically any occasion.

Dressy sweaters team with matching velvet or cashmere skirts for favorite date attire, and bulky sweaters go with tweed skirts to football games.

Official Sweater Week starts Sept. 21, but for most American college girls every week is sweater week.

DATE SWEATER — This looped mohair sweater, designed by Bonnie Cashin, is "spanking pink," with scoop-neck collar.

FOOTBALL SPECIAL — Tweedy wool-knit cardigan has shawl collar of looped yarn.

CAMPUS PET — New cropped cardigan in brushed wool has open neck, funnel collar.

Navy Mothers Convention Program Is Outlined

J. Glenn Beall, Lt. (j.g.) Naval Reserve, will be the principal speaker at the banquet concluding the convention of Maryland No. 5, Navy Mothers Club of America, to be held here September 18-19, at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The welcome is to be given by Mrs. Helene Bujac, banquet chairman, with Mrs. Dolores Sperling, Dundalk, state adjutant, making the response. Mrs. Blanche Lueck, convention chairman, will serve as toastmaster for the banquet at 6:30. The program also includes remarks by Mrs. Elsie Bozeman, Cleveland, Ohio, national commander; Mrs. Josephine Hubers, Glen Burnie, state commander; J. Paul Blundon, Keyser, a retired admiral; Lawrence Elliott, recruiting officer in Cumberland, and Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Concluding the banquet Mrs. Bozeman will conduct the installation of officers, assisted by Mrs. Hubers, as marshal; Mrs. Reba Buser, chaplain, and Mrs. Sperling, adjutant.

Entertainment will follow and includes numbers from the Dixon Dance Studio; vocal selections by Miss Earlene Hardman; accordion selections by William Boyer and a comic skit by Mr. and Mrs. John Dorn.

Registration will be held Friday and Saturday mornings, followed by business sessions with Mrs. Hubers presiding. Friday it will be at 11 and Saturday at 10, when state officers are to be elected.

Capt. Billy C. Menges of the local Naval Reserve station, will be the speaker at the "Commanders Luncheon" Friday at 12:30. Chief Charles F. Burns of the station, will offer the invocation. Both will be introduced by Mrs. Sally Engle, luncheon chairman. Another business session will follow.

Friday evening the memorial service will be conducted by Mrs. Lueck, with music by Mrs. Buser. Stanley Leasure is to be soloist and with Mrs. Bujac will sing a duet. Readings will be given by Mrs. Bertha Pitts, Mrs. Hubers and Mrs. Amelia Coward, Pasadenia, Md. Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, local commander, will offer prayer.

An entertainment program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Bartlett, following the service. It includes a barber shop quartet, drill, and skit by members of the local club and group singing. Mrs. Maude Sutherland is convention pianist.

Class Entertained

Mrs. Arthur Eshelman entertained the girls of her Sunday school class in the Bedford Road Baptist Church, at her home on Bedford Road, with a wiener roast and pajama party Wednesday evening.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Ledbetter, Norma Hedrick, Kay Norris, Joyce Kinser, Jackie Simpson, Constance Hedrick, Patricia Simpson, Toni Snow, Jeanne Keller. "Firebuilders" were Emory Crites, James Merton and James Clarke.

Newcomers To Meet Sept. 10

The Newcomers Club will resume business sessions September 10, after the summer recess. It will be held at the Girl Scout house at 8 p. m., with Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, as guest speaker. Her topic is "Interesting Facts of Cumberland."

A change has been made in the card groups. The canasta group is to meet the first and third Wednesdays of the month in the various homes, beginning September 2. The bridge group will meet the first and third Thursdays in the Woman's Civic Club house. A new group of 500 players will be formed if enough are interested. Those wishing to join are asked to call Mrs. Ray Dickerson.

The club also is preparing a new roster of members. Any having a change in address or phone number since April 1, 1959, is asked to call Mrs. Robert Kuenvig, corresponding secretary, PA 4-4983.

Over 70 reservations have been taken for the outing to mark the close of the summer season. It is being held in the form of a wiener roast tonight at Happy Hills Restaurant, Route 40, west of Frostburg, at 6:30. Swimming, music, games and a hay ride will follow the wiener roast.

4-H Trail Elects 2 Officers

Election of two officers and announcement of the next meeting featured the first annual county 4-H meeting, which was held in Constitution Park yesterday afternoon.

Eileen Morgan from the Frostburg club was elected vice president of the Girls Trail and Charlotte King, of the Cumberland club, secretary. Holdover officers are Patricia King, president and Marlene Clark, treasurer.

Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, family life specialist from the University of Maryland, will be the speaker at the next Trail meeting, which will be held September 19 at 10 a.m., in the extension office. She will discuss child care 4-H units.

A recreation and get-acquainted period was conducted by Miss Nancy Marsteller and Miss Brunhilde Seidel; followed by a talent show under the direction of Donna Simpson and the Flintstone-Polish Mountain Club. Rev. Archie Prevatte, pastor of First Baptist Church, and a former 4-H'er spoke on "4-H a Challenge for Youth." Ann Hardinger was master of ceremonies; Dorothy Long made the introductions; Joyce and Constance Simpson led group singing. The Lonaconing club had charge of recreation and Midland Club, registration. Eighty members attended.

Vitamin Upkeep

That old rule, "a carrot a day," is no old wives' tale. Carrots are an excellent source of vitamin A. The National Research Council recommends that an adult should have 5,000 units of vitamin A daily to maintain good health. One serving of carrots will supply these necessary 5,000 units. Not only that — carrots are also one of the cheapest of vegetables.

Why is it important to eat such vitamin A rich foods as carrots?

Let's take the case of a young woman who was out driving her car one night and had an accident. The person in the other car was killed. She was tested and found to be a very skillful and careful driver; then she was examined for her ability to see in dim light. Here her vision was found to be definitely subnormal due to a vitamin A deficiency in her regular diet.

When all this came to light she told the doctor that driving at night was difficult. Also, that dim headlights dazzled her. Further probing revealed that a few years ago, fearing a gain in weight, she had cut out many vegetables and all dairy products from her diet.

She complained how dry her skin was and how it always itched. (When there is a deficiency in vitamin A the hair becomes dry and lacks sheen and lustre.) The doctor also inquired if her hair had ever been thicker. She told how it had been falling out in increasing amounts. Her nails peeled easily and were ridged.

Further tests showed that she was unable to see even a luminous watch dial in the dark. That reminded her to tell that when she would enter a darkened movie theatre, she had to be guided by her husband. Also, that the pictures seemed blurred for at least 10 minutes.

Her restricted diet had eliminated most of the natural sources of vitamin A. The final analysis showed that her case was one of severe vitamin A deficiency. Knowing this, it took the doctor only three weeks to cure her defective vision. Also, the diseased condition of her skin and hair all cleared up with carrots, milk and butter plus 30,000 units of vitamin A taken daily.

When we're born we have a low vitamin A reserve. That's why it is so important to supplement our diet with vitamin A from 1000 to 3000 units daily as soon as possible.

Since this is the season when fresh vegetables are always available, it's well to know a few shopping facts. Carrots should be bought only if the tops are unwilted and a good green color. If you buy the baby sized carrots they can be cooked whole and not scraped.

Carrots have a very low calorie content when cooked, so are highly recommended for reducers.

Many do not know that fresh carrot tops should not be discarded. If in good condition they are one the richest sources of vitamin B 2. They are also an excellent source of vitamin G, plus vitamin A and B, C and iron.

Neighbors Name Road At Outing

Grandview Place is the road that turns west from Bedford Road, opposite Mill Road, two miles south of Cumberland. The road was duly named on Thursday evening, when every family living on the road came or sent representatives to a community picnic at the home of Mrs. Betty Shipley.

So far as any of the group knew the road had no name, and each family had been requested to bring a suggestion. When a vote was taken of the names submitted, Grandview Place was chosen.

After the picnic meal the neighbors joined in group singing and then visited while the children played. The following persons and family heads were present or represented by members of the family:

Ernest Kellar, Russell Thompson, Earl Hedrick, Harry Dick, Cortes Zembower, Carl Twigg, James Kloran, Mrs. Gladys Mayo, Mrs. Virginia Lashley, Mrs. Betty Shipley.

Local Girls Compete In Timonium

Miss Elsie Stafford, Allegany County Farm Queen; Mrs. Roy Shryock, Sr., president of the Associated Women of the Allegany County Farm Bureau, and Mrs. J. B. Stafford, will be guests of the board of the State Fair at Timonium, for a banquet Monday evening. It is to be served in the Flamingo Room on the mezzanine of the grandstand at 6 p.m.

This year, judging of the state Farm Queen will be held at 8 Monday evening, and will be the main attraction of the evening.

The state fair is being held August 31-September 12. The state prize for the Queen will be four years at the University of Maryland, or $200 cash.

District 4-H champions who will compete in the state demonstration contests are Sally and Susan Miller, Midland, who are to do a team demonstration on freezing, Thursday, and Donna Simpson, Cresaptown, who will give her demonstration in the family life project area Friday. Other district 4-H champions selected at the contests here in Fort Hill High School, July 7 are Margaret Nicholson, Frederick county, in dairy foods; Mary Jane Warff, Carroll county, cherry pie; Rose Hahn, Carroll, general foods; Vicki Green, Carroll, poultry foods; Sandra Frey, Washington, home management; Alice Hahn, Carroll, clothing and Sally Jones, Frederick, clothing.

Allegany County Older Youth plan to enter a float in the fair parade.

Wotring Clan Will Reorganize Next Year

Plans to reorganize and elect officers next year were formulated at a reunion of the descendants of the late B. E. Wotring of Aurora, W.Va., which was held at the picnic grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Wotring, Christie Road. Resuming meetings after 15 years lapse, it was decided to meet at the Christie Road grounds again.

A covered dish dinner followed the meeting. Approximately 60 attended from Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland.

'Aged' Beer

In England recently eighteen bottles of beer escaped from their watery grave inside a ship that had been sunk on the East Kent coast over two centuries ago. The bottles—identified as being made about 250 years ago — were all in excellent condition because glass is not affected by the chemicals in sea water.

Fall Sweaters Sprout Collars

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW SWEATERS get their design interest right in the neck this fall.

Collars of all shapes and sizes add variety to the campus sweater scene, along with new yarn textures and treatments. A bulky rib-knit cardigan, for instance, may have a shawl collar of looped yarn, giving a furry look. Another may have a hood-collar of raccoon. A dress-up sweater in looped mohair may have a wide scoop neckline and a collar as big as a cape.

With the new variety in styles, college girls will want more sweaters than ever this year. They have found that a sweater wardrobe, with color-coordinated skirts, shorts and slacks, can take them through practically any occasion.

Dressy sweaters team with matching velvet or cashmere skirts for favorite date attire, and bulky sweaters go with tweed skirts to football games.

Official Sweater Week starts Sept. 21, but for most American college girls every week is sweater week.

DATE SWEATER — This looped mohair sweater, designed by Bonnie Cashin, is "spanking pink," with scoop-neck collar.

FOOTBALL SPECIAL — Tweedy wool-knit cardigan has shawl collar of looped yarn.

CAMPUS PET — New cropped cardigan in brushed wool has open neck, funnel collar.

Navy Mothers Convention Program Is Outlined

J. Glenn Beall, Lt. (j.g.) Naval Reserve, will be the principal speaker at the banquet concluding the convention of Maryland No. 5, Navy Mothers Club of America, to be held here September 18-19, at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The welcome is to be given by Mrs. Helene Bujac, banquet chairman, with Mrs. Dolores Sperling, Dundalk, state adjutant, making the response. Mrs. Blanche Lueck, convention chairman, will serve as toastmaster for the banquet at 6:30. The program also includes remarks by Mrs. Elsie Bozeman, Cleveland, Ohio, national commander; Mrs. Josephine Hubers, Glen Burnie, state commander; J. Paul Blundon, Keyser, a retired admiral; Lawrence Elliott, recruiting officer in Cumberland, and Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Concluding the banquet Mrs. Bozeman will conduct the installation of officers, assisted by Mrs. Hubers, as marshal; Mrs. Reba Buser, chaplain, and Mrs. Sperling, adjutant.

Entertainment will follow and includes numbers from the Dixon Dance Studio; vocal selections by Miss Earlene Hardman; accordion selections by William Boyer and a comic skit by Mr. and Mrs. John Dorn.

Registration will be held Friday and Saturday mornings, followed by business sessions with Mrs. Hubers presiding. Friday it will be at 11 and Saturday at 10, when state officers are to be elected.

Capt. Billy C. Menges of the local Naval Reserve station, will be the speaker at the "Commanders Luncheon" Friday at 12:30. Chief Charles F. Burns of the station, will offer the invocation. Both will be introduced by Mrs. Sally Engle, luncheon chairman. Another business session will follow.

Friday evening the memorial service will be conducted by Mrs. Lueck, with music by Mrs. Buser. Stanley Leasure is to be soloist and with Mrs. Bujac will sing a duet. Readings will be given by Mrs. Bertha Pitts, Mrs. Hubers and Mrs. Amelia Coward, Pasadenia, Md. Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, local commander, will offer prayer.

An entertainment program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Bartlett, following the service. It includes a barber shop quartet, drill, and skit by members of the local club and group singing. Mrs. Maude Sutherland is convention pianist.

Class Entertained

Mrs. Arthur Eshelman entertained the girls of her Sunday school class in the Bedford Road Baptist Church, at her home on Bedford Road, with a wiener roast and pajama party Wednesday evening.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Ledbetter, Norma Hedrick, Kay Norris, Joyce Kinser, Jackie Simpson, Constance Hedrick, Patricia Simpson, Toni Snow, Jeanne Keller. "Firebuilders" were Emory Crites, James Merton and James Clarke.

Newcomers To Meet Sept. 10

The Newcomers Club will resume business sessions September 10, after the summer recess. It will be held at the Girl Scout house at 8 p. m., with Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, as guest speaker. Her topic is "Interesting Facts of Cumberland."

A change has been made in the card groups. The canasta group is to meet the first and third Wednesdays of the month in the various homes, beginning September 2. The bridge group will meet the first and third Thursdays in the Woman's Civic Club house. A new group of 500 players will be formed if enough are interested. Those wishing to join are asked to call Mrs. Ray Dickerson.

The club also is preparing a new roster of members. Any having a change in address or phone number since April 1, 1959, is asked to call Mrs. Robert Kuenvig, corresponding secretary, PA 4-4983.

Over 70 reservations have been taken for the outing to mark the close of the summer season. It is being held in the form of a wiener roast tonight at Happy Hills Restaurant, Route 40, west of Frostburg, at 6:30. Swimming, music, games and a hay ride will follow the wiener roast.

4-H Trail Elects 2 Officers

Election of two officers and announcement of the next meeting featured the first annual county 4-H meeting, which was held in Constitution Park yesterday afternoon.

Eileen Morgan from the Frostburg club was elected vice president of the Girls Trail and Charlotte King, of the Cumberland club, secretary. Holdover officers are Patricia King, president and Marlene Clark, treasurer.

Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, family life specialist from the University of Maryland, will be the speaker at the next Trail meeting, which will be held September 19 at 10 a.m., in the extension office. She will discuss child care 4-H units.

A recreation and get-acquainted period was conducted by Miss Nancy Marsteller and Miss Brunhilde Seidel; followed by a talent show under the direction of Donna Simpson and the Flintstone-Polish Mountain Club. Rev. Archie Prevatte, pastor of First Baptist Church, and a former 4-H'er spoke on "4-H a Challenge for Youth." Ann Hardinger was master of ceremonies; Dorothy Long made the introductions; Joyce and Constance Simpson led group singing. The Lonaconing club had charge of recreation and Midland Club, registration. Eighty members attended.

Dr. Thomas F. Lewis will be guest speaker at the dinner, which will be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club, with Dr. Albert C. Cook as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Elizabeth Lovett, past president, will offer the invocation. Mrs. Catherine Murray, president, is to extend the welcome and the response will be made by Miss Sue Ann Sagal, class president. Miss Christine Williams, program chairman, is to introduce Dr. Cook, the members of the class of 1959 and Dr. Lewis.

Besides Miss Sagal other honor guests are Miss Matilda Marie O'Rourke, vice president; Miss Patricia Mary Clancy, secretary; Miss Joann Elizabeth Martin, treasurer; Miss Anna Josephine Wolford, historian; Miss Frances Ann Chirdon, Miss Frances Ann Crable, Miss Sharon LaVerne Day, Miss Barbara Ann Deetz, Miss Joan Louise Hare, Miss Marie Justine Komatz, Miss Mary Elizabeth Peck, Miss Joyce Ann McKenzie and Miss Norma Lee Whitfield.

Dancing will be from 9 until 1 with music by the Cavaliers.

Reservations are to be made by noon, September 2, with Mrs. Murray, PA 2-4154, or Mrs. Margaret Conlon, PA 2-4575. Miss Margaret Lee Lynch is social chairman and is being assisted by Miss Joann Neubiser and Mrs. Lovett.

Neighbors Name Road At Outing

Grandview Place is the road that turns west from Bedford Road, opposite Mill Road, two miles south of Cumberland. The road was duly named on Thursday evening, when every family living on the road came or sent representatives to a community picnic at the home of Mrs. Betty Shipley.

So far as any of the group knew the road had no name, and each family had been requested to bring a suggestion. When a vote was taken of the names submitted, Grandview Place was chosen.

After the picnic meal the neighbors joined in group singing and then visited while the children played. The following persons and family heads were present or represented by members of the family:

Ernest Kellar, Russell Thompson, Earl Hedrick, Harry Dick, Cortes Zembower, Carl Twigg, James Kloran, Mrs. Gladys Mayo, Mrs. Virginia Lashley, Mrs. Betty Shipley.

Local Girls Compete In Timonium

Miss Elsie Stafford, Allegany County Farm Queen; Mrs. Roy Shryock, Sr., president of the Associated Women of the Allegany County Farm Bureau, and Mrs. J. B. Stafford, will be guests of the board of the State Fair at Timonium, for a banquet Monday evening. It is to be served in the Flamingo Room on the mezzanine of the grandstand at 6 p.m.

This year, judging of the state Farm Queen will be held at 8 Monday evening, and will be the main attraction of the evening.

The state fair is being held August 31-September 12. The state prize for the Queen will be four years at the University of Maryland, or $200 cash.

District 4-H champions who will compete in the state demonstration contests are Sally and Susan Miller, Midland, who are to do a team demonstration on freezing, Thursday, and Donna Simpson, Cresaptown, who will give her demonstration in the family life project area Friday. Other district 4-H champions selected at the contests here in Fort Hill High School, July 7 are Margaret Nicholson, Frederick county, in dairy foods; Mary Jane Warff, Carroll county, cherry pie; Rose Hahn, Carroll, general foods; Vicki Green, Carroll, poultry foods; Sandra Frey, Washington, home management; Alice Hahn, Carroll, clothing and Sally Jones, Frederick, clothing.

Allegany County Older Youth plan to enter a float in the fair parade.

Wotring Clan Will Reorganize Next Year

Plans to reorganize and elect officers next year were formulated at a reunion of the descendants of the late B. E. Wotring of Aurora, W.Va., which was held at the picnic grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Wotring, Christie Road. Resuming meetings after 15 years lapse, it was decided to meet at the Christie Road grounds again.

A covered dish dinner followed the meeting. Approximately 60 attended from Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland.

'Aged' Beer

In England recently eighteen bottles of beer escaped from their watery grave inside a ship that had been sunk on the East Kent coast over two centuries ago. The bottles—identified as being made about 250 years ago — were all in excellent condition because glass is not affected by the chemicals in sea water.

Mineral County Students Will Enroll Tuesday

Classes Begin On September 2

KEYSER — School bells will soon be tolling for Mineral County students as they wend their way back to classrooms after three months of relaxation.

Students are scheduled to register Tuesday and classes will begin the following day. However teachers are due to report for a meeting Monday to make final arrangements for the opening of the fall term.

Officials at the county superintendent's office said enrollment is expected to be about the same in most schools of the county with the exception of Keyser High School, where a slight increase is anticipated.

Vacancies Exist

As plans for the resumption of classes continue, Superintendent S. T. McKee announces that four vacancies still exist in the county, including a first grade teacher at Piedmont Elementary; a librarian at Elk Garden High School, and industrial arts and music teachers at Ridgeley High School.

Several resignations, leaves of absence, and new placements have also been made. Mrs. Flora Amtower, of Keyser Elementary School, has resigned and moved to Parkersburg. Her position has been filled by Mrs. Harrett Sheetz, of Keyser, who has been on the faculty at the Piedmont Elementary School the past several years. No one has yet been named to fill that first grade vacancy.

Mrs. Jeanne Prewitt, of Westernport, who is a graduate of the University of Maine, has been named to succeed Miss Olive Smith, who resigned at Piedmont Elementary. Mrs. Prewitt's husband is employed by the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Comany.

Other Changes Listed

Other changes at Piedmont High School include Mrs. Peggy (Oates) Booth as a replacement for Mrs. Donald Mellor, who has been granted a leave of absence, and Jack Booth, replacing Mrs. Dolores Miers Wilson, who will teach at Glen Burnie (Md.) High School.

Two brothers from Romney have also been added to the Piedmont faculty. Robert Sirk will teach math, replacing Mrs. Margaret Payne, and William Sirk will replace Jasper Morris as instructor in physical science and mathematics. Both Mrs. Payne and Morris have been granted leaves of absence to further their studies through National Science Foundation Fellowships, the third to be awarded Piedmont teachers in the past two years. She will study at Ohio State University and Morris will study at the University of North Carolina.

Change At Ridgeley

Mrs. Romaine Mawhinney Shepp has been granted a leave of absence, and her position on the faculty of Ridgeley Elementary School has been filled by Mrs. Shirley Vinci, of McMullen Highway. A graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, Mrs. Vinci has taught two years in McCoole.

Miss Mardelle Morris, of Elk Garden, has been named to replace Mrs. Patricia Bowers as a teacher at Fountain Elementary School. Miss Morris has studied at Potomac State, Shepherd College, and Southeastern.

Mrs. Elinor (Kiser) Heath, formerly of Keyser, has been appointed as mathematics instructor at Fort Ashby High, replacing Col. Gordon L. Beach, who resigned last term. A graduate of Potomac State College and WVU, she has taught at Petersburg, Glen Burnie and Flintstone.

Also named to the Fort Ashby High School faculty is Lane Oakman, who will teach social studies. He is a graduate of Shepherd College and was transferred from Wiley Ford Elementary School.

Mrs. Delaine Lipscomb Blankenship, formerly of Keyser, has been named home economics instructor at Elk Garden High School. A graduate of Potomac State and Shepherd College, she has had previous teaching experience at Wiley Ford, Capon Bridge and more recently in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Officials at St. Frances Parochial School announced that students there will not register until Tuesday, September 8. Classes will be held for half-day sessions during the first week.

Lonaconing Sets Civil Service Exam

LONACONING—The Civil Service Board of Lonaconing will conduct examinations Friday, September 4, beginning at 8 p. m., at Town Hall for the position of extra policeman in the Police Department.

Deadline for filing applications to take this examination will be Tuesday. Calvin James, town clerk, will be in his office that day to handle applications for extra police work.

Plans were announced at the Mayor and Council meeting to have the examinations.

Water Shortage Is Not Serious In Keyser Area

KEYSER—Officials of the Keyser Water Department have assured local residents there is no immediate cause for alarm regarding the water situation due to lack of rain.

While area streams are comparatively low and the city reservoir has dropped considerably within the past several months, there have been no restrictions made on the use of water, according to Howard F. Bill, superintendent of the filtration plant.

When queried about the situation, Bill explained that while the water supply is not what it should be, the city is not quite as bad off as it was three or four weeks ago. Recent showers, including heavy ones in the New Creek Valley, have caused a slight rise in streams and there is no danger at this time of having to restrict water.

However, Bill urged that residents use good judgment in the amount of water used daily and stressed that they do not use unnecessarily. If and when the matter become critical, residents will be notified.

Garrett County Homemakers To Hold Elections

OAKLAND — Garrett County Homemakers clubs will elect officers for 1960 and feature the use of simple sewing machine attachments during meetings next month.

Attachments will be demonstrated to each club by the county home demonstration agent. Care and operation of sewing machines will also be given.

The Mountain View Homemakers Club will hold a picnic Sunday at noon in Ashby's Grove. Meetings scheduled are:

Tuesday, Casselman Valley Homemakers, at the home of Mrs. Neil Yommer at 8 p. m.; Wednesday, Grantsville Club at the residence of Mrs. John Folk at 1:30 p. m., and the Altamont Club at Wood's cabin at 7:30 p. m.

Next Thursday, New Germany Club at the home of Mrs. Elmer Dick at 1:30 p. m., and the Swallow Falls club at the home of Mrs. Charels Warnick at 7:30 p. m.

Firemen, Band Sponsor Annual Crab Feast

FROSTBURG — Thomas Sluss, chairman of the annual crab feast sponsored by the Frostburg Fire Department and the Arion Band, announced that all is in readiness for the occasion Sunday from 1 until 5 p. m. in Junior Order Park.

Sluss said 12,000 crabs have been ordered, 3,000 more than last year. He also pointed out that those who prefer home consumption may pick up their orders at the fire station.

Donald Griffith, chief of police, stated that parking will take place in the western section of the park with the entrance being at the intersection of Park Lane, Water and Linden streets. The exit will be onto Broadway.

Griffith asked patrons from out-of-town to turn south on Water Street at the post office. This will lead them directly to the parking area and save confusion as several thousand visit the crab feast during the afternoon, creating a traffic situation.

Coal Mine Fire Is Extinguished

FROSTBURG — The mine fire project located on the old Koontz property two miles west of Klondyke has been completed with the fire being extinguished according to Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The site has been leveled off and seven tons of lime used to fertilize the area. Six hundred pounds of grass seed will be planted on the site in the near future.

The project which began in December of 1958 was completed in July 1959 with a total cost of $47,984.02.

Schedule Revival At Knobley Church

Midlothian Gets More Street Lights

FROSTBURG—Seventeen street lights of the new automatic, photo-electric cell system type have been installed in Midlothian, according to Roy Pepper, president of the Midlothian Street Light Association.

The town, which has 80 families, raised the $384 needed to install the lights. Christmas Eve the first 10 lights were turned on. Since then, seven more have been added to the community. Each family makes a yearly contribution in order to defray expenses.

Other officers of the association are Harvey Skidmore, vice president; Kenneth Ritchie, secretary and Matthew Willetts, treasurer.

Traffic Survey Is Under Way At Frostburg

FROSTBURG—Police Commissioner William Goebel has stated that a survey is now underway of traffic on Route 40 as it passes through Frostburg.

Goebel recently asked the State Roads Commission to install a traffic light at Sleeman and East Main Streets, and was told that a survey would be made by state safety experts to determine the need of the light. He also requested that while the survey was being made at Sleeman Street that traffic be checked in the business area.

According to Goebel, a new traffic control box is being installed at the corner of Main and Water Streets in which the manual controls for the light at the intersection will be located. Police officers will be able to observe traffic from the box and operate the light so as to keep east-west traffic moving during peak periods.

The box will not be placed in operation until results of the traffic survey are received from the state.

Edna Fuel Co. Mine Inspected

MORGANTOWN — Ventilation betterments, including improvement of the air quality in the face areas at the five-man 16-ton-a-day Number 2 mine near Lonaconing, Md., were urged today in a federal coal-mine inspection report released by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The report on the Edna Fuel Company operation lists 13 violations of the Federal Mine Safety Code.

Harry Jones, a federal inspector who checked the operation recently, also urged an alternate escapeway from the working section to the surface and suitable preshift, onshift and weekly examinations for explosive gas and other hazards.

Jones likewise proposed adequate fire-fighting facilities and the use of goggles or shields by employees exposed to eye hazards.

Road To Romney To Be Improved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Road Commission will open bids Sept. 15 on projects involving 11.2 miles of highway improvement and construction of one bridge. The work is expected to cost between one and two million dollars.

The projects include:

Berkeley County — Hedgesville overpass No. 2162 on W. Va. 9, three continuous concrete deck girder spans on concrete substructure; all to be let in one contract.

Mineral — Asphaltic concrete base, patching and leveling on 6.2 miles of W. Va. 28 between Romney and Cumberland, Md.

Pendleton Co. Couple Hurt

KEYSER—A Pendleton County couple were admitted Tuesday to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with injuries sustained when their automobile crashed head-on into the path of a loaded cement truck on a Keyser street.

Reported in "fair" condition are Isaac David Nesselrodt, 63, of Franklin, and his wife, Lena Nesslerodt, each of whom suffered bruises, lacerations and contusions. X-rays have been taken, attaches said.

Keyser police said Nesselrodt was driving south on Water Street and pulled onto U.S. Route 220 into the path of a loaded cement truck driven by P. B. Davis, 48, of the Green Mountain Road. Both vehicles were damaged extensively, with Nesselrodt being charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Hats of the early Middle Ages were comparatively simple caps or hoods, but in the 14th and 15th centuries, extravagant and eccentric shapes and proportions were developed.

Lonaconing Sets Civil Service Exam

LONACONING—The Civil Service Board of Lonaconing will conduct examinations Friday, September 4, beginning at 8 p. m., at Town Hall for the position of extra policeman in the Police Department.

Deadline for filing applications to take this examination will be Tuesday. Calvin James, town clerk, will be in his office that day to handle applications for extra police work.

Plans were announced at the Mayor and Council meeting to have the examinations.

Water Shortage Is Not Serious In Keyser Area

KEYSER—Officials of the Keyser Water Department have assured local residents there is no immediate cause for alarm regarding the water situation due to lack of rain.

While area streams are comparatively low and the city reservoir has dropped considerably within the past several months, there have been no restrictions made on the use of water, according to Howard F. Bill, superintendent of the filtration plant.

When queried about the situation, Bill explained that while the water supply is not what it should be, the city is not quite as bad off as it was three or four weeks ago. Recent showers, including heavy ones in the New Creek Valley, have caused a slight rise in streams and there is no danger at this time of having to restrict water.

However, Bill urged that residents use good judgment in the amount of water used daily and stressed that they do not use unnecessarily. If and when the matter become critical, residents will be notified.

Garrett County Homemakers To Hold Elections

OAKLAND — Garrett County Homemakers clubs will elect officers for 1960 and feature the use of simple sewing machine attachments during meetings next month.

Attachments will be demonstrated to each club by the county home demonstration agent. Care and operation of sewing machines will also be given.

The Mountain View Homemakers Club will hold a picnic Sunday at noon in Ashby's Grove. Meetings scheduled are:

Tuesday, Casselman Valley Homemakers, at the home of Mrs. Neil Yommer at 8 p. m.; Wednesday, Grantsville Club at the residence of Mrs. John Folk at 1:30 p. m., and the Altamont Club at Wood's cabin at 7:30 p. m.

Next Thursday, New Germany Club at the home of Mrs. Elmer Dick at 1:30 p. m., and the Swallow Falls club at the home of Mrs. Charels Warnick at 7:30 p. m.

Firemen, Band Sponsor Annual Crab Feast

FROSTBURG — Thomas Sluss, chairman of the annual crab feast sponsored by the Frostburg Fire Department and the Arion Band, announced that all is in readiness for the occasion Sunday from 1 until 5 p. m. in Junior Order Park.

Sluss said 12,000 crabs have been ordered, 3,000 more than last year. He also pointed out that those who prefer home consumption may pick up their orders at the fire station.

Donald Griffith, chief of police, stated that parking will take place in the western section of the park with the entrance being at the intersection of Park Lane, Water and Linden streets. The exit will be onto Broadway.

Griffith asked patrons from out-of-town to turn south on Water Street at the post office. This will lead them directly to the parking area and save confusion as several thousand visit the crab feast during the afternoon, creating a traffic situation.

Coal Mine Fire Is Extinguished

FROSTBURG — The mine fire project located on the old Koontz property two miles west of Klondyke has been completed with the fire being extinguished according to Frank T. Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The site has been leveled off and seven tons of lime used to fertilize the area. Six hundred pounds of grass seed will be planted on the site in the near future.

The project which began in December of 1958 was completed in July 1959 with a total cost of $47,984.02.

Town May Lose Street Lighting

MOSCOW — Moscow is in danger of losing their White Way street lighting. Lack of interest is shown in the obligations to be met by the Moscow Street Lighting Fund group.

The Street Lighting Fund has payments due early in September. The five-year contract runs out this year and more interest must be indicated by all citizens to maintain the new lights, spokesmen said.

Midlothian Gets More Street Lights

FROSTBURG—Seventeen street lights of the new automatic, photo-electric cell system type have been installed in Midlothian, according to Roy Pepper, president of the Midlothian Street Light Association.

The town, which has 80 families, raised the $384 needed to install the lights. Christmas Eve the first 10 lights were turned on. Since then, seven more have been added to the community. Each family makes a yearly contribution in order to defray expenses.

Other officers of the association are Harvey Skidmore, vice president; Kenneth Ritchie, secretary and Matthew Willetts, treasurer.

Traffic Survey Is Under Way At Frostburg

FROSTBURG—Police Commissioner William Goebel has stated that a survey is now underway of traffic on Route 40 as it passes through Frostburg.

Goebel recently asked the State Roads Commission to install a traffic light at Sleeman and East Main Streets, and was told that a survey would be made by state safety experts to determine the need of the light. He also requested that while the survey was being made at Sleeman Street that traffic be checked in the business area.

According to Goebel, a new traffic control box is being installed at the corner of Main and Water Streets in which the manual controls for the light at the intersection will be located. Police officers will be able to observe traffic from the box and operate the light so as to keep east-west traffic moving during peak periods.

The box will not be placed in operation until results of the traffic survey are received from the state.

Edna Fuel Co. Mine Inspected

MORGANTOWN — Ventilation betterments, including improvement of the air quality in the face areas at the five-man 16-ton-a-day Number 2 mine near Lonaconing, Md., were urged today in a federal coal-mine inspection report released by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The report on the Edna Fuel Company operation lists 13 violations of the Federal Mine Safety Code.

Harry Jones, a federal inspector who checked the operation recently, also urged an alternate escapeway from the working section to the surface and suitable preshift, onshift and weekly examinations for explosive gas and other hazards.

Jones likewise proposed adequate fire-fighting facilities and the use of goggles or shields by employees exposed to eye hazards.

Road To Romney To Be Improved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Road Commission will open bids Sept. 15 on projects involving 11.2 miles of highway improvement and construction of one bridge. The work is expected to cost between one and two million dollars.

The projects include:

Berkeley County — Hedgesville overpass No. 2162 on W. Va. 9, three continuous concrete deck girder spans on concrete substructure; all to be let in one contract.

Mineral — Asphaltic concrete base, patching and leveling on 6.2 miles of W. Va. 28 between Romney and Cumberland, Md.

Pendleton Co. Couple Hurt

KEYSER—A Pendleton County couple were admitted Tuesday to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with injuries sustained when their automobile crashed headon into the path of a loaded cement truck on a Keyser street.

Reported in "fair" condition are Isaac David Nesselrodt, 63, of Franklin, and his wife, Lena Nesslerodt, each of whom suffered bruises, lacerations and contusions. X-rays have been taken, attaches said.

Keyser police said Nesselrodt was driving south on Water Street and pulled onto U.S. Route 220 into the path of a loaded cement truck driven by P. B. Davis, 48, of the Green Mountain Road. Both vehicles were damaged extensively, with Nesselrodt being charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Hats of the early Middle Ages were comparatively simple caps or hoods, but in the 14th and 15th centuries, extravagant and eccentric shapes and proportions were developed.

When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds.

First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers.

Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds.

First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers.

Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year.

But there are weeds more serious than dandelions—weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others.

I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Four Persons Are Injured In Auto Accidents

Four persons, including two local sisters, were injured yesterday morning in similar automobile acidents near Cumberland.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital were Miss Mary Louise Glick and Mrs. Kathleen (Glick) Murray, both of 527 Fayette Street. Both women sustained multiple lacerations and were admitted to the hospital for observation and X-rays.

Taken to Memorial Hospital but not admitted were Mrs. William Allen and her 11-year-old daughter, Janet, who live on the Brice Hollaw Road near Spring Gap.

Both accidents involved collisions with trucks. Miss Glick and Mrs. Murray were brought to Sacred Heart Hospital about 11:15 a. m., shortly after the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck on U. S. Route 40 on Green Ridge mountain.

The sisters were traveling toward Washington, D. C., when approximately halfway down the east slope of the mountain the brakes on their car failed. The runaway vehicle smashed into the rear of the truck which was also traveling east on the highway.

They were brought to the local hospital by the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company ambulance. A hospital spokesman termed their conditions as "fair."

The car of Mrs. Allen and her daughter colided head-on with a panel truck apparently about the same time as the Route 40 mishap.

Mrs. Allen was operating her car toward Spring Gap on the Oldtown Road and reportedly attempted to turn in to the Bryce Hollow Road, which intersects Route 51 just below Spring Gap.

Their car was demolished, according to reports, and considerable damage was done to the panel truck.

Mother and daughter were taken to Memorial Hospital but did not require hosiptalization.

Trooper J. M. McFarland, of the Maryland State Police, is investigating both accidents.

County Ruled Out In Water Rate Increase

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday ruled the county commissioners have no legal authority in regard to the City of Cumberland raising water rates consumers outside the city limits.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the board, had inquired at Tuesday's meeting on the legal phases of the county board entering the case and requesting a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

The city has ordered a water rate increase for outlying areas which amounts to about a 48 per cent hike.

Two letters of protest over the water rate increase were received yesterday by the county board. One was signed by Francis A. Warnick, president of the Bedford Road Optimist Club, who said he was writing on behalf of residents on Bedford Road and Baltimore Pike who are opposed to the increase.

Clyde Ballou, of District 4, in the Evitts Creek section, also wrote opposing the increase.

The city in announcing the rate increase said that old lines have to be replaced and new lines laid. A large outlay of money has been made in improving the filtration plant and providing for more capacity at the city's water plant at Lake Gordon, the city noted.

CAB Probes Plane Crash

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Civil Aeronautics Board investigator Fred Powell said Friday no immediate announcement will be made concerning the cause of a Capital Airlines DC3 accident here Wednesday.

The plane went off a Kanawha Airport runway while landing but the 15 passengers and three crew members were not injured.

George Jackson, Capital's area representative, said the plane was damaged more extensively than was first believed.

Jackson also disclosed Capital has applied for discontinuance of so-called local service. He said the airline has been selling its DC3's, which are used mostly for local service at small airports like Wheeling, Clarksburg and Morgantown.

Celanese Corporation Declares Dividend

The directors of Celanese Corporation of America yesterday declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable September 25 to shareholders of record September 8.

The board also voted regular quarterly dividends of $1.12½ per share of the preferred stock, series A, and $1.75 per share on the seven per cent second preferred stock. Both preferred stock dividends are payable October 1 to shareholders of record September 8.

Two Damage Suits Filed As Result Of Accidents

Two damage suits were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday as the result of separate highway crashes.

John Ruffo, 14 Locust Street, Frostburg, docketed suit against Carl Lowe, 19 Washington Street, for damages of $10,000 for injuries suffered April 26 about 11 a. m. at Main Street and Grant Street in Frostburg.

The declaration, filed by Milton Gerson, attorney for Ruffo, states that the plaintiff was driving northward on Grant Street and when he reached the Main Street intersection the traffic light was green.

It is claimed that Lowe went through the red light on Main Street and struck Ruffo's car. He claims he was injured about the body and was off work for three months and is still unable to properly take care of his job as a truck driver.

The second damage suit, in which $20,000 is asked, was filed by David E. Edwards, 110 Bedford Street, against Robert Nelson Campbell, Route 16, East Grafton Road, Fairmont.

The declaration was docketed by Fred Anderson, attorney for Edwards. It states that on October 17, 1958 Edwards was driving on U. S. Route 40, seven miles east of Flintstone, and that Campbell was operating his car over the center line and in a negligent manner.

A headon crash occurred and Edwards said he was injured about the head, body and limbs. He also said he required medical and hospital care.

Three Hurt In Crash At Romney

Three persons were injured, one seriously, in a two-vehcile collision which reportedly knocked a pickup truck 15 feet into the air Thursday near Romney.

Admitted to Hampshire County Hospital in Romney was Howard G. Barr, 45, of Rig, W. Va., who was operating the small pickup truck. He sustained a severe thigh injury and was reported in "fair" condition yesterday.

Trooper W. A. Steffick, of the West Virginia State Police at Romney, said the collision occurred on U. S. Route 50, about five miles east of Romney.

Trooper Steffick said the accident happened when Paul R. Bender, 27, Elkins, who was operating an automobile eastbound, was attempting to pass another car.

While attempting to pass, the Bender car met a tractor-trailer traveling westbound. Police said Bender avoided striking the tractor-trailer, but rammed into the small pickup which was following the rig.

Police said the impact of the collision knocked the picup 15 feet into the air and onto a cliff. The pickup then dropped off the cliff and rammed into a ditch.

Bender sustained injuries to his right and left elbow and a laceration of his chin, while Ruth A. Eliza, 20, also of Elkins, suffered elbow and back injuries. Both were treated at the Romney hospital and released.

Police estimated $2,000 property damage on the vehicles.

Vat Of Acid Blamed For Fire

LOGAN, W. Va. (UPI)— A vat of acid used to clean radiators apparently became overheated Friday, caught fire and badly damaged the Dal-More Bowling Alley near here. The loss was estimated at some $60,000.

The acid was in a small shed adjoining the bowling alley. Also destroyed was a nearly wooden structure housing a number of radiators owned by Baldwin Supply Co.

Firemen brought the blaze under control about three hours after it started. The owners said they hoped to be able to reopen the alleys in three months.

In Germany during the 19th century, princes of the blood had another boy reared with them who received the spankings that were due to the prince.

Man Ordered Held For Grand Jury

Ray Jerry Daniels, 23, Florida, was ordered committed to the Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of a $1,500 bond.

Daniels, who was arrested Wednesday by City Police, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court on a charge of breaking and entering.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, who presided, ordered the young man committed to jail in default of $1,500 bond, pending action of the October grand jury.

Daniels was charged by the State's Attorney's office with breaking and entering the Blubaugh Service Station in Flintstone Tuesday night and taking items valued at $138.40.

The warrant issued against the man said he stole three billfolds, 34 packs of cigarets, a wrist watch, a 12 gauge shotgun, a .22 calibre rifle and seven boxes of ammunition.

The items were recovered by City Police following Daniels' arrest on Waverly Terrace. Police said he was operating a station wagon which had been stolen in Baltimore at the time of the arrest.

Another warrant was issued for a second man who was with Daniels during the breaking and entering at Flintstone.

Kingwood Boy Nabbed In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bad transmission apparently wasn't the only thing wrong with an automobile deal here.

Police Friday nabbed Billy Reece Barker, 18, of Kingwood, W. Va., for investigation of passing bad checks.

The dealer made a long-distance call to a telephone number Barker gave him, supposedly that of a bank. The man on the other end of the line said he was the bank president and that the check was okay, police said. Barker drove off in the Ford, leaving the other car to be picked up later.

Then the suspicious dealer called the bank again, but this time apparently told the operator to get the bank's number. He spoke to someone else who said the check was not good.

Friday morning Barker returned to the lot complaining that the Ford's transmission wasn't good. Police moved in and said the check wasn't either.

Detective Sgt. George Baker said the suspect is wanted in Preston County, W. Va., and Oakland, Md.

Moundsville Seeks Boost

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An application by the city of Moundsville for approval of a $42,000 annual water rate increase was submitted Friday for Public Service Commission decision following a hearing.

Attorney Stephen D. Narick, representing the city, testified that Moundsville needed the boost to meet higher operating cost and so it can drill additional wells.

The city serves some 4,050 water customers. There were no protestants at the hearing.

Narick also said if the increase was granted, the city water board would receive an additional $53,000 annually in five years would have money necessary to complete proposed improvements.

Nine Get Divorces In Circuit Court

Nine divorces, two of which were partial decrees, have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Alvin Glen Murphy was granted a divorce from Woneda Carol Murphy. Richard Allen Morgan obtained a divorce from Barbara Ann Morgan and she was given custody of their minor child. Dolores A. Scharf obtained a divorce from Eugene W. Scharf and custody of their minor child.

Cleda L. Shaffer was granted a divorce from George A. Shaffer and custody of their two minor children. Betty Jane Newell was awarded a divorce from Jesse Junior Newell. Barbara Ann Trexler obtained a divorce from Richard L. Trexler and custody of their two minor children. Edith Weight was granted a divorce from James K. Weight.

Hazel V. Skelley obtained a partial divorce from Philip D. Skelley and custody of their four infant children. Roena Elizabeth Mallery was granted a partial divorce from Lawrence Winship Mallery Jr., and custody of their infant son.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

Quality Pays Off

George Schaefer, whose name is the harbinger of quality on television, is branching out in all directions this year. Besides Hallmark productions, which he invariably directs, he'll be doing some theater and possibly movies, which he has never done before.

Hallmark will do six shows, all of them, Mr. Schaefer thinks, exciting: "We're doing 'Winterset,' that modern poetic tragedy. It's a distinctive story, a very exciting story, and a little different from most things seen on television." It certainly is. I well remember "Winterset" with Burgess Meredith in it as one of the first plays I ever saw on Broadway. It should be a great dramatic thrill on television.

"Jimmy Costigan is adapting 'A Doll's House'," he went on. "Julie Harris will play Nora. If you do Ibsen in the stock Archer translation, it is fairly dry but Costigan will give it blood and fire. Basically there are many things Ibsen wrote in this play—many small domestic observations which have great meaning for us today. We'll be doing that one in November." That, too, should be an experience. The last time Julie Harris and James Costigan got together was for "Little Moon of Alban," the first and only original Hallmark ever did.

On that score Schaefer says: "Blazing new trails is difficult. We had great success with 'Little Moon of Alban' and Hallmark got more publicity and prestige than on any other show we did. We've been looking for new material—but where do you begin? There isn't any market for it. We try agents but most agents don't handle TV originals."

I asked where "Little Moon" had come from originally and he said: "Julie always wanted to play a nun—so Jimmy Costigan wrote it for her."

Speaking of nuns, who are big box office at the moment, Hallmark will repeat one of the most touching and brilliantly produced of their former shows for Easter. "We're repeating 'Cradle Song' with Siobhan McKenna, Helen Hayes, and Judith Anderson. We'll tape it in September. We had a great success with our repeat of 'Green Pastures' and we feel that 'Cradle Song' ought to get a much larger audience the second time than the first. It's a perfect story for that time. I found 'The Nun's Story' a very good picture but not warm enough. I think 'Cradle Song' is more moving."

Hallmark is generally wedded to Shakespeare but this year Schaefer will do only one Shakespeare, a very unusual one. "We've already taped 'The Temptest' and the production was a wild and stunning one. It's the most exciting Shakespeare I've ever done and it's on color tape. The stars are Maurice Evans, Lee Remick, Richard Burton, Roddy McDowell, and Tom Poston. For two hundred years, people have said that 'The Tempest' was unsuitable for production. They're wrong. Certainly, if any school children think Shakespeare is stuffy and stilted, 'The Tempest' will prove that it's wonderful."

Hallmark's other two shows will be a Christmas show which will be a mixture of different elements, a sort of Christmas card to the American people, and, in the spring, if they can find one and if everything works out, another original. So there is the Hallmark season—a little Shakespeare, a little Ibsen, an original, a potpourri, a repeat of a goon one, and a little Maxwell Anderson—all different, all high quality, all exciting. Yet, no sponsor has made TV pay off better than Hallmark—always with quality. There's a lesson for Madison Avenue, if it would only pay attention.

That word special is taking an awful kicking around this year and some of the specials are not going to be very special. I asked Mr. Schaefer about this and he said: "The ones who use the variety format will be the ones who are in the most trouble. All the shows which are titled 'An Evening With . . .' Already there is great competition to get personalities who sparkle. Especially since many of the sparklers—like Dinah Shore and Perry Como—already have shows."

Schaefer, though he has used tape, is still a great proponent of live television. "Maybe because it's most exciting. With tape you lose that extra hysteria when the actors know they're naked before America."

W.Va. Police Recover Truck

The West Virginia State Police at Romney have recovered a truck stolen in Washington this past Wednesday.

Trooper W. A. Steffick located the vehicle parked near Capon Bridge. A high-powered rifle was found in the truck.

Police said the truck was stolen by Jesse Reed, 30, who is stationed at the Andrews Air Force Base. He is a veteran of 13 years service and is being held by military authorities.

County, City To Meet On Health Issue

A motion by Commissioner William A. Wilson was passed at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a meeting with the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to discuss the dispute over rental of quarters of the Health Departments and any other matters which might be brought up.

There have been several statements issued by both sides pro and con concerning the matter and Commissioner Wilson said he felt it was time the matter was calmly discussed at a meeting and ironed out.

The meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Court House in the commissioners' meeting room.

3,255 Children Registered At City Playlots

The city's 14 playgrounds had a total registration of 3,255 and a summer attendance of 54,366, the Recreation Department said yesterday in a report on the nine-week program.

Registration was down from the 3,623 figure of last year but the department pointed out it operated one less playground this year because Lamont Street playground fell victim to South End construction work.

Those registered ranged in age from 6 to 18 years. Adult attendance at the playgrounds was 3,846 and special events offered an attendance of 16,392.

Intra-city events held during the season and attendance are as follows: Talent Show, 1,500; Pet Show, 500; picnic, 700; bicycle rodeo, 300; fishing rodeo, 700; rock'n roll contest, 500; and the art and craft exhibit, 300. The department also had an exhibit at the Cumberland Fair which attracted widespread interest but no spectator estimate was possible, the department said.

Field events offered by the playgrounds during the season included box hockey, checkers, picnics, dancing, sand modeling, splash parties, stories, handicrafts, hiking, peep show, three-man basketball, shuffleboard, pogo stick contest, horseshoes, not league, stilt contest, volleyball, marbles, movies, hula hoop contests and basketball foul-shooting.

Special events included costume show, pocketbook show, hat show, stuffed animals show, earring show, on-wheels show, doll show, talent show, pet show, button show, what-not show, hobby show, variety show, model, rock and shoe shows.

Clubs sponsored on the playgrounds included newspaper, teenage, preteen, twirling, sewing and pets.

Table games include kalah, checkers, chinese checkers and jacks.

In addition, special activity was offered and instruction given in swimming and tennis.

The program had a director for each playground, one playground supervisor and one handicrafts specialist. They operated on a 30-hour week.

The playgrounds, with registration listed first and attendance second, are as follows:

Centre Street, Margaret Buzzard, director, 402 and 6,205; Columbia Street, Shirley Poland, director, 190 and 4,745; East Side, Maxine Zehrbach, director, 426 and 5,549; Gephart, Judy Snyder director, 227 and 4,907.

Johnson Heights, Jane Burgess, director, 205 and 2,305; Mount Royal, Mildred White, director, 344 and 4,874; Mapleside, Dolores Rowley, director, 217 and 3,477; North End, Michael Wilson, director, 225 and 4,237; Penn Avenue, John Turley, director, 228 and 3,433.

Pine Avenue, Elizabeth Lee, director, 155 and 3,057; Post, Charles Smith, director, 338 and 3,298; Ridgedale, Marianne Hoelzer, director, 95 and 2,325; Virginia Avenue, Vera Twigg, director, 104 and 3,925; West Side, John Mills, director, 99 and 2,029.

Turnover Of Teachers Similar To Last Year

The turnover in Allegany County teachers this year runs approximately the same as last summer, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Webster said yesterday that a total of 48 assignments in new positions were made during the summer months, compared to the 42 or 43 made last year.

A number of additional teachers have been assigned in Allegany County this year due to the increase in enrollment.

However, the school superintendent points out that most of the new assignments are transfers from one school to another.

These transfers become necessary when for example a teacher resigns one school, and a nearby school has a decrease in enrollment. Then the change is made.

During the year, a total of 11 teachers retired, four who had been teaching in Cumberland and seven in the county.

Four other teachers were granted leave of absence, one to further his education and three for maternity.

A total of 14 teachers are leaving the county, but have indicated they will teach this year in Maryland.

Of this total, four have accepted positions in Baltimore County, four in Montgomery; one in Frederick County, one in Washington County, one in Prince Georges County, one in a private school in Baltimore and one at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Fourteen others who are leaving the county stated they were resigning because they were moving out of the state, business purposes, going into industrial work, getting married or because they decided not to continue full-time teaching.

B&O Recalls 45 Carmen At Keyser

The B&O Railroad has ordered the recall of 45 car repair workers for the Keyser shops effective Monday.

Many workers in the car shops at Keyser have been furloughed for several months as the result of the coal miners vacation period and the subsequent steel strike.

Four Persons Are Injured In Auto Accidents

Four persons, including two local sisters, were injured yesterday morning in similar automobile acidents near Cumberland.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital were Miss Mary Louise Glick and Mrs. Kathleen (Glick) Murray, both of 527 Fayette Street. Both women sustained multiple lacerations and were admitted to the hospital for observation and X-rays.

Taken to Memorial Hospital but not admitted were Mrs. William Allen and her 11-year-old daughter, Janet, who live on the Brice Hollaw Road near Spring Gap.

Both accidents involved collisions with trucks. Miss Glick and Mrs. Murray were brought to Sacred Heart Hospital about 11:15 a. m., shortly after the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck on U. S. Route 40 on Green Ridge mountain.

The sisters were traveling toward Washington, D. C., when approximately halfway down the east slope of the mountain the brakes on their car failed. The runaway vehicle smashed into the rear of the truck which was also traveling east on the highway.

They were brought to the local hospital by the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company ambulance. A hospital spokesman termed their conditions as "fair."

The car of Mrs. Allen and her daughter colided head-on with a panel truck apparently about the same time as the Route 40 mishap.

Mrs. Allen was operating her car toward Spring Gap on the Oldtown Road and reportedly attempted to turn in to the Bryce Hollow Road, which intersects Route 51 just below Spring Gap.

Their car was demolished, according to reports, and considerable damage was done to the panel truck.

Mother and daughter were taken to Memorial Hospital but did not require hosiptalization.

Trooper J. M. McFarland, of the Maryland State Police, is investigating both accidents.

County Ruled Out In Water Rate Increase

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday ruled the county commissioners have no legal authority in regard to the City of Cumberland raising water rates consumers outside the city limits.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the board, had inquired at Tuesday's meeting on the legal phases of the county board entering the case and requesting a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

The city has ordered a water rate increase for outlying areas which amounts to about a 48 per cent hike.

Two letters of protest over the water rate increase were received yesterday by the county board. One was signed by Francis A. Warnick, president of the Bedford Road Optimist Club, who said he was writing on behalf of residents on Bedford Road and Baltimore Pike who are opposed to the increase.

Clyde Ballou, of District 4, in the Evitts Creek section, also wrote opposing the increase.

The city in announcing the rate increase said that old lines have to be replaced and new lines laid. A large outlay of money has been made in improving the filtration plant and providing for more capacity at the city's water plant at Lake Gordon, the city noted.

CAB Probes Plane Crash

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Civil Aeronautics Board investigator Fred Powell said Friday no immediate announcement will be made concerning the cause of a Capital Airlines DC3 accident here Wednesday.

The plane went off a Kanawha Airport runway while landing but the 15 passengers and three crew members were not injured.

George Jackson, Capital's area representative, said the plane was damaged more extensively than was first believed.

Jackson also disclosed Capital has applied for discontinuance of so-called local service. He said the airline has been selling its DC3's, which are used mostly for local service at small airports like Wheeling, Clarksburg and Morgantown.

Celanese Corporation Declares Dividend

The directors of Celanese Corporation of America yesterday declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable September 25 to shareholders of record September 8.

The board also voted regular quarterly dividends of $1.12½ per share of the preferred stock, series A, and $1.75 per share on the seven per cent second preferred stock. Both preferred stock dividends are payable October 1 to shareholders of record September 8.

Two Damage Suits Filed As Result Of Accidents

Two damage suits were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday as the result of separate highway crashes.

John Ruffo, 14 Locust Street, Frostburg, docketed suit against Carl Lowe, 19 Washington Street, for damages of $10,000 for injuries suffered April 26 about 11 a. m. at Main Street and Grant Street in Frostburg.

The declaration, filed by Milton Gerson, attorney for Ruffo, states that the plaintiff was driving northward on Grant Street and when he reached the Main Street intersection the traffic light was green.

It is claimed that Lowe went through the red light on Main Street and struck Ruffo's car. He claims he was injured about the body and was off work for three months and is still unable to properly take care of his job as a truck driver.

The second damage suit, in which $20,000 is asked, was filed by David E. Edwards, 110 Bedford Street, against Robert Nelson Campbell, Route 16, East Grafton Road, Fairmont.

The declaration was docketed by Fred Anderson, attorney for Edwards. It states that on October 17, 1958 Edwards was driving on U. S. Route 40, seven miles east of Flintstone, and that Campbell was operating his car over the center line and in a negligent manner.

A headon crash occurred and Edwards said he was injured about the head, body and limbs. He also said he required medical and hospital care.

Three Hurt In Crash At Romney

Three persons were injured, one seriously, in a two-vehcile collision which reportedly knocked a pickup truck 15 feet into the air Thursday near Romney.

Admitted to Hampshire County Hospital in Romney was Howard G. Barr, 45, of Rig, W. Va., who was operating the small pickup truck. He sustained a severe thigh injury and was reported in "fair" condition yesterday.

Trooper W. A. Steffick, of the West Virginia State Police at Romney, said the collision occurred on U. S. Route 50, about five miles east of Romney.

Trooper Steffick said the accident happened when Paul R. Bender, 27, Elkins, who was operating an automobile eastbound, was attempting to pass another car.

While attempting to pass, the Bender car met a tractor-trailer traveling westbound. Police said Bender avoided striking the tractor-trailer, but rammed into the small pickup which was following the rig.

Police said the impact of the collision knocked the picup 15 feet into the air and onto a cliff. The pickup then dropped off the cliff and rammed into a ditch.

Bender sustained injuries to his right and left elbow and a laceration of his chin, while Ruth A. Eliza, 20, also of Elkins, suffered elbow and back injuries. Both were treated at the Romney hospital and released.

Police estimated $2,000 property damage on the vehicles.

Ministerial Student Speaks Tomorrow At Cresaptown Church

David L. Stouffer, ministerial student at Bob Jones University, will speak at the 7:30 p. m. service tomorrow at Calvary Baptist Church in Cresaptown.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stouffer of Cresaptown. Teen-agers assisting in the service will be Dave Trumbull, song leader; Mildred Orndorff, soloist; Karen Durr, chaplain; Mary Susan Smith, accordionist; Dave Trumbull, Thomas Cecil and Taylor Shears, trio; Lois and Eunice Allem, a musical bell duet.

Two-minute messages will be given by Robert Jones, Lyle Trumbull, Eunice Allem, John Durr, Lois Allem and Faith Trumbull. Faith will also be at the organ and Susan Shoup at the piano.

Ushers will be James Skidmore, Ted Stouffer, John and David Shoup. In charge of the service will be Gary Durr, president, and J. C. Skidmore, advisor. Dr. Paul Drechsel will be in charge of the youth choir.

Vat Of Acid Blamed For Fire

LOGAN, W. Va. (UPI)—A vat of acid used to clean radiators apparently became overheated Friday, caught fire and badly damaged the Dal-More Bowling Alley near here. The loss was estimated at some $60,000.

The acid was in a small shed adjoining the bowling alley. Also destroyed was a nearly wooden structure housing a number of radiators owned by Baldwin Supply Co.

Firemen brought the blaze under control about three hours after it started. The owners said they hoped to be able to reopen the alleys in three months.

In Germany during the 19th century, princes of the blood had another boy reared with them who received the spankings that were due to the prince.

Man Ordered Held For Grand Jury

Ray Jerry Daniels, 23, Florida, was ordered committed to the Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of a $1,500 bond.

Daniels, who was arrested Wednesday by City Police, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court on a charge of breaking and entering.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, who presided, ordered the young man committed to jail in default of $1,500 bond, pending action of the October grand jury.

Daniels was charged by the State's Attorney's office with breaking and entering the Blubaugh Service Station in Flintstone Tuesday night and taking items valued at $138.40.

The warrant issued against the man said he stole three billfolds, 34 packs of cigarets, a wrist watch, a 12 gauge shotgun, a .22 calibre rifle and seven boxes of ammunition.

The items were recovered by City Police following Daniels' arrest on Waverly Terrace. Police said he was operating a station wagon which had been stolen in Baltimore at the time of the arrest.

Another warrant was issued for a second man who was with Daniels during the breaking and entering at Flintstone.

Kingwood Boy Nabbed In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bad transmission apparently wasn't the only thing wrong with an automobile deal here.

Police Friday nabbed Billy Reece Barker, 18, of Kingwood, W. Va., for investigation of passing bad checks.

The dealer made a long-distance call to a telephone number Barker gave him, supposedly that of a bank. The man on the other end of the line said he was the bank president and that the check was okay, police said. Barker drove off in the Ford, leaving the other car to be picked up later.

Then the suspicious dealer called the bank again, but this time apparently told the operator to get the bank's number. He spoke to someone else who said the check was not good.

Friday morning Barker returned to the lot complaining that the Ford's transmission wasn't good. Police moved in and said the check wasn't either.

Detective Sgt. George Baker said the suspect is wanted in Preston County, W. Va., and Oakland, Md.

Moundsville Seeks Boost

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An application by the city of Moundsville for approval of a $42,000 annual water rate increase was submitted Friday for Public Service Commission decision following a hearing.

Attorney Stephen D. Narick, representing the city, testified that Moundsville needed the boost to meet higher operating cost and so it can drill additional wells.

The city serves some 4,050 water customers. There were no protestants at the hearing.

Narick also said if the increase was granted, the city water board would receive an additional $53,000 annually in five years would have money necessary to complete proposed improvements.

Nine Get Divorces In Circuit Court

Nine divorces, two of which were partial decrees, have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Alvin Glen Murphy was granted a divorce from Woneda Carol Murphy. Richard Allen Morgan obtained a divorce from Barbara Ann Morgan and she was given custody of their minor child. Dolores A. Scharf obtained a divorce from Eugene W. Scharf and custody of their minor child.

Cleda L. Shaffer was granted a divorce from George A. Shaffer and custody of their two minor children. Betty Jane Newell was awarded a divorce from Jesse Junior Newell. Barbara Ann Trexler obtained a divorce from Richard L. Trexler and custody of their two minor children. Edith Weight was granted a divorce from James K. Weight.

Hazel V. Skelley obtained a partial divorce from Philip D. Skelley and custody of their four infant children. Roena Elizabeth Mallery was granted a partial divorce from Lawrence Winship Mallery Jr., and custody of their infant son.

VFW Picnic Tomorrow

A family picnic will be held by Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sunday from 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Smouse's Beach.

Approximately three out of four American homes now have electric toasters.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

Quality Pays Off

George Schaefer, whose name is the harbinger of quality on television, is branching out in all directions this year. Besides Hallmark productions, which he invariably directs, he'll be doing some theater and possibly movies, which he has never done before.

Hallmark will do six shows, all of them, Mr. Schaefer thinks, exciting: "We're doing 'Winterset,' that modern poetic tragedy. It's a distinctive story, a very exciting story, and a little different from most things seen on television." It certainly is. I well remember "Winterset" with Burgess Meredith in it as one of the first plays I ever saw on Broadway. It should be a great dramatic thrill on television.

"Jimmy Costigan is adapting 'A Doll's House'," he went on. "Julie Harris will play Nora. If you do Ibsen in the stock Archer translation, it is fairly dry but Costigan will give it blood and fire. Basically there are many things Ibsen wrote in this play—many small domestic observations which have great meaning for us today. We'll be doing that one in November." That, too, should be an experience. The last time Julie Harris and James Costigan got together was for "Little Moon of Alban," the first and only original Hallmark ever did.

On that score Schaefer says: "Blazing new trails is difficult. We had great success with 'Little Moon of Alban' and Hallmark got more publicity and prestige than on any other show we did. We've been looking for new material—but where do you begin? There isn't any market for it. We try agents but most agents don't handle TV originals."

I asked where "Little Moon" had come from originally and he said: "Julie always wanted to play a nun—so Jimmy Costigan wrote it for her."

Speaking of nuns, who are big box office at the moment, Hallmark will repeat one of the most touching and brilliantly produced of their former shows for Easter. "We're repeating 'Cradle Song' with Siobhan McKenna, Helen Hayes, and Judith Anderson. We'll tape it in September. We had a great success with our repeat of 'Green Pastures' and we feel that 'Cradle Song' ought to get a much larger audience the second time than the first. It's a perfect story for that time. I found 'The Nun's Story' a very good picture but not warm enough. I think 'Cradle Song' is more moving."

Hallmark is generally wedded to Shakespeare but this year Schaefer will do only one Shakespeare, a very unusual one. "We've already taped 'The Temptest' and the production was a wild and stunning one. It's the most exciting Shakespeare I've ever done and it's on color tape. The stars are Maurice Evans, Lee Remick, Richard Burton, Roddy McDowell, and Tom Poston. For two hundred years, people have said that 'The Tempest' was unsuitable for production. They're wrong. Certainly, if any school children think Shakespeare is stuffy and stilted, 'The Tempest' will prove that it's wonderful."

Hallmark's other two shows will be a Christmas show which will be a mixture of different elements, a sort of Christmas card to the American people, and, in the spring, if they can find one and if everything works out, another original. So there is the Hallmark season—a little Shakespeare, a little Ibsen, an original, a potpourri, a repeat of a goon one, and a little Maxwell Anderson—all different, all high quality, all exciting. Yet, no sponsor has made TV pay off better than Hallmark—always with quality. There's a lesson for Madison Avenue, if it would only pay attention.

That word special is taking an awful kicking around this year and some of the specials are not going to be very special. I asked Mr. Schaefer about this and he said: "The ones who use the variety format will be the ones who are in the most trouble. All the shows which are titled 'An Evening With . . .' Already there is great competition to get personalities who sparkle. Especially since many of the sparklers—like Dinah Shore and Perry Como—already have shows."

Schaefer, though he has used tape, is still a great proponent of live television. "Maybe because it's most exciting. With tape you lose that extra hysteria when the actors know they're naked before America."

W.Va. Police Recover Truck

The West Virginia State Police at Romney have recovered a truck stolen in Washington this past Wednesday.

Trooper W. A. Steffick located the vehicle parked near Capon Bridge. A high-powered rifle was found in the truck.

Police said the truck was stolen by Jesse Reed, 30, who is stationed at the Andrews Air Force Base. He is a veteran of 13 years service and is being held by military authorities.

MISS AMELIA DEIHL

Woman Accepts Teaching Post

Miss Amelia Ann Deihl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deihl, 410 Furnace Street, has accepted a teaching position with the Anne Arundel County Board of Education.

Miss Deihl, a 1955 graduate of Allegany High School, will join the faculty at Marley Junior High School in Glen Burnie.

She received her bachelor of science degree in June from Frostburg State Teachers College and did her practice teaching at Northern High School in Garrett County and Fort Hill High School.

While in college, Miss Deihl was active in Phi Omicron Delta Sorority, International Relations Club, Little Theatre, Ushers Club, Future Teachers of America, Women's Recreation Association, college newspaper and yearbook staffs. She was elected a "Sweetheart" princess in 1948.

County, City To Meet On Health Issue

A motion by Commissioner William A. Wilson was passed at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for a meeting with the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to discuss the dispute over rental of quarters of the Health Departments and any other matters which might be brought up.

There have been several statements issued by both sides pro and con concerning the matter and Commissioner Wilson said he felt it was time the matter was calmly discussed at a meeting and ironed out.

The meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Court House in the commissioners' meeting room.

3,255 Children Registered At City Playlots

The city's 14 playgrounds had a total registration of 3,255 and a summer attendance of 54,366, the Recreation Department said yesterday in a report on the nine-week program.

Registration was down from the 3,623 figure of last year but the department pointed out it operated one less playground this year because Lamont Street playground fell victim to South End construction work.

Those registered ranged in age from 6 to 18 years. Adult attendance at the playgrounds was 3,846 and special events offered an attendance of 16,392.

Intra-city events held during the season and attendance are as follows: Talent Show, 1,500; Pet Show, 500; picnic, 700; bicycle rodeo, 300; fishing rodeo, 700; rock'n roll contest, 500; and the art and craft exhibit, 300. The department also had an exhibit at the Cumberland Fair which attracted widespread interest but no spectator estimate was possible, the department said.

Field events offered by the playgrounds during the season included box hockey, checkers, picnics, dancing, sand modeling, splash parties, stories, handicrafts, hiking, peep show, three-man basketball, shuffleboard, pogo stick contest, horseshoes, not league, stilt contest, volleyball, marbles, movies, hula hoop contests and basketball foul-shooting.

Special events included costume show, pocketbook show, hat show, stuffed animals show, earring show, on-wheels show, doll show, talent show, pet show, button show, what-not show, hobby show, variety show, model, rock and shoe shows.

Clubs sponsored on the playgrounds included newspaper, teenage, preteen, twirling, sewing and pets.

Table games include kalah, checkers, chinese checkers and jacks.

In addition, special activity was offered and instruction given in swimming and tennis.

The program had a director for each playground, one playground supervisor and one handicrafts specialist. They operated on a 30-hour week.

The playgrounds, with registration listed first and attendance second, are as follows:

Centre Street, Margaret Buzzard, director, 402 and 6,205; Columbia Street, Shirley Poland, director, 190 and 4,745; East Side, Maxine Zehrbach, director, 426 and 5,549; Gephart, Judy Snyder director, 227 and 4,907.

Johnson Heights, Jane Burgess, director, 205 and 2,305; Mount Royal, Mildred White, director, 344 and 4,874; Mapleside, Dolores Rowley, director, 217 and 3,477; North End, Michael Wilson, director, 225 and 4,237; Penn Avenue, John Turley, director, 228 and 3,433.

Pine Avenue, Elizabeth Lee, director, 155 and 3,057; Post, Charles Smith, director, 338 and 3,298; Ridgedale, Marianne Hoelzer, director, 95 and 2,325; Virginia Avenue, Vera Twigg, director, 104 and 3,925; West Side, John Mills, director, 99 and 2,029.

Turnover Of Teachers Similar To Last Year

The turnover in Allegany County teachers this year runs approximately the same as last summer, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Webster said yesterday that a total of 48 assignments in new positions were made during the summer months, compared to the 42 or 43 made last year.

A number of additional teachers have been assigned in Allegany County this year due to the increase in enrollment.

However, the school superintendent points out that most of the new assignments are transfers from one school to another.

These transfers become necessary when for example a teacher resigns one school, and a nearby school has a decrease in enrollment. Then the change is made.

During the year, a total of 11 teachers retired, four who had been teaching in Cumberland and seven in the county.

Four other teachers were granted leave of absence, one to further his education and three for maternity.

A total of 14 teachers are leaving the county, but have indicated they will teach this year in Maryland.

Of this total, four have accepted positions in Baltimore County, four in Montgomery; one in Frederick County, one in Washington County, one in Prince Georges County, one in a private school in Baltimore and one at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Fourteen others who are leaving the county stated they were resigning because they were moving out of the state, business purposes, going into industrial work, getting married or because they decided not to continue full-time teaching.

B&O Recalls 45 Carmen At Keyser

The B&O Railroad has ordered the recall of 45 car repair workers for the Keyser shops effective Monday.

Many workers in the car shops at Keyser have been furloughed for several months as the result of the coal miners vacation period and the subsequent steel strike.

Parental Interest And Delinquency

Moral laxity among youth has created a problem which is being met by every facility of society in efforts to discover the underlying causes and to find a remedy.

It is proving a tough problem, but certain facts have been learned which explain the unusual behavior of youth, or at least the beginning of it. Law enforcement agencies and social workers have been forced to agree that more than 50 per cent of cases of so-called juvenile delinquency stem from broken homes.

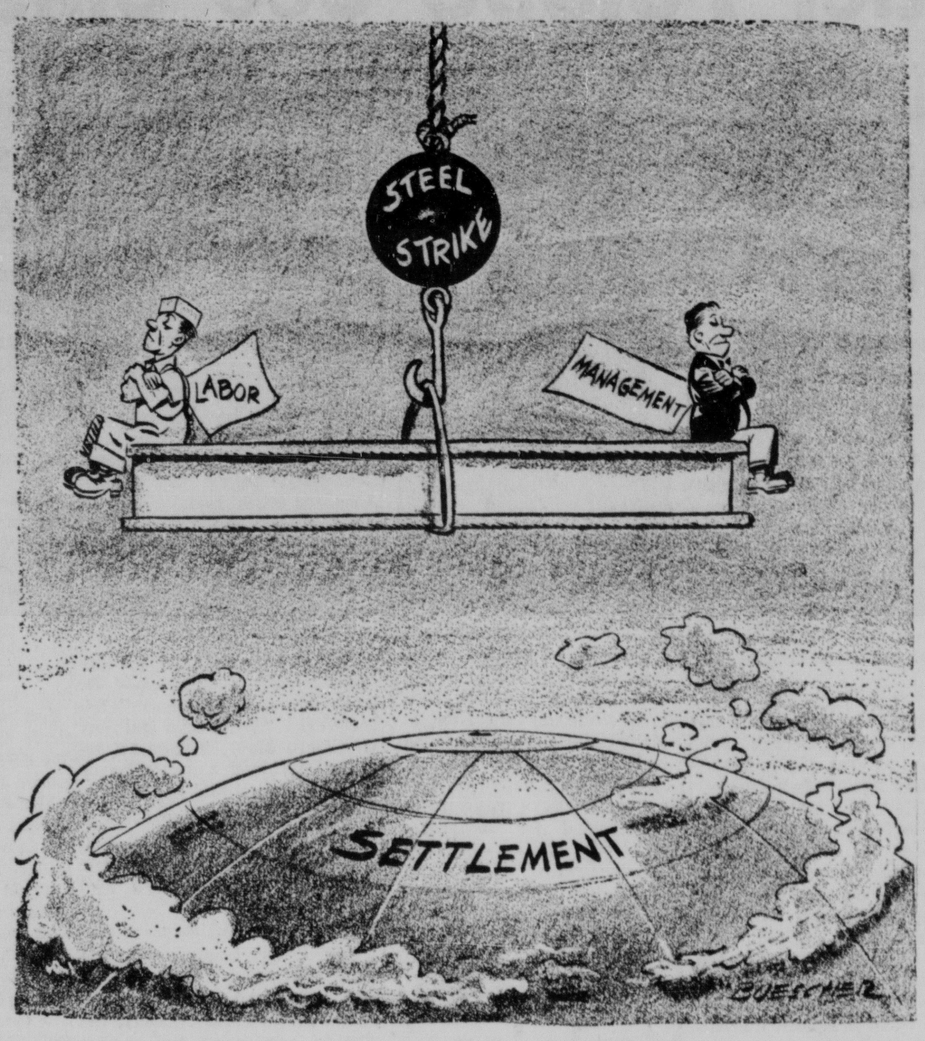
A survey in New York City brought to light the fact that more than 50 per cent of youths charged with delinquency came from homes split by divorce or the death of a parent. The broken home is regarded as America's chief tragedy as it affects the lives of children or young adults.

A quarter of a century ago bad company was alleged to be responsible for youthful misbehavior. Today case histories show delinquencies come from broken homes, or from homes where parents have little interest in their children, permitting them to follow their own devices.

Lack of parental interest and discipline starts children on the wrong track. Missing these at home they seek more congenial atmosphere outside, frequently with the result they fall into evil ways, lose respect for authority, and finally land in the toils of the law.

The youths of today are basically sound, but, like any growing thing, must be steered in the right direction.

Still Up In The Air



Gov. Rockefeller Asks Dewey To Handle His Presidential Campaign

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — How serious Nelson Rockefeller is about running for President is clear from the fact that he's asked ex-Gov. Tom Dewey to be his campaign manager. Dewey was highly successful in getting Ike nominated and elected even though he never did too well for himself. . . . Mamie Eisenhower says that she'll go to Moscow with Ike but only by boat. She hates long overseas airplane flights . . . The Air Force has caught Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia mooching a free joyride in a National Guard plane all over the Caribbean after he finished at the Governors' Conference. It plans to bill him in the same way it did embattled Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana when he flew to Houston, Texas, (somewhat against his will) to a mental institution. What the Air Force doesn't know is that Governor Vandiver is the nephew of potent Senator Russell of Georgia who sits on Air Force matters as Chairman of the Senate Armed Forces Committee. Wonder if they'll really try to collect?

The General Motors Grand Jury — Two junior Congressmen have been responsible for two of the most important probes in Congress this year. Frank Kowalski of Connecticut sparked the investigation of GIs used as brass hat servants, which has already brought drastic changes in the Army. Alfred Santangelo of New York inspired the probe of the munitions lobby . . . Kowalski recently made a broadcast, in Polish, over the Voice of America. Though his parents immigrated from Poland, the Congressman's English is far better than his Polish and he had to spend about four hours practicing for a 15-minute broadcast. He did a good job for Polish-American understanding . . . The CAB is getting down to business in a probe of Pan American Airways . . . The Justice Department also means business in its probe of General Motors for dominating over 50 per cent of the nation's auto production. Not even Postmaster General Summerfield, biggest Chevrolet dealer in the world, has been able to stop the General Motors grand jury . . . Congressman Frank Thompson of New Jersey, who got sprayed with acid the other day, finds time to be the capital's No. 1 advocate of culture, though Congressman Harris McDowell of Delaware is runner-up. They urge that future memorials to great Americans be in the form of living monuments, not rigid stone, and that Keith's famous theatre opposite the Treasury be made a Washington arts center. Morris Cafritz, the big D. C. realtor, has offered Keith's free to the nation's capital, but timid D. C. commissioners say they haven't got the money to use it.

Inside the Labor Conference—The Democratic Senator who's inclined to slide over to the Republican side during the hot Landrum-Griffin bill discussions is likable Jennings Randolph of West Virginia. With four Democratic Senators, balanced against three Republicans, Randolph's vote can throw the conference one way or the other . . . Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan was the only Senator who opposed secrecy at the Senate-House labor talks. It was agreed to keep Senate assistants in the room, but bar newsmen. As the last newsman walked out, McNamara wisecracked: "I want the last man who walked out the door as my assistant. He's with the Detroit News. I want to use him for public relations advice." . . . . There's a contractors' closed shop gimmick tucked in the Landrum-Griffin bill which was sold to Landrum and Griffin by the powerful Associated General Contractors. It will squeeze out all nonmember contractors. It provides that in the building trades, contractors may sign pre-hire contracts with a labor union, but the contractor must have a history of collective bargaining. This means he must belong to the local contractors' association, and also means a closed shop for contractors—written into law. . . . . Rep. Graham Barden of North Carolina is so anti-labor that in the closed-door sessions he insisted that officers and unions be required to have surety bonds of 10 per cent of the union money they handle. This would mean that David Dubinsky's Garment Workers, with a $200,000,000 fund, would have to get $20,000,000 surety. This goes far beyond the surety requirement of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which guarantees deposits in the nation's banks. When Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a businessman, heard about this, he drastically scaled the Barden provision down.

MAILBAG—Rep. W. F. Norrell of Arkansas—I have your telegram stating that you are not now in a wheel chair and have not been since your stroke. I am delighted to make this fact clear and very sorry that you have been ill. . . . Herman Johnson, the Johnson Company, Duluth, Minn. —You are right that there have been cases of secondary boycotts and organizational picketing, but the fact remains that with the exception of one narrow loophole, they are banned under the Taft-Hartley Act. Not only my column but the New York Times has pointed out that section 8 (B) (4) (A) of the Taft-Hartley Act specifically bans this type of picketing and that President Eisenhower was not fair when in his telecast on labor legislation he cited the secondary picketing of retail furniture stores because the furniture manufacturer would not permit union organization. The President's own Justice Department, through the Taft-Hartley Act, in most cases has the power to stop this type of picketing.

Khrushchev's Visit: A Dramatic Opportunity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has put into perspective the purpose of his conferences with the heads of the Allied governments in Europe and also his reasons for the exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The President has no illusions about the difficulties that lie ahead, but he feels it his duty to try hard to accomplish something for world peace. He recognizes the right of everyone who disagrees to voice his protest. He insists that there can be no assurance of world peace until the "captive nations" have their freedom and the right to choose their own rulers.

Though well aware of the discouraging record of the past, Mr. Eisenhower is dedicated to the principle of trying by every means at his command to influence the Soviet government toward peace and general disarmament.

The President disclosed his ideas at the press conference he held just before getting ready to fly to Europe. It was a memorable occasion. For in the space of a few minutes Mr. Eisenhower epitomized American purposes and reiterated American ideals.

The nation's Chief Executive said explicitly that his purpose in visiting the heads of the British, French, Italian and West German goverments was "to support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression, and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security."

To those who might have any idea that the people of the United States are so attached to their comforts and luxuries that they might yield to peace-at-any-price sentiment, the President had a significant answer that might well be pondered in Moscow. He said:

"I think the strength of America is in its people, and I believe that we can put it this way: I do not believe it's necessarily true for each of us that we could get up and, with Patrick Henry, say, 'As for me, give me liberty or give me death.' But I believe that basically this is what you might call our national spirit. I believe that the American nation will never surrender its liberties to any kind of outside threat or aggression — rather, they would die."

As a corollary to this expression of steadfastness, the President said he was going to Western Europe to meet with the British, French, Italian and West German leaders in order to have an opportunity "to reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue our search for peace."

This reassurance would not have been necessary but for the widespread impression that the Khrushchev visit might result in some abandonment of American ideals.

Most important among the President's comments, however, was his emphasis on the spirit of peoples and their power to determine their own fate. He said in answer to a question asked about the "captive nations":

"America will never concede that there has been a sound, durable or working peace that could be called global until these nations have had the right to express their own convictions, their own opinions and desires about their own fates, and then, as far as the United States was concerned, it would never cease to use every peaceable means—and I have always emphasized that word 'peaceable'—to give them such an opportunity."

The President stated the case even more comprehensively when he referred to the self-assertion by people's of underdeveloped countries. He said:

"Two billion people are going to find some way of expressing their convictions that they do not have to live in conditions that are completely unsatisfactory by any minimum standard that we set up for humans, and unless the civilized world—not just ourselves, but the civilized world—is willing and ready to share in the burdens of making it possible for those people to achieve progress in this area, this world is going to have tough going."

Last but not least, the President showed that he has no objection to the expression of orderly protests at the time of the Khrushchev visit. He said:

"The mere fact that a number of people have opposed this idea publicly and through advertisements—that, to my mind is one of the lessons he (Khrushchev) can learn. We don't resent it. Everybody in this country is able to make his own convictions and his own opinions and he is certainly at liberty to express them. And I think it is one of the fine lessons that he (Khrushchev) can learn, and it may have some effect."

This is but another way of saying that maybe, after all, there will be some pluses to the Khrushchev visit — if the Soviet Premier learns that Americans stand unflinchingly for the right of free expression and the right of self-determination of all peoples. Without the Khrushchev visit, there would never have been such a dramatic opportunity for the kind of debate on freedom and human liberty that the world is to witness in the next few weeks.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Dissatisfied

In the good old days when Americans referred to the United States as "God's own country" and when Mayor Thompson of Chicago wanted to punch the nose of King George, it was quite dangerous to say that this country was no good, that some other country was superior. Aliens who spoke ill of the United States were told to go back where they came from.

But times do change and we have lived through years of intensive propaganda for internationalism, for the United Nations, for our allies, and for favoring Soviet Russia. We have been softened up to believe that strong nations must support weak nations and even when the weak become strong, we must continue to pay subsidies which go by the name of some kind of aid—military aid, economic aid, Point Four aid, all kinds of aid.

President Eisenhower's visit to Europe and Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States are designed to bring to an end the Cold War. What will follow no one can prophesy. In this generation, there is a tendency to demand an immediate solution to every problem. Some problems are not yet solvable by the human mind which has a limited capacity. Such wisdom as is demanded of statesmen does not exist. Talleyrand who was the most brilliant statesman after the French Revolution may have thought that the Congress of Vienna solved all the political problems of Europe, but we now know that the most the statesmen gathered there managed to do was to keep the peace for nearly a century.

In this generation, we should be willing to settle for that. There are, however, those who are in a great hurry. They say that our government has done nothing for two decades. Some will settle for one decade. Actually, our government has done an amazingly brilliant job which needs restudy and understanding. I refer to both the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations.

The basic task was to discover what had been promised to Russia at Yalta. The record was not clear. Franklin D. Roosevelt was his own Secretary of State, often acting through such persons as Harry Hopkins, or through the Treasury, so that when Harry Truman became President and had to attend the Potsdam Conference shortly after Roosevelt's death, he was caught with inadequate knowledge and experience. We now know that Truman did as well as anyone could under such circumstances.

The Acheson regime in the State Department involved difficult adjustments. The American people had been propagandized into accepting Russia as an ally and national policy was so designed. Suddenly, Americans became conscious of the fact that Roosevelt had spent $11,000,000,000 to buy us an enemy made mighty by a war which we, rather than the enemy, Soviet Russia, actually won. In China we made a long series of errors largely because of misinformation and bad advice from our own people in China. We lost China which caused a shift in the attitudes of Asiatic peoples and ultimately brought on the Korean War. The loss of China to the Soviet Universal State was a turning point in history. China had long been a shield against the Russian invasion in Asia. That shield was removed.

We lost the Korean War because we overestimated Soviet strength and misread probable Soviet conduct. But it must be recognized, if one is to be objective, that our people, even the experts, had been trained to accept Soviet Russia as an ally and the adjustment from a favored ally to an enemy was difficult for many to make. Here one must take into consideration all the curiosities of education and communication of ideas in the 1930s, when American Communists and fellow travellers were so influential.

Now we are faced with the facts. The Cold War has been costly and in some aspects, particularly economic, devastating. The Cold War, if practically and honestly arranged, could with great benefit be brought to an end. It is a great accomplishment to have made it possbile to reach a point of conversation—and to have made the place, the United States, fixed.

But even a greater accomplishment, during both the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations, has been to arrest Soviet Russia's march to a universal empire. John Foster Dulles's contribution to that achievement was enormous and he continued to give his experience and physical strength to the task until he died. All in all, there is no justification for dissatisfaction.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

This, apparently, is a time for new approaches to long-standing cold war problem situations. It is a time for seeking new avenues for solutions of old tensions.

The first, and thus-far most important innovation is the Eisenhower - Khrushchev visit exchange. Hard on the heels of this announcement came the disclosure of a new 10-nation commission to seek a solution to the armament reduction question.

Most probably in the weeks and months ahead there will be other new proposals to deal with such matters as atomic testing control, limitation of propaganda and counter-propaganda activities, encouragement of international trade activities with the Communist bloc of nations, means to reduce big-nation rivalries in the so-called uncommitted nations of the world.

All these problems bear directly on the question of peace or eventual war. Even little steps toward a solution here and there—not necessarily the whole package—would be most encouraging for the peace outlook.

Significantly the White House is taking the lead in these new steps. The development approaches the personal diplomacy of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt during the World War II era.

Such a course contains many pitfalls and dangers, which are recognized fully by President Eisenhower.

However, this is Eisenhower's big push to try to make a significant contribution to world peace in his remaining time in office. He is determined to leave the White House with no reasonable avenue unexplored.

Steel And Stocks

By Leslie Gould

The stock market believes the steel strike is heading for a settlement. Possibly by Labor Day.

This belief was behind the buying in the steel shares, which halted a decline that chopped market values nearly 7 per cent or about $20 billion in two weeks.

While both sides deny published reports in the Midwest that a "tentative agreement" has been reached, the fact is that real progress is now being made in the negotiations. The negotiating teams next week are to get down to writing the contract, leaving aside for the moment the main points of controversy.

One thing is sure that the strike will end. They always do.

There is more to the buying of the steel shares than just this. For one thing Secretary of Labor Mitchell set what amounts to a deadline—Oct. 1—for a settlement without Government intervention. In his report on the "facts" of the strike, Mitchell said that after Oct. 1 the strike could disrupt the economy.

If the strike is not settled by that date, the President could invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, which would force a reopening of the mills for a 80-day cooling off period. The Mitchell statement is being interpreted as indicating such action.

The best guess is that the strike will end in a 10-cent a hour increase — which would be in line with contracts negotiated in other industries this year — and more management power to change job classifications and other procedures that reduce benefits from more efficient machinery and techniques.

The steel companies will hold the line on prices under such a settlement. U.S. Steel's chairman — Roger Blough — promised this provided the settlement was "voluntary"—that is not Government dictated.

Mitchell's report was dictation to quite a degree—for it backed up contentions of both sides—even to a point where the report was at times confusing and some points were in conflict. It was a sort of plague on both your houses.

If the strike were to go beyond the Oct. 1 deadline, it could slow down the business boom — even arrest it. With an important election next year, it is certain the Administration will do everything in its power to prevent such a happening. That means the strike will have to be ended.

Republican chances or hopes for next year are riding higher on prospects for the boom carrying through next year and into 1960.

The steel shares following the Mitchell report have come back four to five points from their lows on the August 17 week. This along with buying of the rails on the Southern Pacific's three-for-one split bolstered the whole market. One of the large closed end trusts was a big buyer of Bethlehem.

At the August 14 week's low point on the 19th, the market was down 44½ points from the all time highs made three weeks earlier. The turn around came in the late August 19th trading, when half that day's losses were recovered. The buying carried through the rest of the week, with the list mixed at the week's end.

On the weak side, United Fruit broke sharply to a new low on omission of its quarterly dividend, the first time this has happened in 60 years.

Volume of trading contracted on the selling with turn over on one day below 2 million shares and the smallest since May, 1958. Only one day did volume exceed 3 million shares and this was on the day of the late recovery.

Fears of tighter money checked a recovery that has been under way in the Government bond market for the last few weeks. A factor was Congress' shelving for this session legislation to lift the ceiling on interest the Treasury can pay. There were reports banks were reducing their holdings of Governments to raise cash for business and other loans.

Albinism Often A Handicap, But Not For Noah

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Noah was the first albino, if we can believe the account of his birth in The Book of Enoch the Prophet, which says: "After a time, my son Methuselah, took a wife for his son Lamech. She became pregnant by him and brought forth a child, the flesh of which was white as snow, and red as a rose; the hair of whose head was white as wool and long; and whose eyes were beautiful. When he opened them, he illuminated all the house, like the sun; the whole house abounded with light."

Albinos have no pigment. Their skin is as white as a sheet and the hair is the same, although in some it is slightly reddish. The eyes are as red as the evening sun.

According to an account in the British Medical Journal, Lamech was frightened by the appearance of Noah and ran to his own father, Methuselah, telling him his new son was not human but resembled the offspring of angels. Albinism is a rare hereditary disorder and develops in one out of every 10,000 persons. The skin fails to produce melanin pigment, the substance responsible for the color and shades of the skin. These men and women are most sensitive to light because the skin lacks pigment and cannot tan.

They are at a disadvantage for other reasons. The skin ages prematurely, often in early adulthood, and blemishes such as keratoses (liver spots), cancers, and spider veins often develop. Some are mentally retarded, deaf, and blind. They seldom grow tall and tend to be short-lived. Infertility is a common finding.

Vitamins will do no harm but are not necessary if the oldsters are healthy, eating a well balanced diet, and have a normal digestive system and metabolism. Exceptions occur. Parental Interest And Delinquency

Moral laxity among youth has created a problem which is being met by every facility of society in efforts to discover the underlying causes and to find a remedy.

It is proving a tough problem, but certain facts have been learned which explain the unusual behavior of youth, or at least the beginning of it. Law enforcement agencies and social workers have been forced to agree that more than 50 per cent of cases of so-called juvenile delinquency stem from broken homes.

A survey in New York City brought to light the fact that more than 50 per cent of youths charged with delinquency came from homes split by divorce or the death of a parent. The broken home is regarded as America's chief tragedy as it affects the lives of children or young adults.

A quarter of a century ago bad company was alleged to be responsible for youthful misbehavior. Today case histories show delinquencies come from broken homes, or from homes where parents have little interest in their children, permitting them to follow their own devices.

Lack of parental interest and discipline starts children on the wrong track. Missing these at home they seek more congenial atmosphere outside, frequently with the result they fall into evil ways, lose respect for authority, and finally land in the toils of the law.

The youths of today are basically sound, but, like any growing thing, must be steered in the right direction.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Dissatisfied

In the good old days when Americans referred to the United States as "God's own country" and when Mayor Thompson of Chicago wanted to punch the nose of King George, it was quite dangerous to say that this country was no good, that some other country was superior. Aliens who spoke ill of the United States were told to go back where they came from.

But times do change and we have lived through years of intensive propaganda for internationalism, for the United Nations, for our allies, and for favoring Soviet Russia. We have been softened up to believe that strong nations must support weak nations and even when the weak become strong, we must continue to pay subsidies which go by the name of some kind of aid—military aid, economic aid, Point Four aid, all kinds of aid.

President Eisenhower's visit to Europe and Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States are designed to bring to an end the Cold War. What will follow no one can prophesy. In this generation, there is a tendency to demand an immediate solution to every problem. Some problems are not yet solvable by the human mind which has a limited capacity. Such wisdom as is demanded of statesmen does not exist. Talleyrand who was the most brilliant statesman after the French Revolution may have thought that the Congress of Vienna solved all the political problems of Europe, but we now know that the most the statesmen gathered there managed to do was to keep the peace for nearly a century.

In this generation, we should be willing to settle for that. There are, however, those who are in a great hurry. They say that our government has done nothing for two decades. Some will settle for one decade. Actually, our government has done an amazingly brilliant job which needs restudy and understanding. I refer to both the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations.

The basic task was to discover what had been promised to Russia at Yalta. The record was not clear. Franklin D. Roosevelt was his own Secretary of State, often acting through such persons as Harry Hopkins, or through the Treasury, so that when Harry Truman became President and had to attend the Potsdam Conference shortly after Roosevelt's death, he was caught with inadequate knowledge and experience. We now know that Truman did as well as anyone could under such circumstances.

The Acheson regime in the State Department involved difficult adjustments. The American people had been propagandized into accepting Russia as an ally and national policy was so designed. Suddenly, Americans became conscious of the fact that Roosevelt had spent $11,000,000,000 to buy us an enemy made mighty by a war which we, rather than the enemy, Soviet Russia, actually won. In China we made a long series of errors largely because of misinformation and bad advice from our own people in China. We lost China which caused a shift in the attitudes of Asiatic peoples and ultimately brought on the Korean War. The loss of China to the Soviet Universal State was a turning point in history. China had long been a shield against the Russian invasion in Asia. That shield was removed.

We lost the Korean War because we overestimated Soviet strength and misread probable Soviet conduct. But it must be recognized, if one is to be objective, that our people, even the experts, had been trained to accept Soviet Russia as an ally and the adjustment from a favored ally to an enemy was difficult for many to make. Here one must take into consideration all the curiosities of education and communication of ideas in the 1930s, when American Communists and fellow travellers were so influential.

Now we are faced with the facts. The Cold War has been costly and in some aspects, particularly economic, devastating. The Cold War, if practically and honestly arranged, could with great benefit be brought to an end. It is a great accomplishment to have made it possbile to reach a point of conversation—and to have made the place, the United States, fixed.

But even a greater accomplishment, during both the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations, has been to arrest Soviet Russia's march to a universal empire. John Foster Dulles's contribution to that achievement was enormous and he continued to give his experience and physical strength to the task until he died. All in all, there is no justification for dissatisfaction.

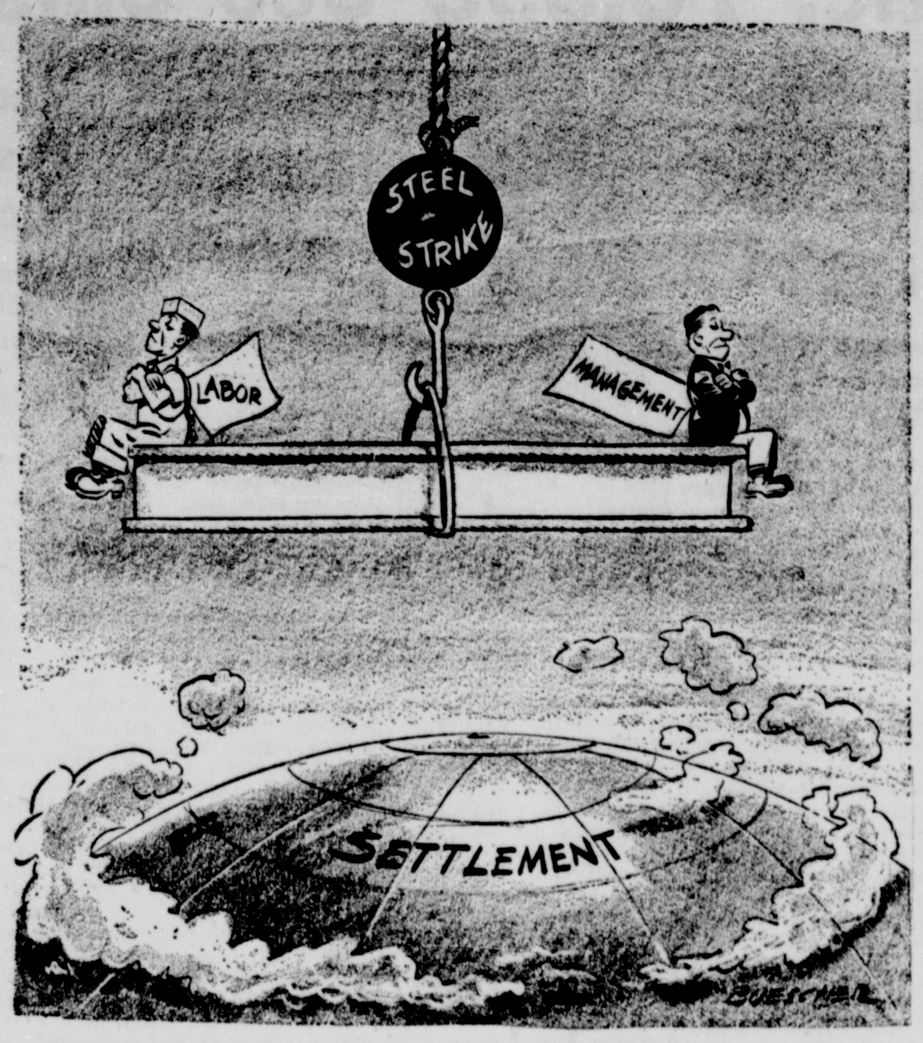
Still Up In The Air



Khrushchev's Visit: A Dramatic Opportunity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has put into perspective the purpose of his conferences with the heads of the Allied governments in Europe and also his reasons for the exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The President has no illusions about the difficulties that lie ahead, but he feels it his duty to try hard to accomplish something for world peace. He recognizes the right of everyone who disagrees to voice his protest. He insists that there can be no assurance of world peace until the "captive nations" have their freedom and the right to choose their own rulers.

Though well aware of the discouraging record of the past, Mr. Eisenhower is dedicated to the principle of trying by every means at his command to influence the Soviet government toward peace and general disarmament.

The President disclosed his ideas at the press conference he held just before getting ready to fly to Europe. It was a memorable occasion. For in the space of a few minutes Mr. Eisenhower epitomized American purposes and reiterated American ideals.

The nation's Chief Executive said explicitly that his purpose in visiting the heads of the British, French, Italian and West German goverments was "to support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression, and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security."

To those who might have any idea that the people of the United States are so attached to their comforts and luxuries that they might yield to peace-at-any-price sentiment, the President had a significant answer that might well be pondered in Moscow. He said:

"I think the strength of America is in its people, and I believe that we can put it this way: I do not believe it's necessarily true for each of us that we could get up and, with Patrick Henry, say, 'As for me, give me liberty or give me death.' But I believe that basically this is what you might call our national spirit. I believe that the American nation will never surrender its liberties to any kind of outside threat or aggression — rather, they would die."

As a corollary to this expression of steadfastness, the President said he was going to Western Europe to meet with the British, French, Italian and West German leaders in order to have an opportunity "to reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue our search for peace."

This reassurance would not have been necessary but for the widespread impression that the Khrushchev visit might result in some abandonment of American ideals.

Most important among the President's comments, however, was his emphasis on the spirit of peoples and their power to determine their own fate. He said in answer to a question asked about the "captive nations":

"America will never concede that there has been a sound, durable or working peace that could be called global until these nations have had the right to express their own convictions, their own opinions and desires about their own fates, and then, as far as the United States was concerned, it would never cease to use every peaceable means—and I have always emphasized that word 'peaceable'—to give them such an opportunity."

The President stated the case even more comprehensively when he referred to the self-assertion by people's of underdeveloped countries. He said:

"Two billion people are going to find some way of expressing their convictions that they do not have to live in conditions that are completely unsatisfactory by any minimum standard that we set up for humans, and unless the civilized world—not just ourselves, but the civilized world—is willing and ready to share in the burdens of making it possible for those people to achieve progress in this area, this world is going to have tough going."

Last but not least, the President showed that he has no objection to the expression of orderly protests at the time of the Khrushchev visit. He said:

"The mere fact that a number of people have opposed this idea publicly and through advertisements—that, to my mind is one of the lessons he (Khrushchev) can learn. We don't resent it. Everybody in this country is able to make his own convictions and his own opinions and he is certainly at liberty to express them. And I think it is one of the fine lessons that he (Khrushchev) can learn, and it may have some effect."

This is but another way of saying that maybe, after all, there will be some pluses to the Khrushchev visit — if the Soviet Premier learns that Americans stand unflinchingly for the right of free expression and the right of self-determination of all peoples. Without the Khrushchev visit, there would never have been such a dramatic opportunity for the kind of debate on freedom and human liberty that the world is to witness in the next few weeks.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

This, apparently, is a time for new approaches to long-standing cold war problem situations. It is a time for seeking new avenues for solutions of old tensions.

The first, and thus-far most important innovation is the Eisenhower - Khrushchev visit exchange. Hard on the heels of this announcement came the disclosure of a new 10-nation commission to seek a solution to the armament reduction question.

Most probably in the weeks and months ahead there will be other new proposals to deal with such matters as atomic testing control, limitation of propaganda and counter-propaganda activities, encouragement of international trade activities with the Communist bloc of nations, means to reduce big-nation rivalries in the so-called uncommitted nations of the world.

All these problems bear directly on the question of peace or eventual war. Even little steps toward a solution here and there—not necessarily the whole package—would be most encouraging for the peace outlook.

Significantly the White House is taking the lead in these new steps. The development approaches the personal diplomacy of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt during the World War II era.

Such a course contains many pitfalls and dangers, which are recognized fully by President Eisenhower.

However, this is Eisenhower's big push to try to make a significant contribution to world peace in his remaining time in office. He is determined to leave the White House with no reasonable avenue unexplored.

Albinism Often A Handicap, But Not For Noah

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Noah was the first albino, if we can believe the account of his birth in The Book of Enoch the Prophet, which says: "After a time, my son Methuselah, took a wife for his son Lamech. She became pregnant by him and brought forth a child, the flesh of which was white as snow, and red as a rose; the hair of whose head was white as wool and long; and whose eyes were beautiful. When he opened them, he illuminated all the house, like the sun; the whole house abounded with light."

Albinos have no pigment. Their skin is as white as a sheet and the hair is the same, although in some it is slightly reddish. The eyes are as red as the evening sun.

According to an account in the British Medical Journal, Lamech was frightened by the appearance of Noah and ran to his own father, Methuselah, telling him his new son was not human but resembled the offspring of angels. The two men went to Enoch, who interpreted the event and predicted the coming deluge in which Noah and his family with his wine, his ark, and the animals that came two by two were to be saved.

Gov. Rockefeller Asks Dewey To Handle His Presidential Campaign

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — How serious Nelson Rockefeller is about running for President is clear from the fact that he's asked ex-Gov. Tom Dewey to be his campaign manager. Dewey was highly successful in getting Ike nominated and elected even though he never did too well for himself. . . . Mamie Eisenhower says that she'll go to Moscow with Ike but only by boat. She hates long overseas airplane flights . . . The Air Force has caught Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia mooching a free joyride in a National Guard plane all over the Caribbean after he finished at the Governors' Conference. It plans to bill him in the same way it did embattled Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana when he flew to Houston, Texas, (somewhat against his will) to a mental institution. What the Air Force doesn't know is that Governor Vandiver is the nephew of potent Senator Russell of Georgia who sits on Air Force matters as Chairman of the Senate Armed Forces Committee. Wonder if they'll really try to collect?

The General Motors Grand Jury — Two junior Congressmen have been responsible for two of the most important probes in Congress this year. Frank Kowalski of Connecticut sparked the investigation of GIs used as brass hat servants, which has already brought drastic changes in the Army. Alfred Santangelo of New York inspired the probe of the munitions lobby . . . Kowalski recently made a broadcast, in Polish, over the Voice of America. Though his parents immigrated from Poland, the Congressman's English is far better than his Polish and he had to spend about four hours practicing for a 15-minute broadcast. He did a good job for Polish-American understanding . . . The CAB is getting down to business in a probe of Pan American Airways . . . The Justice Department also means business in its probe of General Motors for dominating over 50 per cent of the nation's auto production. Not even Postmaster General Summerfield, biggest Chevrolet dealer in the world, has been able to stop the General Motors grand jury . . . Congressman Frank Thompson of New Jersey, who got sprayed with acid the other day, finds time to be the capital's No. 1 advocate of culture, though Congressman Harris McDowell of Delaware is runner-up. They urge that future memorials to great Americans be in the form of living monuments, not rigid stone, and that Keith's famous theatre opposite the Treasury be made a Washington arts center. Morris Cafritz, the big D. C. realtor, has offered Keith's free to the nation's capital, but timid D. C. commissioners say they haven't got the money to use it.

Inside the Labor Conference—The Democratic Senator who's inclined to slide over to the Republican side during the hot Landrum-Griffin bill discussions is likable Jennings Randolph of West Virginia. With four Democratic Senators, balanced against three Republicans, Randolph's vote can throw the conference one way or the other . . . Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan was the only Senator who opposed secrecy at the Senate-House labor talks. It was agreed to keep Senate assistants in the room, but bar newsmen. As the last newsman walked out, McNamara wisecracked: "I want the last man who walked out the door as my assistant. He's with the Detroit News. I want to use him for public relations advice." . . . . There's a contractors' closed shop gimmick tucked in the Landrum-Griffin bill which was sold to Landrum and Griffin by the powerful Associated General Contractors. It will squeeze out all nonmember contractors. It provides that in the building trades, contractors may sign pre-hire contracts with a labor union, but the contractor must have a history of collective bargaining. This means he must belong to the local contractors' association, and also means a closed shop for contractors—written into law. . . . . Rep. Graham Barden of North Carolina is so anti-labor that in the closed-door sessions he insisted that officers and unions be required to have surety bonds of 10 per cent of the union money they handle. This would mean that David Dubinsky's Garment Workers, with a $200,000,000 fund, would have to get $20,000,000 surety. This goes far beyond the surety requirement of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which guarantees deposits in the nation's banks. When Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a businessman, heard about this, he drastically scaled the Barden provision down.

MAILBAG—Rep. W. F. Norrell of Arkansas—I have your telegram stating that you are not now in a wheel chair and have not been since your stroke. I am delighted to make this fact clear and very sorry that you have been ill. . . . Herman Johnson, the Johnson Company, Duluth, Minn. —You are right that there have been cases of secondary boycotts and organizational picketing, but the fact remains that with the exception of one narrow loophole, they are banned under the Taft-Hartley Act. Not only my column but the New York Times has pointed out that section 8 (B) (4) (A) of the Taft-Hartley Act specifically bans this type of picketing and that President Eisenhower was not fair when in his telecast on labor legislation he cited the secondary picketing of retail furniture stores because the furniture manufacturer would not permit union organization. The President's own Justice Department, through the Taft-Hartley Act, in most cases has the power to stop this type of picketing.

Steel And Stocks

By Leslie Gould

The stock market believes the steel strike is heading for a settlement. Possibly by Labor Day.

This belief was behind the buying in the steel shares, which halted a decline that chopped market values nearly 7 per cent or about $20 billion in two weeks.

While both sides deny published reports in the Midwest that a "tentative agreement" has been reached, the fact is that real progress is now being made in the negotiations. The negotiating teams next week are to get down to writing the contract, leaving aside for the moment the main points of controversy.

One thing is sure that the strike will end. They always do.

There is more to the buying of the steel shares than just this. For one thing Secretary of Labor Mitchell set what amounts to a deadline—Oct. 1—for a settlement without Government intervention. In his report on the "facts" of the strike, Mitchell said that after Oct. 1 the strike could disrupt the economy.

If the strike is not settled by that date, the President could invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, which would force a reopening of the mills for a 80-day cooling off period. The Mitchell statement is being interpreted as indicating such action.

The best guess is that the strike will end in a 10-cent a hour increase — which would be in line with contracts negotiated in other industries this year — and more management power to change job classifications and other procedures that reduce benefits from more efficient machinery and techniques.

The steel companies will hold the line on prices under such a settlement. U.S. Steel's chairman — Roger Blough — promised this provided the settlement was "voluntary"—that is not Government dictated.

Mitchell's report was dictation to quite a degree—for it backed up contentions of both sides—even to a point where the report was at times confusing and some points were in conflict. It was a sort of plague on both your houses.

If the strike were to go beyond the Oct. 1 deadline, it could slow down the business boom — even arrest it. With an important election next year, it is certain the Administration will do everything in its power to prevent such a happening. That means the strike will have to be ended.

Republican chances or hopes for next year are riding higher on prospects for the boom carrying through next year and into 1960.

The steel shares following the Mitchell report have come back four to five points from their lows on the August 17 week. This along with buying of the rails on the Southern Pacific's three-for-one split bolstered the whole market. One of the large closed end trusts was a big buyer of Bethlehem.

At the August 14 week's low point on the 19th, the market was down 44½ points from the all time highs made three weeks earlier. The turn around came in the late August 19th trading, when half that day's losses were recovered. The buying carried through the rest of the week, with the list mixed at the week's end.

On the weak side, United Fruit broke sharply to a new low on omission of its quarterly dividend, the first time this has happened in 60 years.

Volume of trading contracted on the selling with turn over on one day below 2 million shares and the smallest since May, 1958. Only one day did volume exceed 3 million shares and this was on the day of the late recovery.

Fears of tighter money checked a recovery that has been under way in the Government bond market for the last few weeks. A factor was Congress' shelving for this session legislation to lift the ceiling on interest the Treasury can pay. There were reports banks were reducing their holdings of Governments to raise cash for business and other loans.

Basilio Is Stopped In 14th Round

Backtracker Takes Crown; Carmen's Seconds Call Halt

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Gene Fullmer, a battling backtracker from Utah, won the NBA world middleweight championship Friday night on a knockout over Carmen Basilio in the 14th round.

The fight was stopped early in the 14th by Basilio's seconds and brought a tremendous round of boos from the crowd of about 12,000 in the Cow Palace.

Fullmer had just landed a stunning right to the jaw when Angelo Dundee, Basilio's acting manager, yelled to referee Jack Downey to stop the fight.

Basilio protested and tried to keep on going, but was stopped by his seconds. The time was 39 seconds of the 14th.

Ahead On Points

Fullmer, a 7-5 underdog, was well ahead on points at the time, and the only way Basilio could have won would have been by a knockout.

Basilio was weaving on his feet, groggy, when Dundee leaped onto the ring apron, yelling:

"Referee, stop the fight!"

The bout, under California rules, was officially a knockout for Fullmer.

It was a bruising battle from the opening gong with Basilio forcing the pace and getting his face painted with lefts, rights and elbows for his trouble.

In nearly every round Basilio backed Fullmer into the ropes—or was decoyed there by Gene—and then Fullmer would come out swinging with lefts and rights that rocked Basilio's head.

Because he backtracked, a la Gene Tunney when he won the heavyweight crown from Jack Dempsey more than 30 years ago Fullmer got nothing but boos when he left the ring.

Have Three Plans

However, it was part of the strategy planned by Fullmer and his manager, Marv Jenson.

They had three plans—and all of them worked.

Through the first eight rounds, Fullmer backtracked steadily and then reached out with a counter-punching left jab to keep the on-rushing Basilio off balance. Always, Fullmer's blows were to the head.

Then in the ninth round, Fullmer suddenly shifted his attack. He sank a left wrist-deep into Carmen's belly and the Syracuse, N. Y., fighter doubled up and covered his face and stomach with his arms. Fullmer couldn't get in to apply the finishing touches.

Fullmer switched from head to stomach and back to head again through the next three rounds. Then he became a headhunter.

In the 13th with Basilio—who weighed 156 to 159½ for Fullmer—obviously tiring, Gentleman Gene started leading. He jabbed Basilio all through the round, never rushing, never backing up.

Toe To Toe

In the 14th he came out like a tiger. He landed a crashing, straight right to Basilio's chin. The 32-year-old veteran wobbled, and Gene rushed in for the kill. He landed glancing rights and lefts to the head and when Carmen failed to put up his hands to defend himself, the seconds asked that the match be halted.

It was a furious battle. In the sixth the two men stood toe to toe and slugged for most of the three minutes with neither having the advantage.

Rotary's Great Finish Eliminates Lions, 6-5

Score Four In 6th, Williams' Two-Run Homer Wins In 7th

A garrison finish highlighted by Mike Williams' two-run homer gave Manager Lonnie Jackson's Rotary Club a 6-5 decision over the Lions Club last night in the deciding game of a best-of-three series at Penn Avenue Field and advanced the winners into the playoff finals in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

Trailing 5-0, the Rotarians rallied for four runs in the bottom of the 6th on walks to John Roy and Bobby Reed, a wild pitch, Williams' hit that produced two runs and a two-run homer by Marty O'Toole.

Bobby Reed drew a walk in the 7th after two outs and Mike Williams smacked one of Colen Smith's offerings down the left field line for a round-tripper that netted two runs and victory.

Ronnie Manges, who came on in the 7th inning, received credit for the win while the loss was charged to Smith who followed Mike Miller and Frank Murray to the mound for the Lions.

The Lions collected eight hits, Miller collecting three singles while Jimmy Bell banged a double and two singles and played a bangup game at short. Williams, Rotarians' shortstop, also was outstanding in the field in addition to his two timely hits — a single and homer.

By eliminating the Lions the Rotary Club earned the right to play the Bedford Road Optimists in the final playoff series, commencing Monday. Yesterday's score:

Yankees Beat Senators, 4-0

Snap Loss String, Art Ditmar Victor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Art Ditmar pitched two-hit ball drove in three runs with a homer and a single as the New York Yankees downed Washington 4-0 to snap a four-game losing streak.

The only two Washington hits came with two out in the second inning. Billy Consolo singled and took second on a scratch single to second by pitcher Camilo Pascual. Ditmar erased that threat by getting Bob Allison on a ground out.

Only two Senators advanced as far as second and none beyond as Ditmar walked three and fanned two.

Pascual blanked the Yankees on three hits until Ditmar led off the fifth with a home run.

In the sixth, the Yankees scored three more runs on singles by Yogi Berra, Hector Lopez, Ditmar and Bobby Richardson and an intentional pass to pinchhitter Norm Siebern.

Colts Rack Up 23-10 Win Over Washington

NFL Champions Give Up First Touchdown Before 22,409 Fans

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The doughty defense of the Baltimore Colts hogged the attention again Friday night even though it gave up its first touchdown of the exhibition season in a 23-10 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The Redskins didn't cross the goal until the last minute of the game in the high 80-degree temperature before 22,409 fans. The Colt defense already had scored its second touchdown in addition to a safety in three exhibition games against the college all-stars, New York Giants and Redskins.

The all-stars were blanked, and the Giants kicked a field goal.

Gino Marchetti, the Colt's all-pro defense end, who suffered a broken ankle in the title victory over the Giants last year, ran 16 yards with a recovered fumble for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage of the second half against Washington.

The other Colt defense end, Don Joyce, knocked the ball loose from Washington quarterback Eagle Day.

Coach Weeb Ewbank mixed up his backfields, first string quarterback John Unitas working with rookie halfbacks Hal Lewis and Curly Johnson of Houston and fullback Billy Pricer. They marched 70 yards for a touchdown on nine plays with the opening kickoff, the payoff coming on a six-yard pass from Unitas to rookie end Jerry Richardson of Wofford College.

Bert Rechichar kicked a 48-yard field goal for the Colts in the dead night air of the second quarter, and Washington countered with a 17-yarder by Sam Baker.

Steve Myhra booted a pair of 21 and 24 yards in the third and fourth quarters for the Colts to provide them with a comfortable 23-3 lead.

Quarterback Eddie LeBaron then moved the Redskins 95 yards for a touchdown climaxed by a 16-yard pass to halfback Jim Podoley.

Washington	0	3	0	7—10
Baltimore	7	3	10	3—23

Washington scoring: TD, Podoley (16, pass from LeBaron). PAT, Baker. FG, Baker (17).

Baltimore scoring: TD, Richardson (6, pass from Unitas), Marchetti (17, returned fumble). PAT, Myhra 2. FG, Rechichar (48), Myhra 2 (21, 24).

Illinois Gunner Picks Up $6,500

VANDALIA, Ohio (UPI)—Clyde Bailey, a 39-year - old hog and grain farmer from Oquawaka, Ill., won the coveted Grand American Handicap trapshooting trophy Friday at the 60th Grand American Trapshoot.

Bailey, who picked up about $6,500, the Handicap Trophy and numerous other prizes, won in a shootoff with 19-year-old Harold Lippold of Omaha, Neb.

Both broke 99 out of 100 targets—Bailey from 21 yards; Lippold from 19—and were tied with 23 hits out of the first 25 targets in the shootoff. On the second 25 targets, Bailey cracked 24 out of 25 while Lippold missed four.

Cardinals Edge Cincinnati, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Joe Cunningham, hitless in four straight times at bat, smashed a dramatic two-out double in the ninth inning driving in two runs to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds here Friday night.

Cunningham, the National League's number two hitter, hadn't been able to get the ball out of the infield on his first four appearances against losing pitcher Don Newcombe. In the ninth, with Alex Grammas on second and Don Blasingame on first, he lined a two-base drive off the right field wall.

It was Newcombe's seventh defeat against 12 victories.

Lollar Poles Homer, Sinks Indians, 7-3

Cleveland Winning Streak Ends Before Largest Crowd

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Sherm Lollar, known as "Old Faithful" to his Chicago White Sox teammates, stretched their American League lead to 2½ games Friday night with a three run homer that beat the Cleveland Indians, 7-3, and snapped their eight-game winning streak before 70,398, largest crowd of the major league season.

The triumph behind Bob Shaw's seven-hit pitching was the White Sox's 10th in 15 meetings with the Tribe this year. It was Shaw's 14th victory against four defeats.

Ironically, the Indians may have been hurt in their pennant bid by their own popularity here. For it appeared that at least one of several thousand fans who overflowed the stands on to the grass behind the outfield fence knocked Lollar's drive out of left fielder Minnie Minoso's glove in the seventh inning just as he was about to catch it against the barrier. The ball barely dropped over the fence.

Lollar's homer, his 20th, came after reliefer Jim Grant had begun the inning by serving singles to Nellie Fox and Jim Landis. Grant, the loser, replaced starter Jack Harshman in the fifth when the Sox scored once to take a 3-2 lead.

The White Sox jumped into the lead in the fourth when Al Smith singled, advanced to second on an infield out and scored on Jim McAnany's single to left. McAnany was sacrificed to second by Shaw and came in on Luis Aparicio's single.

But the Indians pulled even on a freak play topped off by Aparicio's throwing error. With one out and Tito Francona on first, Rocky Colavito smashed a shot off third baseman Bubba Phillips' chest into short left field.

Francona reached third and Colavito second as Aparicio and second baseman Nellie Fox went after the ball. Aparicio finally threw late to second and when the ball got past first baseman Ted Kluszewski, covering the bag, both Francona and Colavito raced home. Colavito was credited with a double. Both runs became earned when George Strickland singled later in the inning.

The White Sox went ahead again, 3-2, in the fifth, finishing Harshman. A walk to Fox and Jim Landis' double brought in Grant. Lollar popped up and Kluszewski was intentionally given a walk loading the bases. But Fox scored on Smith's grounder to second before Grant retired the side.

The Indians immediately got even in their half of that frame on a walk and singles by Vic Power and Minoso. But with Power and Minoso on base with one out, Shaw escaped by forcing Francona to fly out and fanning Colavito.

Old Exports, Maple Inn Reach Finals

Kennell's Mill, Hermans Ousted

A pinch homer by Bob Cessna with a teammate aboard in the 7th inning enabled Maple Inn to defeat the Corriganville Hermans yesterday by the score of 11-10 and march into the final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Homewood Tavern's Old Exports eliminated Kennell's Mill in a 3-2 nine-inning battle at Kennell's Mill and became Maple Inn's opponent in the opener of the final series Tuesday at 6 p.m., on Homewood Field.

Cessna, pinch-hitting for Carl Shaffer, homered after "Buddy" Meade tripled to give Maple Inn the decision over Corriganville in the final inning. The win gave Maple Inn a two-game sweep.

Shaffer held Corriganville to three hits but six fielding miscues by his mates kept the Hermans in the game.

Timmy Micnaels hit a pair of homers for the winners and Meade hammered a round-tripper and triple.

Corriganville's hits were a double by Price and singles by Boor and Brant.

George Bishield's single to left and a three-base error enabled Homewood to score the run in the ninth inning that edged Kennell's Mill.

Junior Brelsford went the route for the league pennant winners and yielded only four hits. It was his 24th win against three losses this season.

Homewood Tavern was outhit, 9-4. Frank Scarpelli and George Bishields shared the winners' four blows while Jack Shaffer turned in a one-handed running catch in the outfield and cut down two runners at the plate with perfect throws. "Hap" Kennell clouted a triple and two singles, Joe Sager rapped a triple and Solly Emerick pounded a two-bagger for the losers. Emerick excelled in left field for Kennell's Mill. The scores:

Roberts Will Rejoin Philadelphia Today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Tests made Friday on Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies showed normal sugar tolerance and the big righthander will rejoin his teammates in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Dr. George Laquer, team physician, had ordered the follow - up tests at Temple University Hospital after a routine examination of Phillies players disclosed a trace of sugar in Roberts' system.

Dr. Laquer placed Roberts on a modified diet until he can determine what caused the abnormal showing in the preliminary test.

Doherty Says Third League Will Kill AA

Association May Lose Six Cities

DENVER (UPI)—White-haired Ed Doherty, a baseball executive with 45 years of experience, concluded Friday that the proposed third major league will kill his American Association.

But the 59-year-old Doherty refused to predict doom for the Continental League, conceding that Branch Rickey may very well carry off six Association cities.

Four have committed themselves already — Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver and Houston," Doherty said. "And Dallas and Fort Worth are likely, if they get together and build a major league park between them."

Doherty, who has the carriage and spring in his step of a man 20 years younger, has fought minor league battles in the past with vehemence.

Respects Branch Rickey

"Mr. Rickey knows a lot more about baseball and ball players than I do," the American Association president said. "I have the greatest admiration and respect for him. And they say the Continental League has sound financial backing.

"When Bob Howsam (owner of the Denver team in the association) tells me he has the backing, I believe him.

"But I can't agree with Mr. Rickey's statement that there are 200 triple A men who can play major league ball—or that a boy can work himself into stardom in a couple hundred hours of major league competition.

"There may be 80 players in triple A ball who can play in the majors. I've always thought that our four top clubs were on a par with the major leagues' second division. But what about the gap between the first and second divisions in the majors.

"The Continental League will have to start from scratch. Most of the triple A players today are owned by the majors, and the majors have most of the triple A clubs tied, up, too." Doherty said.

Clubs Financially Solvent

The 10 team American Association is already 300,000 ahead of last year's attendance. And Doherty claims all ten clubs are financially solvent. They should all be able to play next year. (The Continental League probably won't get started until 1961).

Doherty added quickly, however, that the Association could not survive with six prime cities lost to the third major league.

Doherty did not condemn the idea of a third major league.

"Maybe it's inevitable," he said. "Mr. Rickey knows a lot more about it than I do.

Pirates Cop 12th Game In 16 Played During Home Stand

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Vernon Law registered his 15th victory of the year with a five-hit, 9-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night and drove in two runs as the Pittsburgh Pirates won their 12th game in 16 played so far in the current home stand.

The muscular right hander was in command all the way as he struck out seven and didn't give up a base on balls. His victory total now is the highest he had ever recorded during his career in organized baseball.

Law cracked a bases - loaded single that produced two of the five runs the Pirates scored in the fourth inning.

The Pirates battered rookie Ed Keegan for eight runs in three and two-thirds innings while benefiting from six walks and eight of their 10 hits.

The big blows in the fourth inning were Roberto Clemente's inside-the-park homer, his fourth, and Rocky Nelson's sixth circuit clout. The two homers came with two out. Three more hits and a walk followed.

Bob Bowman, an outfielder, made his pitching debut in the sixth inning and his first pitch was blasted into the right field stands by Smoky Burgess. It was Burgess' eighth homer of the season. The Pirates catcher also collected three singles.

The Pirates had a total of nine walks and the passes started them on scoring sprees in the first and third innings.

Protests Mar First Tests In Pan-Am Games

U.S. Baseball Team Trounced; Disputes Add To Confusion

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP)—The third Pan-American Games was caught in a swirl of disputes and protests as competition opened Friday on a broad front.

Venezuela lodged a formal objection against the use of Gen. Eduardo Yanez of Chile as a judge in the equestrian events; Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico and Uruguay charged training facilities were inadequate for the modern pentathlon; and Argentina protested the lack of shells for rowing — a situation that was remedied by the arrival of a flotilla of boats.

On the field of sport, Grant Golden of Evanston, Ill., won a first round tennis match by beating Jose Ravelo of the Dominican Republic, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0; Mike Green of Miami defeated David Selley of Bermuda, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1. Myron Franks, of Miami, the third-seeded player, drew a bye in the first round and crushed John Bassett of Canada in the second, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

Foils Team Scores

The men's foils team of the United States advanced to the final pool by beating Cuba and Uruguay by identical scores, 13-3.

The protests and arguments were the almost inevitable result of staging a big sports carnival in a metropolis with far-flung training sites and the resultant difficulty of establishing tight central control.

The complaints about the modern pentathlon setup charged that there was "complete disorganization" and that it had been impossible to practice shooting. Transportation was called inadequate.

In rowing a lack of shells has hampered practice. Few of the competing nations could afford the cost of transporting the delicate boats here and at first there were not enough shells to go around. A fresh batch arrived Friday and eased the situation.

Venezuela's complaint against Gen. Yanez was that it was not fair to use him as a judge in the equestrian events since he served as a judge at the American tryouts, and in addition was in fact if not in name the head of the Chilean equestrian team.

U. S. Tossers Lose

The United States was roundly beaten in its own national sport, baseball, in the opening game of the competition. Venezuela accomplished the feat, 11-6. Jose Flores, a 158-pound first baseman, drove in four runs on three hits for the victors, including a tremendous home run six rows deep into the upper left field deck at Comiskey Park.

Fullmer Cops NBA Title; 70,398 See Chisox Triumph

Basilio Is Stopped In 14th Round

Backtracker Takes Crown; Carmen's Seconds Call Halt

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Gene Fullmer, a battling backtracker from Utah, won the NBA world middleweight championship Friday night on a knockout over Carmen Basilio in the 14th round.

The fight was stopped early in the 14th by Basilio's seconds and brought a tremendous round of boos from the crowd of about 12,000 in the Cow Palace.

Fullmer had just landed a stunning right to the jaw when Angelo Dundee, Basilio's acting manager, yelled to referee Jack Downey to stop the fight.

Basilio protested and tried to keep on going, but was stopped by his seconds. The time was 39 seconds of the 14th.

Ahead On Points

Fullmer, a 7-5 underdog, was well ahead on points at the time, and the only way Basilio could have won would have been by a knockout.

Basilio was weaving on his feet, groggy, when Dundee leaped onto the ring apron, yelling:

"Referee, stop the fight!"

The bout, under California rules, was officially a knockout for Fullmer.

It was a bruising battle from the opening gong with Basilio forcing the pace and getting his face painted with lefts, rights and elbows for his trouble.

In nearly every round Basilio backed Fullmer into the ropes—or was decoyed there by Gene—and then Fullmer would come out swinging with lefts and rights that rocked Basilio's head.

Because he backtracked, a la Gene Tunney when he won the heavyweight crown from Jack Dempsey more than 30 years ago, Fullmer got nothing but boos when he left the ring.

Have Three Plans

However, it was part of the strategy planned by Fullmer and his manager, Marv Jenson.

They had three plans—and all of them worked.

Through the first eight rounds, Fullmer backtracked steadily and then reached out with a counter-punching left jab to keep the on-rushing Basilio off balance. Always, Fullmer's blows were to the head.

Then in the ninth round, Fullmer suddenly shifted his attack. He sank a left wrist-deep into Carmen's belly and the Syracuse, N. Y., fighter doubled up and covered his face and stomach with his arms. Fullmer couldn't get in to apply the finishing touches.

Fullmer switched from head to stomach and back to head again through the next three rounds. Then he became a headhunter.

In the 13th with Basilio—who weighed 156 to 159½ for Fullmer—obviously tiring, Gentleman Gene started leading. He jabbed Basilio all through the round, never rushing, never backing up.

Toe To Toe

In the 14th he came out like a tiger. He landed a crashing, straight right to Basilio's chin. The 32-year-old veteran wobbled, and Gene rushed in for the kill. He landed glancing rights and lefts to the head and when Carmen failed to put up his hands to defend himself, the seconds asked that the match be halted.

It was a furious battle. In the sixth the two men stood toe to toe and slugged for most of the three minutes with neither having the advantage.

Rotary's Great Finish Eliminates Lions, 6-5

Score Four In 6th, Williams' Two-Run Homer Wins In 7th

A garrison finish highlighted by Mike Williams' two-run homer gave Manager Lonnie Jackson's Rotary Club a 6-5 decision over the Lions Club last night in the deciding game of a best-of-three series at Penn Avenue Field and advanced the winners into the playoff finals in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

Trailing 5-0, the Rotarians rallied for four runs in the bottom of the 6th on walks to John Roy and Bobby Reed, a wild pitch, Williams' hit that produced two runs and a two-run homer by Marty O'Toole.

Bobby Reed drew a walk in the 7th after two outs and Mike Williams smacked one of Colen Smith's offerings down the left field line for a round-tripper that netted two runs and victory.

Ronnie Manges, who came on in the 7th inning, received credit for the win while the loss was charged to Smith who followed Mike Miller and Frank Murray to the mound for the Lions.

The Lions collected eight hits, Miller collecting three singles while Jimmy Bell banged a double and two singles and played a bangup game at short, Williams, Rotarians' shortstop, also was outstanding in the field in addition to his two timely hits — a single and homer.

By eliminating the Lions the Rotary Club earned the right to play the Bedford Road Optimists in the final playoff series, commencing Monday. Yesterday's score:

Lions Club	2	1	1	0	0	5	8	1

Yankees Beat Senators, 4-0

Snap Loss String, Art Ditmar Victor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Art Ditmar pitched two-hit ball drove in three runs with a homer and a single as the New York Yankees downed Washington 4-0 to snap a four-game losing streak.

The only two Washington hits came with two out in the second inning. Billy Consolo singled and took second on a scratch single to second by pitcher Camilo Pascual. Ditmar erased that threat by getting Bob Allison on a ground out.

Only two Senators advanced as far as second and none beyond as Ditmar walked three and fanned two.

Pascual blanked the Yankees on three hits until Ditmar led off the fifth with a home run.

In the sixth, the Yankees scored three more runs on singles by Yogi Berra, Hector Lopez, Ditmar and Bobby Richardson and an intentional pass to pinchhitter Norm Siebern.

Colts Rack Up 23-10 Win Over Washington

NFL Champions Give Up First Touchdown Before 22,409 Fans

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The doughty defense of the Baltimore Colts hogged the attention again Friday night even though it gave up its first touchdown of the exhibition season in a 23-10 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The Redskins didn't cross the goal until the last minute of the game in the high 30-degree temperature before 22,409 fans. The Colt defense already had scored its second touchdown in addition to a safety in three exhibition games against the college all-stars, New York Giants and Redskins.

The all-stars were blanked, and the Giants kicked a field goal.

Gino Marchetti, the Colt's all-pro defense end, who suffered a broken ankle in the title victory over the Giants last year, ran 16 yards with a recovered fumble for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage of the second half against Washington.

The other Colt defense end, Don Joyce, knocked the ball loose from Washington quarterback Eagle Day.

Coach Weeb Ewbank mixed up his backfields, first string quarterback John Unitas working with rookie halfbacks Hal Lewis and Curly Johnson of Houston and fullback Billy Pricer. They marched 70 yards for a touchdown on nine plays with the opening kickoff, the payoff coming on a six-yard pass from Unitas to rookie end Jerry Richardson of Wofford College.

Bert Rechichar kicked a 48-yard field goal for the Colts in the dead night air of the second quarter, and Washington countered with a 17-yarder by Sam Baker.

Steve Myhra booted a pair of 21 and 24 yards in the third and fourth quarters for the Colts to provide them with a comfortable 23-3 lead.

Quarterback Eddie LeBaron then moved the Redskins 95 yards for a touchdown climaxed by a 16-yard pass to halfback Jim Podoley.

Washington	0	3	0	7	—10
Baltimore	7	3	10	3	—23

Washington scoring: TD, Podoley (16, pass from LeBaron). PAT, Baker. FG, Baker (17).

Baltimore scoring: TD, Richardson (6, pass from Unitas), Marchetti (17, returned fumble). PAT, Myhra 2. FG, Rechichar (48), Myhra 2 (21, 24).

Lollar Poles Homer, Sinks Indians, 7-3

Cleveland Winning Streak Ends Before Largest Crowd

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Sherm Lollar, known as "Old Faithful" to his Chicago White Sox teammates, stretched their American League lead to 2½ games Friday night with a three run homer that beat the Cleveland Indians, 7-3, and snapped their eight-game winning streak before 70,398, largest crowd of the major league season.

The triumph behind Bob Shaw's seven-hit pitching was the White Sox's 10th in 15 meetings with the Tribe this year. It was Shaw's 14th victory against four defeats.

Ironically, the Indians may have been hurt in their pennant bid by their own popularity here. For it appeared that at least one of several thousand fans who overflowed the stands on to the grass behind the outfield fence knocked Lollar's drive out of left fielder Minnie Minoso's glove in the seventh inning just as he was about to catch it against the barrier. The ball barely dropped over the fence.

Lollar's homer, his 20th, came after reliefer Jim Grant had begun the inning by serving singles to Nellie Fox and Jim Landis. Grant, the loser, replaced starter Jack Harshman in the fifth when the Sox scored once to take a 3-2 lead.

The White Sox jumped into the lead in the fourth when Al Smith singled, advanced to second on an infield out and scored on Jim McAnany's single to left. McAnany was sacrificed to second by Shaw and came in on Luis Aparicio's single.

But the Indians pulled even on a freak play topped off by Aparicio's throwing error. With one out and Tito Francona on first, Rocky Colavito smashed a shot off third baseman Bubba Phillips' chest into short left field.

Francona reached third and Colavito second as Aparicio and second baseman Nellie Fox went after the ball. Aparicio finally threw late to second and when the ball got past first baseman Ted Kluszewski, covering the bag, both Francona and Colavito raced home. Colavito was credited with a double. Both runs became earned when George Strickland singled later in the inning.

The White Sox went ahead again, 3-2, in the fifth, finishing Harshman. A walk to Fox and Jim Landis' double brought in Grant. Lollar popped up and Kluszewski was intentionally given a walk loading the bases. But Fox scored on Smith's grounder to second before Grant retired the side.

The Indians immediately got even in their half of that frame on a walk and singles by Vic Power and Minoso. But with Power and Minoso on base with one out, Shaw escaped by forcing Francona to fly out and fanning Colavito.

Illinois Gunner Picks Up $6,500

VANDALIA, Ohio (UPI)—Clyde Bailey, a 39-year - old hog and grain farmer from Oquawaka, Ill., won the coveted Grand American Handicap trapshooting trophy Friday at the 60th Grand American Trapshoot.

Bailey, who picked up about $6,500, the Handicap Trophy and numerous other prizes, won in a shootoff with 19-year-old Harold Lippold of Omaha, Neb.

Both broke 99 out of 100 targets—Bailey from 21 yards; Lippold from 19—and were tied with 23 hits out of the first 25 targets in the shootoff. On the second 25 targets, Bailey cracked 24 out of 25 while Lippold missed four.

Cardinals Edge Cincinnati, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Joe Cunningham, hitless in four straight times at bat, smashed a dramatic two-out double in the ninth inning driving in two runs to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds here Friday night.

Cunningham, the National League's number two hitter, hadn't been able to get the ball out of the infield on his first four appearances against losing pitcher Don Newcombe. In the ninth, with Alex Grammas on second and Don Blasingame on first, he lined a two-base drive off the right field wall.

It was Newcombe's seventh defeat against 12 victories.

Old Exports, Maple Inn Reach Finals

Kennell's Mill, Hermans Ousted

A pinch homer by Bob Cessna with a teammate aboard in the 7th inning enabled Maple Inn to defeat the Corriganville Hermans yesterday by the score of 11-10 and march into the final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Homewood Tavern's Old Exports eliminated Kennell's Mill in a 3-2 nine-inning battle at Kennell's Mill and became Maple Inn's opponent in the opener of the final series Tuesday at 6 p.m., on Homewood Field.

Cessna, pinch-hitting for Carl Shaffer, homered after "Buddy" Meade tripled to give Maple Inn the decision over Corriganville in the final inning. The win gave Maple Inn a two-game sweep.

Shaffer held Corriganville to three hits but six fielding miscues by his mates kept the Hermans in the game.

Timmy Michaels hit a pair of homers for the winners and Meade hammered a round-tripper and triple.

Corriganville's hits were a double by Price and singles by Boor and Brant.

George Bishield's single to left and a three-base error enabled Homewood to score the run in the ninth inning that edged Kennell's Mill.

Junior Brelsford went the route for the league pennant winners and yielded only four hits. It was his 24th win against three losses this season.

Homewood Tavern was outhit, 9-4. Frank Scarpelli and George Bishields shared the winners' four blows while Jack Shaffer turned in a one-handed running catch in the outfield and cut down two runners at the plate with perfect throws. "Hap" Kennell clouted a triple and two singles, Joe Sager rapped a triple and Solly Emerick pounded a two-bagger for the losers. Emerick excelled in left field for Kennell's Mill. The scores:

Roberts Will Rejoin Philadelphia Today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Tests made Friday on Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies showed normal sugar tolerance and the big righthander will rejoin his teammates in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Dr. George Laquer, team physician, had ordered the follow - up tests at Temple University Hospital after a routine examination of Phillies players disclosed a trace of sugar in Roberts' system.

Dr. Laquer placed Roberts on a modified diet until he can determine what caused the abnormal showing in the preliminary test.

Doherty Says Third League Will Kill AA

Association May Lose Six Cities

DENVER (UPI)—White-haired Ed Doherty, a baseball executive with 45 years of experience, concluded Friday that the proposed third major league will kill his American Association.

But the 59-year-old Doherty refused to predict doom for the Continental League, conceding that Branch Rickey may very well carry off six Association cities.

Four have committed themselves already — Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver and Houston," Doherty said. "And Dallas and Fort Worth are likely, if they get together and build a major league park between them."

Doherty, who has the carriage and spring in his step of a man 20 years younger, has fought minor league battles in the past with vehemence.

Respects Branch Rickey

"Mr. Rickey knows a lot more about baseball and ball players than I do," the American Association president said. "I have the greatest admiration and respect for him. And they say the Continental League has sound financial backing.

"When Bob Howsam (owner of the Denver team in the association) tells me he has the backing, I believe him.

"But I can't agree with Mr. Rickey's statement that there are 200 triple A men who can play major league ball—or that a boy can work himself into stardom in a couple hundred hours of major league competition.

"There may be 80 players in triple A ball who can play in the majors. I've always thought that our four top clubs were on a par with the major leagues' second division. But what about the gap between the first and second divisions in the majors.

"The Continental League will have to start from scratch. Most of the triple A players today are owned by the majors, and the majors have most of the triple A clubs tied, up, too." Doherty said.

Clubs Financially Solvent

The 10 team American Association is already 300,000 ahead of last year's attendance. And Doherty claims all ten clubs are financially solvent. They should all be able to play next year. (The Continental League probably won't get started until 1961).

Doherty added quickly, however, that the Association could not survive with six prime cities lost to the third major league.

Doherty did not condemn the idea of a third major league.

"Maybe it's inevitable," he said. "Mr. Rickey knows a lot more about it than I do.

Pirates Cop 12th Game In 16 Played During Home Stand

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Vernon Law registered his 15th victory of the year with a five-hit, 9-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night and drove in two runs as the Pittsburgh Pirates won their 12th game in 16 played so far in the current home stand.

The muscular right hander was in command all the way as he struck out seven and didn't give up a base on balls. His victory total now is the highest he had ever recorded during his career in organized baseball.

Law cracked a bases - loaded single that produced two of the five runs the Pirates scored in the fourth inning.

The Pirates battered rookie Ed Keegan for eight runs in three and two-thirds innings while benefiting from six walks and eight of their 10 hits.

The big blows in the fourth inning were Roberto Clemente's inside-the-park homer, his fourth, and Rocky Nelson's sixth circuit clout. The two homers came with two out. Three more hits and a walk followed.

Bob Bowman, an outfielder, made his pitching debut in the sixth inning and his first pitch was blasted into the right field stands by Smoky Burgess. It was Burgess' eighth homer of the season. The Pirates catcher also collected three singles.

The Pirates had a total of nine walks and the passes started them on scoring sprees in the first and third innings.

Protests Mar First Tests In Pan-Am Games

U.S. Baseball Team Trounced; Disputes Add To Confusion

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP)—The third Pan-American Games was caught in a swirl of disputes and protests as competition opened Friday on a broad front.

Venezuela lodged a formal objection against the use of Gen. Eduardo Yanez of Chile as a judge in the equestrian events; Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico and Uruguay charged training facilities were inadequate for the modern pentathlon; and Argentina protested the lack of shells for rowing — a situation that was remedied by the arrival of a flotilla of boats.

On the field of sport, Grant Golden of Evanston, Ill., won a first round tennis match by beating Jose Ravelo of the Dominican Republic, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0; Mike Green of Miami defeated David Selley of Bermuda, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1. Myron Franks, of Miami, the third-seeded player, drew a bye in the first round and crushed John Bassett of Canada in the second, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

Foils Team Scores

The men's foils team of the United States advanced to the final pool by beating Cuba and Uruguay by identical scores, 13-3.

The protests and arguments were the almost inevitable result of staging a big sports carnival in a metropolis with far-flung training sites and the resultant difficulty of establishing tight central control.

The complaints about the modern pentathlon setup charged that there was "complete disorganization" and that it had been impossible to practice shooting. Transportation was called inadequate.

In rowing a lack of shells has hampered practice. Few of the competing nations could afford the cost of transporting the delicate boats here and at first there were not enough shells to go around. A fresh batch arrived Friday and eased the situation.

Venezuela's complaint against Gen. Yanez was that it was not fair to use him as a judge in the equestrian events since he served as a judge at the American tryouts, and in addition was in fact if not in name the head of the Chilean equestrian team.

U. S. Tossers Lose

The United States was roundly beaten in its own national sport, baseball, in the opening game of the competition. Venezuela accomplished the feat, 11-6. Jose Flores, a 158-pound first baseman, drove in four runs on three hits for the victors, including a tremendous home run six rows deep into the upper left field deck at Comiskey Park.

MacKay Wins, Olmedo Upset In Davis Cup Matches

Neale Fraser Gives Aussies First Victory

10,000 See Olmedo And Laver Beaten; Doubles Set Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, stole the thunder of his more illustrious teammate, Peruvian Alex Olmedo, Friday and hammered the United States into a split with Australia in the opening two singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round.

Under heavy pressure after Wimbledon champion Olmedo had gone down before Neale Fraser in the opener, the 6-4 Air Force private turned on an exhibition of sparkling, inspired tennis to cut down Rod Laver 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

Olmedo Is Upset

In a staggering upset which shook the favored American team Fraser, his lefthanded service coming off his racket like cannon shots, whipped an off-form Olmedo in a two hour, 19-minute duel 8-6, 6-8, 6-4, 8-6.

The crowd of 10,000, which sat almost boredly through the opening match, rose to its feet repeatedly to cheer MacKay's powerful performance.

Doubles Set Today

The opening day split throws added importance on Saturday's doubles match which sends Australia's Wimbledon and U. S. champions, Fraser and Roy Emerson, against the makeshift U.S. team of Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr., of St. Louis.

At 18, Buchholz is the youngest player ever to compete in the challenge round. Nevertheless, it was his spectacular serving and volleying performance which carried Fraser and Emerson to five sets in the U.S. final last weekend at Brookline, Mass.

Decision Due Sunday

Decision in this 16th straight challenge round meeting between the United States and Australia now must go to the final day, Sunday, when Olmedo plays Laver and MacKay meets Fraser in the final singles. Victory goes to the winner of three of the five matches.

Olmedo, the lend-lease Inca from Arequipa, was supposed to be the Savior of the Davis Cup this year for Uncle Sam. But that honor Friday went to MacKay, a slashing, reckless cannonballer who suddenly has found finesse.

The crew-cut midwesterner — who will be 24 Monday and who will get out of the Air Force three days later — played with little caution against Laver but he had the delicate shot when he needed it and his all-around count play was brilliant.

Lloyd Jordan Will Succeed Wallace Wade

Named Southern Conference Head

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Former Harvard Coach Lloyd Jordan Friday was named commissioner for the Southern Conference, succeeding the retiring Wallace Wade.

The 58-year-old Jordan's selection was made by a committee of faculty representatives from the 9-member conference. He would receive a reported annual salary of about $10,000.

Jordan, who coached 17 years at Amherst College before taking over at Harvard, won 24 games, lost 31 and played three ties at Harvard before leaving in 1957.

Jordan will take over as head of the conference about the first of the year but it was understood he would spend some time with Wade, former Duke coach, prior to them in getting oriented.

Wade, 67, announced last May 1 he wanted to step down, effective Dec. 31, 1959, after nearly 10 years at the helm.

Wade cited his age and said it was time a younger man took over the conference whose teams are West Virginia, Virginia Tech, William and Mary, Davidson, Furman, The Citadel, Richmond, George Washington and Birginia Military Institute.

Wade, of Durham, N. C. where he maintains his office, said he had considered the step for some time.

He was a former coach at Alabama and led his Duke teams to 1939 and 1942 Rose Bowls, losing to Southern California and Oregon State.

Moorefield Hosts Belington Sunday In Series Opener

Moorefield's pennant winning All-Stars will meet Belington on Sunday in the opening game of the playoffs in the Mountain State Baseball League at 2 p.m., EST., in Moorefield.

The Hardy County team won the regular season championship with a 12-0 record while Belington finished the season in third place.

Gordon Raines won six games, Harold Mongold notched five wins and Randall Raines scored one victory for Moorefield during the regular season schedule.

Moorefield holds two decisions over Belington, 11-1 and 7-4. The other wins were registered at the expense of Century 13-3 and 2-1; Medium Security Prison 11-6 and 17-3; Mill Creek 12-0 and 8-2; Moatsville 13-1 and 24-1, Elkins 15-6 and Franklin 17-3.

Century wound up the season in second place but will be idle Sunday as Mill Creek and Elkins closed their regular schedule tied for fourth place with 7-6 records and they'll meet Sunday at Hutonsville to determine the winner of that position for the playoffs. The winner of the Mill Creek-Elkins game will play Century in their series opener September 6.

Both semi-final playoff series will be best-of-three games.

Fort Ashby Stock Car Racing Card Is Reset Tonight

Rain washed out the stock car races last night at the Potomac Valley Speedway at Fort Ashby, W. Va., and the program of six events has been rescheduled for today at 8 p.m., it was announced by Promoter Jim Raupach.

There will be five 10-lap heat races and a final of twenty laps.

Raupach also announced that Charley Armel, professional flagman of Winchester, Va., will be the official starter for tonight's races.

Elroy Face Beaten, 1-0, But It Was All In Fun

Lone Run Is Result Of Four Errors In Exhibition Affair

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Relief ace Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates "lost" his first game of the season Friday night — but it was all in fun and won't interrupt his amazing 21 - game winning streak.

The "defeat" came in an exhibition game (?) between a team of local newspapermen and players from a radio-tv station that preceded the regularly-scheduled Pirate game against Philadelphia.

With the game scoreless, Paul (Win-'em-all) Kurtz, a sportswriter for the Pittsburgh Press who managed his team, decided to replace pitcher Fred (Slo - motion) Landucci.

Motioning to the bullpen, Kurtz waved in—of all people—No. 26, Elroy Face.

The first batter to oppose Face was Sterling Yates of the KDKA radio and TV team. Yates tapped a roller along the first base line and circled the bases as four errors were made on the play. The final score: 1-0.

As Face walked from the mound, tears streamed down his cheeks. But that also was rigged. He had a wet sponge under his plastic helmet.

SCORE DAVIS CUP WINS — Barry MacKay, left, of the United States, and Neale Fraser, of Australia, won the opening singles matches as the U. S. opened defense of the Davis Cup on the tennis courts yesterday at Forest Hills, N. Y. MacKay of Dayton whipped Rod Laver, 7-5, 6-4 and 6-1 to salvage a 1-1 tie after Fraser had won over Alex Olmedo, 8-6, 6-8, 6-4 and 8-6. The best-of-five series concludes with one doubles match today and two singles tests on Sunday.

VFW Defeat Moose, 8-1, Cop R.C. Playoff Crown

Pennant Winners Make Sweep 4th Straight Season

The Veterans of Foreign Wars won the playoff crown in the Rocking Chair Softball League for the second straight year by defeating the Loyal Order of Moose yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 8 to 1 in the fourth game of their scheduled best-of-five series.

After the Moose won the opening game, 2-1, the Vets wrapped it up by sweeping the next three games, 6-2, 9-4 and 8-1.

Manager Cecil Grimes' team won the regular season championship with a 17-5 record, finishing three games in front of the B.P.O. Elks.

Before defeating the Moose, the Vets eliminated the Knights of Columbus in the playoff semi-finals, two games to one.

Most of the players on the current V.F.W. team made a sweep years in a row. In 1956 and 1957 of the pennant and playoffs four they played under the banner of the Cumberland Outdoor Club and in 1958 and 1959 they represented Henry Hart Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Seven players with all four teams were Ted Durbin, Vern Penner, San Brady, Charley Day, "Butch" Johnson, Floyd "Pete" Elliott and Cecil Grimes. Jimmy Eckard, Phil Reuschel, Ronnie Cage, Glenn Kauffman and "Beef" Corbin were the other players on this year's championship squad.

The Vets hammered the offerings of Dick Klavuhn for 13 safeties in yesterday's game. Penner rapped three doubles, Durbin garnered three singles, Reuschel slammed a two-run homer and double and Eckard and Day obtained two singles each.

Bob Keyser's homer in the fourth inning averted a shutout for the Moose. The two other hits yielded by Elliott were singles by Fradiska and Cecil. Elliott scored two of the three wins in the final playoff series while Glenn Kauffman won one and lost one.

Lonaconing Tops Barton Braves, 11-2

Victors Grab 2-1 Lead In Series

Lonaconing took a 2-1 lead in Twilight Baseball League final playoff series by walloping the Barton Braves yesterday at Barton by the score of 11-2.

Wayne Johnson turned back the regular season champions with four hits while his teammates jumped on Lou Fazenbaker and Ronald "Butch" Young for ten safeties and handed the former his first defeat of the season. Fazenbaker had a 12-0 record going into yesterday's game.

Everett Spiker and Curtis Johnson sparked the 'Coney assault with three hits hit. Spiker slammed a two-run homer, two-bagger and single while Hank Winner garnered a pair of singles and Bill Richmond belted a triple.

Barton's four hits were singles by Mike Muir, Young, Woody Symons and "Buck" Smith.

In seven meetings this year Lonaconing had beaten Barton four times, splitting even with the Braves at two-all during the regular campaign.

The fourth game of the best-of-five series is billed for Monday at 5:30 p.m. at Barton with Lonaconing playing the role of the home team. Yesterday's score:

Lonaconing	000 074 0—11	10	1

Ridgeley Legion Wins, Red Shield Ties Caseys, 5-5

Ridgeley American Legion nosed out the National Guard, 4-3, at Naval Reserve Field, and the Knights of Columbus battled Red Shield to a 5-5 deadlock in 10 innings at Fort Hill Field in Men's Rec Softball League games staged yesterday.

Ridgeley tightened its grip on second place in the American Division with a 20-5 record, and could tie the Old Germans (21-5) for the lead if victorious over Whitacre's Grocery in the final game. The Caseys hold third place (19-6) with one game left to play.

Bill Kenney notched his 19th win of the season at the expense of the Guards. He also had two of his team's six hits while Ed Barley smacked a two-bagger. Wilt banged a two-run double for the losers.

Whitey Slonaker and Jerry Loibel hooked up in a pitchers' battle as the Knights and Red Shield battled to a 5-5 stalemate.

Loibel collected a homer and single and Dick Garlitz and Jerry Farrell had singles each for the Caseys. O'Neal garnered two safeties and Smith slammed a triple for Red Shield.

Schenectady Takes LL Consolation, 1-0

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—Stan Stringman spoiled Art Doo's bid for a no-hitter Friday by singling in the sixth and final inning and eventually stealing home to give Schenectady, N. Y., a 1-0 victory over Oahu, Hawaii, in a Little League World Series consolation game.

Doo had blanked Schenectady with no hits when he faced Stringman in the bottom of the sixth. The Schenectady second baseman singled to left and moved to second on Mike McGarry's sacrifice. He advanced to third on Doug Wilkins' force-out and then stole home for the game's only run.

Leffingwell's 215 Sets Pace In Jaycee Golf

Gerringer Trails By Three Strokes

Stephen L. Johnson, 14-year-old Cumberland golfer, shot a 37-38—75, five above par, in the third 18-hole round of the International Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament yesterday at Portsmouth, Va., and moved into today's last round of medal play with 54-hole total of 240.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI) — Fritz Leffingwell Jr., the 17-year-old putting whiz from Miami Shores, Fla., shot a two-over-par 72 Friday to hold a three-stroke lead in the 14th International Jaycees Junior golf championship.

The Florida state junior champion has put together rounds of 69-74-72—215 over the Elizabeth Manor Country Club course to pace a field of 100 contenders after 54 holes.

In second place at 218 was medalist Ronnie Gerringer of Newport News, Va., who shot the day's best round—a one-over-par 71. Maury Finkelstein of Savannah, Ga., was next with a three-round total of 220.

Wright Garrett of Danville, Va., medalist in the Eastern Amateur tournament here two weeks ago, spiraled to a 76 to fall far back with a 221.

Garrett was tied for fourth with four other teen-age competitors—Jimmy Gabrielson, Athens, Ga.; Ronald Smith, Manchester, Conn.; Steve Opperman, Millbrae, Calif.; and Lynn Yturri, Ontario, Oregon.

The week-long championship tournament winds up Saturday with the final 18 holes.

Cross Channel Cops Saratoga Feature Race

Daring Heart Pays $173.90 In Seventh

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI)—Cross Channel raced to a five and one-half length victory Friday in the $28,100 Merchants and Citizens Handicap at Saratoga despite a sudden shower that made the going sloppy.

Daring Heart established the top payoff for the current meeting, paying $173.90 for $2 in the seventh race. The two-year-old colt returned $33.00 for place and $10.80 for show.

It was no contest after jockey Manuel Ycaza moved Cross Channel to the front at the end of a half-mile. The bay gelding carried a three-length margin to the top of the stretch and then opened a wide gap to finish the mile and three-quarter event in 2:56, a second off the track mark set by Reigh Count in 1928.

Inside Tract, starting slowly, finished two lengths ahead of Barroco for second place.

Cross Channel, winning his first stakes event of the year, picked up a purse of $17,965, almost three times greater than the $6,625 he earned in eight previous starts this year. His victory Friday paid backers $6.60, $4.50 and $3.00 across the board.

Mt. Savage Playoffs Will Open Tuesday

Playoffs in the Mt. Savage Little League will get under way Tuesday, September 1 with the Braves and Orioles slated to clash at 5:30 p.m.

The Pirates and Yankees will clash Thursday, Sept. 3 at 5:30.

Winners will meet in the opener of a best-of-three games series Sunday, Sept. 6. The second game is carded for Sept. 9 and the third game, if necessary, is set for Sunday, Sept. 13.

A donkey baseball game for the benefit of the league is scheduled for tomorrow at 3 p.m. The VFW Sad Sacks and Little League Duds will meet in this game.

Pen-Mar Baseball Race Draws To Close Sunday

Barrelville Seeks 15 In Row; Tie For 4th Place Possible

Rained out last Sunday, the Barrelville Old Exports, pennant winners in the Pen-Mar Baseball League, will make another try to extend their winning streak to 14 games to equal their 1956 high when they host Mt. Savage today at 4 p.m.

The league season ends on Sunday with Barrelville at Wellersburg, Flintstone at Grantsville, Salisbury at Centerville and Mt. Savage at Hyndman.

If Barrelville wins today, Manager "Buck" Fiorita's club will be gunning for 15 wins in a row on Sunday at Wellersburg.

Barrelville has won three games in a row from Mt. Savage, 5-3, 2-0 and 6-0 and has beaten Wellersburg three times, 12-1, 3-2 and 7-6 in 11 innings. The Old Exports have swept four game series from Centerville 3-1, 7-1, 11-6 and 7-4; Grantsville 1-0, 7-1, 8-1 and 6-3; Flintstone 13-0, 6-1, 14-3 and 6-0, won three out of four games from Hyndman and split even in four games with the Salisoury Cardinals for a 23-3 record to date.

Salisbury and Grantsville are tied for third place at 14-13 as the campaign reaches an end tomorrow. Centerville is a half game behind with 13 wins and 14 losses.

Grantsville figures to hand Flintstone its ninth straight loss and clinch third place for the playoffs. The Garrett Countians have beaten the Farmers twice, 13-3 and 9-0, and lost once, 7-1, at Flintstone.

Centerville must defeat Salisbury to tie the latter for fourth place and force a playoff for that position. The Cardinals have beaten the Reds in three straight games, 14-5, 4-2 and 12-1, and Mel Nee's club is hopeful of upsetting the dope tomorrow.

Mt. Savage has a long shot chance of tying for fourth place at 14-14 but it must whip Barrelville and Hyndman on successive days to attain that goal.

All Sunday games are scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p.m.

Barbara McIntire And Joanne Goodwin To Play For Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barbara Mc Intire pulled off another comeback Friday and shoved her way with slick shooting Joanne Goodwin into the finals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Mc Intire, 24, of Lake Park, Fla., rallied from 3 down after nine holes to beat Mrs. Paul Klinefelter, 31-year-old Philadelphia housewife, 1-up on the 19th at Congressional Country Club.

Before Miss Mc Intire won that grueling semifinal, Miss Goodwin, 23, of Haverhill, Mass., had polished off Mrs. Dorothy Germain Porter of Westmont, N.J., 7 and 6.

Mrs. Porter won the national championship in 1949 — but at age 35, 10 years later wasn't a match for Joanne's lethal game.

Miss Goodwin, a pretty wisp of a brunette, outclassed Mrs. Porter. The ex-champion outdrove Joanne through the front nine but was unable to exploit her gunshots from the tee.

Capon Bridge Win Sunday Would Tie Rockets For Lead

Needing one victory to tie Springfield and force a playoff game for the pennant, Capon Bridge hopes to attain that goal Sunday when it winds up its regular schedule by tackling 7th place Timber Ridge in a Hampshire County Baseball League game at Timber Ridge at 2 p.m., EST.

Springfield's Rockets wound up their regular schedule last Sunday with an 11-3 record. Capon Bridge trails by a half game with 10 wins and three losses.

A victory for Timber Ridge tomorrow would give Springfield the regular season championship.

Bo Wininger Leads Miller Open Tourney

Shoots Sub-Par 65 For Total Of 131

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Bo Wininger, of Odessa, Tex., who hasn't won a major tournament for three years, shot a 5-under-par 65 Friday to take the second round lead in the $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament.

Combined with Thursday's round of 66 for a 131 total, Wininger's two sub-par rounds were good for a one-stroke lead over Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla. and Doug Ford, Crystal River, Fla., who were tied with 132s.

Wininger, 36, who recently announced he was going to cut his tournaments to ten a year, said, "Boy it's been a long time since you boys have come to see me," when reporters approached following his round.

Bogeyed Ninth Hole

Wininger bogeyed the ninth hole when he pitched over the green but had six birdies to make up for it. On the par three fifth hole he sank a 35-foot putt.

Wininger has been a consistent money winner, taking about $50,000 in prizes the last three years, although he has not won since the Kansas City Open of 1956.

Two strokes off the pace were David Hill, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., with 133s.

Ford, who has been among the top ten money winners every year since 1951, fired his second straight 66. Sanders got out of a bad lie behind a tree on the 17th hole to come in with a 67 to go with his 65 of Thursday.

Cooper Slips To 71

Thursday's leader, Pete Cooper, Lakeland, Fla., slipped to a 71 after his first-round score of 64. Defending champion Cary Middlecoff, Hollywood, Fla., was way back in the pack with an 18-hole total of 143.

Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., shot the lowest round of the day, a 6-under-par 64, by virtue of a sizzling 30 on the back nine holes that included an eagle on the par five 11th hole.

Rain forced the interruption of play with about two-thirds of the field of 137 pros and amateurs finished. Rain and wind also hampered the golfers Thursday.

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., the 1958 Master's winner who has never had much success in Miller Open competition, shot a 1-under-par 69, but combined with his 73 of Thursday, was left 11 strokes behind the leader with a 142.

Burdette Posts Victory No. 18 Over Cubs, 9-3

Adcock, Crandall, Aaron Hit Homers

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves exploded for 14 hits Friday, including homeruns by Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Del Crandall, to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-3 and help Lew Burdette score his 18th mound victory of the season.

The busy Burdette, taking a 17-13 mark into his 32nd start of the campaign, gave up eight hits over the route. But Burdette had a nine-run cushion going into the sixth inning when the Cubs scored for the first time on George Altman's two-run homer.

The Braves scored at least once in each of the first four frames, chasing cubs starter Bob Anderson in the third after Crandall belted his 16th homerun with Johnny Logan on base.

Bobby Avila, who singled three times and scored three runs, started Milwaukee's scoring in the first inning when he singled and stole second base. He moved to third when Aaron grounded into a force play and he and Aaron both scored on Frank Torre's single.

Avila singled and scored on Eddie Mathews' double in the second inning and crossed the plate for the third time on Adcock's sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Adcock led off the third inning with his 20th homerun and Aaron belted his 34th of the year in the fourth inning off reliever Johnny Buzhardt. Burdette, beaten four times in six 1959 decisions with the Cubs, was never in danger. The Cubs touched him for their third run in the seventh inning on a pair of singles around a stolen base but the veteran righthander yielded only one hit in the next two innings to complete his 17th game of the year.

Brown Gets Award

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ray Brown was given the annual award Friday night of the sports boosters of Maryland as the best rookie on the Baltimore Colts last season.

Brown was voted the award in a poll of sports writers and broadcasters who covered the championship Colts last year.

Brown played defensive back, intercepting eight passes and punted for the Colts in his first year in the National Football League.

Coach Weeb Ewbank also is developing him this year at his old Mississippi position of offensive quarterback.

MacKay Wins, Olmedo Upset In Davis Cup Matches

Neale Fraser Gives Aussies First Victory

10,000 See Olmedo And Laver Beaten; Doubles Set Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, stole the thunder of his more illustrious teammate, Peruvian Alex Olmedo, Friday and hammered the United States into a split with Australia in the opening two singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round.

Under heavy pressure after Wimbledon champion Olmedo had gone down before Neale Fraser in the opener, the 6-4 Air Force private turned on an exhibition of sparkling, inspired tennis to cut down Rod Laver 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

Olmedo Is Upset

In a staggering upset which shook the favored American team Fraser, his lefthanded service coming off his racket like cannon shots, whipped an off-form Olmedo in a two hour, 19-minute duel 8-6, 6-8, 6-4, 8-6.

The crowd of 10,000, which sat almost boredly through the opening match, rose to its feet repeatedly to cheer MacKay's powerful performance.

Doubles Set Today

The opening day split throws added importance on Saturday's doubles match which sends Australia's Wimbledon and U. S. champions, Fraser and Roy Emerson, against the makeshift U.S. team of Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr., of St. Louis.

At 18, Buchholz is the youngest player ever to compete in the challenge round. Nevertheless, it was his spectacular serving and volleying performance which carried Fraser and Emerson to five sets in the U.S. final last weekend at Brookline, Mass.

Decision Due Sunday

Decision in this 16th straight challenge round meeting between the United States and Australia now must go to the final day, Sunday, when Olmedo plays Laver and MacKay meets Fraser in the final singles. Victory goes to the winner of three of the five matches.

Olmedo, the lend-lease Inca from Arequipa, was supposed to be the Savior of the Davis Cup this year for Uncle Sam. But that honor Friday went to MacKay, a slashing, reckless cannonballer who suddenly has found finesse.

The crew-cut midwesterner — who will be 24 Monday and who will get out of the Air Force three days later — played with little caution against Laver but he had the delicate shot when he needed it and his all-around count play was brilliant.

Lloyd Jordan Will Succeed Wallace Wade

Named Southern Conference Head

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Former Harvard Coach Lloyd Jordan Friday was named commissioner for the Southern Conference, succeeding the retiring Wallace Wade.

The 58-year-old Jordan's selection was made by a committee of faculty representatives from the 9-member conference. He would receive a reported annual salary of about $10,000.

Jordan, who coached 17 years at Amherst College before taking over at Harvard, won 24 games, lost 31 and played three ties at Harvard before leaving in 1957.

Jordan will take over as head of the conference about the first of the year but it was understood he would spend some time with Wade, former Duke coach, prior to them in getting oriented.

Wade, 67, announced last May 1 he wanted to step down, effective Dec. 31, 1959, after nearly 10 years at the helm.

Wade cited his age and said it was time a younger man took over the conference whose teams are West Virginia, Virginia Tech, William and Mary, Davidson, Furman, The Citadel, Richmond, George Washington and Birginia Military Institute.

Wade, of Durham, N. C. where he maintains his office, said he had considered the step for some time.

He was a former coach at Alabama and led his Duke teams to 1939 and 1942 Rose Bowls, losing to Southern California and Oregon State.

Moorefield Hosts Belington Sunday In Series Opener

Moorefield's pennant winning All-Stars will meet Belington on Sunday in the opening game of the playoffs in the Mountain State Baseball League at 2 p.m., EST., in Moorefield.

The Hardy County team won the regular season championship with a 12-0 record while Belington finished the season in third place.

Gordon Raines won six games, Harold Mongold notched five wins and Randall Raines scored one victory for Moorefield during the regular season schedule.

Moorefield holds two decisions over Belington, 11-1 and 7-4. The other wins were registered at the expense of Century 13-3 and 2-1; Medium Security Prison 11-6 and 17-3; Mill Creek 12-0 and 8-2; Moatsville 13-1 and 24-1, Elkins 15-6 and Franklin 17-3.

Century wound up the season in second place but will be idle Sunday as Mill Creek and Elkins closed their regular schedule tied for fourth place with 7-6 records and they'll meet Sunday at Huttonsville to determine the winner of that position for the playoffs. The winner of the Mill Creek-Elkins game will play Century in their series opener September 6.

Both semi-final playoff series will be best-of-three games.

Fort Ashby Stock Car Racing Card Is Reset Tonight

Rain washed out the stock car races last night at the Potomac Valley Speedway at Fort Ashby, W. Va., and the program of six events has been rescheduled for today at 8 p.m., it was announced by Promoter Jim Raupach.

There will be five 10-lap heat races and a final of twenty laps.

Raupach also announced that Charley Armel, professional flagman of Winchester, Va., will be the official starter for tonight's races.

Elroy Face Beaten, 1-0, But It Was All In Fun

Lone Run Is Result Of Four Errors In Exhibition Affair

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Relief ace Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates "lost" his first game of the season Friday night — but it was all in fun and won't interrupt his amazing 21 - game winning streak.

The "defeat" came in an exhibition game (?) between a team of local newspapermen and players from a radio-tv station that preceded the regularly-scheduled Pirate game against Philadelphia.

With the game scoreless, Paul (Win-'em-all) Kurtz, a sportswriter for the Pittsburgh Press who managed his team, decided to replace pitcher Fred (Slo - motion) Landucci.

Motioning to the bullpen, Kurtz waved in—of all people—No. 26, Elroy Face.

The first batter to oppose Face was Sterling Yates of the KDKA radio and TV team. Yates tapped a roller along the first base line and circled the bases as four errors were made on the play. The final score: 1-0.

As Face walked from the mound, tears streamed down his cheeks. But that also was rigged. He had a wet sponge under his plastic helmet.

SCORE DAVIS CUP WINS — Barry MacKay, left, of the United States, and Neale Fraser, of Australia, won the opening singles matches as the U. S. opened defense of the Davis Cup on the tennis courts yesterday at Forest Hills, N. Y. MacKay of Dayton whipped Rod Laver, 7-5, 6-4 and 6-1 to salvage a 1-1 tie after Fraser had won over Alex Olmedo, 8-6, 6-8, 6-4 and 8-6. The best-of-five series concludes with one doubles match today and two singles tests on Sunday.

VFW Defeat Moose, 8-1, Cop R.C. Playoff Crown

Pennant Winners Make Sweep 4th Straight Season

The Veterans of Foreign Wars won the playoff crown in the Rocking Chair Softball League for the second straight year by defeating the Loyal Order of Moose yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 8 to 1 in the fourth game of their scheduled best-of-five series.

After the Moose won the opening game, 2-1, the Vets wrapped it up by sweeping the next three games, 6-2, 9-4 and 8-1.

Manager Cecil Grimes' team won the regular season championship with a 17-5 record, finishing three games in front of the B.P.O. Elks.

Before defeating the Moose, the Vets eliminated the Knights of Columbus in the playoff semi-finals, two games to one.

Most of the players on the curren' V.F.W. team made a sweep years in a row. In 1956 and 1957 of the pennant and playoffs four they played under the banner of the Cumberland Outdoor Club and in 1958 and 1959 they represented Henry Hart Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Seven players with all four teams were Ted Durbin, Vern Penner, San Brady, Charley Day, "Butch" Johnson, Floyd "Pete" Elliott and Cecil Grimes. Jimmy Eckard, Phil Reuschel, Ronnie Cage, Glenn Kauffman and "Beef" Corbin were the other players on this ye r's championship squad.

The Vets hammered the offerings of Dick Klavuhn for 13 safeties in yesterday's game. Penner rapped three doubles, Durbin garnered three singles, Reuschel slammed a two-run homer and double and Eckard and Day obtained two singles each.

Bob Keyser's homer in the fourth inning averted a shutout for the Moose. The two other hits yielded by Elliott were singles by Fradiska and Cecil. Elliott scored two of the three wins in the final playoff series while Glenn Kauffman won one and lost one.

Ridgeley Legion Wins, Red Shield Ties Caseys, 5-5

Ridgeley American Legion nosed out the National Guard, 4-3, at Naval Reserve Field, and the Knights of Columbus battled Red Shield to a 5-5 deadlock in 10 innings at Fort Hill Field in Men's Rec Softball League games staged yesterday.

Ridgeley tightened its grip on second place in the American Division with a 20-5 record, and could tie the Old Germans (21-5) for the lead if victorious over Whitacre's Grocery in the final game. The Caseys hold third place (19-6) with one game left to play.

Bill Kenney notched his 19th win of the season at the expense of the Guards. He also had two of his team's six hits while Ed Barley smacked a two-bagger. Wilt banged a two-run doubie for the losers.

Whitey Slonaker and Jerry Loibel hooked up in a pitchers' battle as the Knights and Red Shield battled to a 5-5 stalemate.

Loibel collected a homer and single and Dick Garlitz and Jerry Farrell had singles each for the Caseys. O'Neal garnered two safeties and Smith slammed a triple for Red Shield.

Lonaconing Tops Barton Braves, 11-2

Victors Grab 2-1 Lead In Series

Lonaconing took a 2-1 lead in Twilight Baseball League final playoff series by walloping the Barton Braves yesterday at Barton by the score of 11-2.

Wayne Johnson turned back the regular season champions with four hits while his teammates jumped on Lou Fazenbaker and Ronald "Butch" Young for ten safeties and handed the former his first defeat of the season. Fazenbaker had a 12-0 record going into yesterday's game.

Everett Spiker and Curtis Johnson sparked the 'Coney assault with three hits hit. Spiker slammed a two-run homer, two-bagger and single while Hank Winner garnered a pair of singles and Bill Richmond belted a triple.

Barton's four hits were singles by Mike Muir, Young, Woody Symons and "Buck" Smith.

In seven meetings this year Lonaconing had beaten Barton four times, splitting even with the Braves at two-all during the regular campaign.

The fourth game of the best-of-five series is billed for Monday at 5:30 p.m. at Barton with Lonaconing playing the role of the home team. Yesterday's score:

Lonaconing	000	074	0—11	10	1

Schenectady Takes LL Consolation, 1-0

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—Stan Stringman spoiled Art Doo's bid for a no-hitter Friday by singling in the sixth and final inning and eventually stealing home to give Schenectady, N. Y., a 1-0 victory over Oahu, Hawaii, in a Little League World Series consolation game.

Doo had blanked Schenectady with no hits when he faced Stringman in the bottom of the sixth. The Schenectady second baseman singled to left and moved to second on Mike McGarry's sacrifice. He advanced to third on Doug Wilkins' force-out and then stole home for the game's only run.

Leffingwell's 215 Sets Pace In Jaycee Golf

Gerringer Trails By Three Strokes

Stephen L. Johnson, 14-year-old Cumberland golfer, shot a 37-38—75, five above par, in the third 18-hole round of the International Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament yesterday at Portsmouth, Va., and moved into today's last round of medal play with 54-hole total of 240.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI) — Fritz Leffingwell Jr., the 17-year-old putting whiz from Miami Shores, Fla., shot a two-over-par 72 Friday to hold a three-stroke lead in the 14th International Jaycees Junior golf championship.

The Florida state junior champion has put together rounds of 69-74-72—215 over the Elizabeth Manor Country Club course to pace a field of 100 contenders after 54 holes.

In second place at 218 was medalist Ronnie Gerringer of Newport News, Va., who shot the day's best round—a one-over-par 71. Maury Finkelstein of Savannah, Ga., was next with a three-round total of 220.

Wright Garrett of Danville, Va., medalist in the Eastern Amateur tournament here two weeks ago, spiraled to a 76 to fall far back with a 221.

Garrett was tied for fourth with four other teen-age competitors—Jimmy Gabrielson, Athens, Ga.; Ronald Smith, Manchester, Conn.; Steve Opperman, Millbrae, Calif.; and Lynn Yturri, Ontario, Oregon.

The week-long championship tournament winds up Saturday with the final 18 holes.

Cross Channel Cops Saratoga Feature Race

Daring Heart Pays $173.90 In Seventh

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI)—Cross Channel raced to a five and one-half length victory Friday in the $28,100 Merchants and Citizens Handicap at Saratoga despite a sudden shower that made the going sloppy.

Daring Heart established the top payoff for the current meeting, paying $173.90 for $2 in the seventh race. The two-year-old colt returned $33.00 for place and $10.80 for show.

It was no contest after jockey Manuel Ycaza moved Cross Channel to the front at the end of a half-mile. The bay gelding carried a three-length margin to the top of the stretch and then opened a wide gap to finish the mile and three-quarter event in 2:56, a second off the track mark set by Reigh Count in 1928.

Inside Tract, starting slowly, finished two lengths ahead of Barroco for second place.

Cross Channel, winning his first stakes event of the year, picked up a purse of $17,965, almost three times greater than the $6,625 he earned in eight previous starts this year. His victory Friday paid backers $6.60, $4.50 and $3.00 across the board.

Mt. Savage Playoffs Will Open Tuesday

Playoffs in the Mt. Savage Little League will get under way Tuesday, September 1 with the Braves and Orioles slated to clash at 5:30 p.m.

The Pirates and Yankees will clash Thursday, Sept. 3 at 5:30.

Winners will meet in the opener of a best-of-three games series Sunday, Sept. 6. The second game is carded for Sept. 9 and the third game, if necessary, is set for Sunday, Sept. 13.

A donkey baseball game for the benefit of the league is scheduled for tomorrow at 3 p.m. The VFW Sad Sacks and Little League Duds will meet in this game.

Pen-Mar Baseball Race Draws To Close Sunday

Barrelville Seeks 15 In Row; Tie For 4th Place Possible

Rained out last Sunday, the Barrelville Old Exports, pennant winners in the Pen-Mar Baseball League, will make another try to extend their winning streak to 14 games to equal their 1956 high when they host Mt. Savage today at 4 p.m.

The league season ends on Sunday with Barrelville at Wellersburg, Flintstone at Grantsville, Salisbury at Centerville and Mt. Savage at Hyndman.

If Barrelville wins today, Manager "Buck" Fiorita's club will be gunning for 15 wins in a row on Sunday at Wellersburg.

Barrelville has won three games in a row from Mt. Savage, 5-3, 2-0 and 6-0 and has beaten Wellersburg three times, 12-1, 3-2 and 7-6 in 11 innings. The Old Exports have swept four game series from Centerville 3-1, 7-1, 11-6 and 7-4; Grantsville 1-0, 7-1, 8-1 and 6-3; Flintstone 13-0, 6-1, 14-3 and 6-0, won three out of four games from Hyndman and split even in four games with the Salisoury Cardinals for a 23-3 record to date.

Salisbury and Grantsville are tied for third place at 14-13 as the campaign reaches an end tomorrow. Centerville is a half game behind with 13 wins and 14 losses.

Grantsville figures to hand Flintstone its ninth straight loss and clinch third place for the playoffs. The Garrett Countians have beaten the Farmers twice, 13-3 and 9-0, and lost once, 7-1, at Flintstone.

Centerville must defeat Salisbury to tie the latter for fourth place and force a playoff for that position. The Cardinals have beaten the Reds in three straight games, 14-5, 4-2 and 12-1, and Mel Nee's club is hopeful of upsetting the dope tomorrow.

Mt. Savage has a long shot chance of tying for fourth place at 14-14 but it must whip Barrelville and Hyndman on successive days to attain that goal.

All Sunday games are scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p.m.

Barbara McIntire And Joanne Goodwin To Play For Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barbara Mc Intire pulled off another comeback Friday and shoved her way with slick shooting Joanne Goodwin into the finals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Mc Intire, 24, of Lake Park, Fla., rallied from 3 down after nine holes to beat Mrs. Paul Klinefelter, 31-year-old Philadelphia housewife, 1-up on the 19th at Congressional Country Club.

Before Miss Mc Intire won that grueling semifinal, Miss Goodwin, 23, of Haverhill, Mass., had polished off Mrs. Dorothy Germain Porter of Westmont, N.J., 7 and 6.

Mrs. Porter won the national championship in 1949 — but at age 35, 10 years later wasn't a match for Joanne's lethal game.

Miss Goodwin, a pretty wisp of a brunette, outclassed Mrs. Porter. The ex-champion outdrove Joanne through the front nine but was unable to exploit her gunshots from the tee.

Capon Bridge Win Sunday Would Tie Rockets For Lead

Needing one victory to tie Springfield and force a playoff game for the pennant, Capon Bridge hopes to attain that goal Sunday when it winds up its regular schedule by tackling 7th place Timber Ridge in a Hampshire County Baseball League game at Timber Ridge at 2 p.m., EST.

Springfield's Rockets wound up their regular schedule last Sunday with an 11-3 record. Capon Bridge trails by a half game with 10 wins and three losses.

A victory for Timber Ridge tomorrow would give Springfield the regular season championship.

Bo Wininger Leads Miller Open Tourney

Shoots Sub-Par 65 For Total Of 131

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Bo Wininger, of Odessa, Tex., who hasn't won a major tournament for three years, shot a 5-under-par 65 Friday to take the second round lead in the $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament.

Combined with Thursday's round of 66 for a 131 total, Wininger's two sub-par rounds were good for a one-stroke lead over Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla. and Doug Ford, Crystal River, Fla., who were tied with 132s.

Wininger, 36, who recently announced he was going to cut his tournaments to ten a year, said, "Boy it's been a long time since you boys have come to see me," when reporters approached following his round.

Bogeyed Ninth Hole

Wininger bogeyed the ninth hole when he pitched over the green but had six birdies to make up for it. On the par three fifth hole he sank a 35-foot putt.

Wininger has been a consistent money winner, taking about $50,000 in prizes the last three years, although he has not won since the Kansas City Open of 1956.

Two strokes off the pace were David Hill, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., with 133s.

Ford, who has been among the top ten money winners every year since 1951, fired his second straight 66. Sanders got out of a bad lie behind a tree on the 17th hole to come in with a 67 to go with his 65 of Thursday.

Cooper Slips To 71

Thursday's leader, Pete Cooper, Lakeland, Fla., slipped to a 71 after his first-round score of 64. Defending champion Cary Middlecoff, Hollywood, Fla., was way back in the pack with an 18-hole total of 143.

Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., shot the lowest round of the day, a 6-under-par 64, by virtue of a sizzling 30 on the back nine holes that included an eagle on the par five 11th hole.

Rain forced the interruption of play with about two-thirds of the field of 137 pros and amateurs finished. Rain and wind also hampered the golfers Thursday.

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., the 1958 Master's winner who has never had much success in Miller Open competition, shot a 1-under-par 69, but combined with his 73 of Thursday, was left 11 strokes behind the leader with a 142.

Burdette Posts Victory No. 18 Over Cubs, 9-3

Adcock, Crandall, Aaron Hit Homers

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves exploded for 14 hits Friday, including homeruns by Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Del Crandall, to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-3 and help Lew Burdette score his 18th mound victory of the season.

The busy Burdette, taking a 17-13 mark into his 32nd start of the campaign, gave up eight hits over the route. But Burdette had a nine-run cushion going into the sixth inning when the Cubs scored for the first time on George Altman's two-run homer.

The Braves scored at least once in each of the first four frames, chasing cubs starter Bob Anderson in the third after Crandall belted his 16th homerun with Johnny Logan on base.

Bobby Avila, who singled three times and scored three runs, started Milwaukee's scoring in the first inning when he singled and stole second base. He moved to third when Aaron grounded into a force play and he and Aaron both scored on Frank Torre's single.

Avila singled and scored on Eddie Mathews' double in the second inning and crossed the plate for the third time on Adcock's sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Adcock led off the third inning with his 20th homerun and Aaron belted his 34th of the year in the fourth inning off reliever Johnny Buzhardt. Burdette, beaten four times in six 1959 decisions with the Cubs, was never in danger. The Cubs touched him for their third run in the seventh inning on a pair of singles around a stolen base but the veteran righthander yielded only one hit in the next two innings to complete his 17th game of the year.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — I wish I could say that I think Darryl Zanuck's purchase of Irving Wallace's "Chapman Report" for his son Richard to produce, is a good idea. But to me sex habits of women should not be put on any motion picture screen for public exhibition. True, the Zanucks will probably make a fortune out of it after Irving Wallace's manuscript, which was taken from surveys from other doctors even before Dr. Kinsey's report, comes out in book form.

Zanuck Productions paid Wallace $175,000, plus 5 per cent of the world gross for the movie rights, so Darryl must feel he has a boxoffice hit in the offing. The book publisher has ordered a million and a half copies of paperback editions after the hard cover is released.

I don't suppose any word of mine will make a difference and the picture will be made just the same with all concerned making money. But I'm still 100 per cent against it, just as I was against filming "Lolita."

Mike Curtiz was telling me that he spent a lot of time talking to Maurice Chevalier about the French play "Papa" when they were in Vienna making "Olympia." Said Mike, "Maurice has an option on the play which he did in Paris. It's a very charming story of an older man who never wants to marry, but likes all the girls.

"He had been in love with an actress who died in giving birth to his son. He shows no paternal interest in the boy for many years, but finally helps him solve his complicated love affair. In so doing, he falls in love with a woman his own age."

This sounds like a typical Chevalier play, and it will be made into a motion picture with locations in Normandy, Vienna and Paris.

That insultin' comic Don Rickles forgets his insulting business to play, of all things, a villain in "The Rat Race." Rickles' role is next in importance to Debbie Reynolds and Tony Curtis. Don plays an underworld character and there's nothing funny about this.

He is currently hurling out uncomplimentary remarks to the celebrities and stars at the Slate Bros. nightclub. His romance with Sandra Burns, daughter of Gracie (Allen) and George Burns, is still on.

My MGM publicity friend, Bill Lyon, who took himself off to Japan on his vacation, writes:

"Bumped into Marilyn Maxwell (and that's nice bumping!) in the lobby of the Imperial Hotel.

She tells me she's over here appearing at the various military bases which have been getting very few, if any, name entertainers. So now they are paying for top people to come over and put on these morale boosting shows. Marilyn is the first to be booked under this new policy.

"I went with her last night to see her entertain at the U.S. Air Force officers' club and Marilyn was sensational — had them begging for more. All this with the temperature around 95 degrees—and I think Marilyn raised the temperature a few degrees herself.

John Wayne, who is as smart about money as he is about movies, admits frankly that he has an eye in the direction of the boxoffice in signing hot 18-year-old singer Frankie Avalon for "The Alamo." Of course, Frankie fits the part of "Cotton" to a "T" and he gives a good account of himself in his first movie for Warners, "Guns Of The Timberland."

But remembering "Rio Bravo" and the big interest another pop singer, Ricky Nelson, added to that cast (they figure Ricky accounted for the sale of an additional 200,000 tickets) Duke is hoping lightning hits again with young Avalon.

The death of William V. O'Connor at the age of 48 is very sad for his friends. Bill hadn't been well for some time following an attack of pneumonia and he went to a party Saturday night and took more cold and was taken back to St. John's Hospital where his heart failed.

His career was so promising until political difficulties beset him. That broke his heart, plus the fact that his long romance with Ann Miller ended when she married Bill Moss.

Bill's son, Timmy, was at Ischia with his mother, Lady Adele Beaty (Bill's ex-wife). Minna Wallis, Adele's good friend, was trying to locate them there.

Arion Band To Give Concert

FROSTBURG—The Arion Band of Frostburg will present a concert Saturday at 7:15 p. m. in front of the Gunter Hotel, Main Street. The concert will be given in conjunction with the crab feast being held Sunday at Junior Order Park.

Named President

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) —Raymond J. Long, Martinsburg, was named to the presidency of the Cumberland Valley Volunteer Firemen's Assn. at the annual three day convention in Harrisonburg, Va. He succeeds Raymond T. Kimble, Hagerstown, Md., who was named secretary.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I went steady with a boy for four months. We got along fine until two weeks ago when he began to act unsociable toward me. I can't figure it out but we just lost interest in each other and now we hardly speak.

Yesterday I heard he's going strong with another girl. I decided then to give him his ring back. I looked all over and that ring is nowhere in sight.

Do I owe it to him to replace the ring? Or shall I wait until he asks for it and then tell him he's out of luck?

—FOGGY MIND.

DEAR FOGGY: Since he hasn't mentioned the ring he probably attached little importance to it. Let the matter drop.

If he should ask you for it later explain you lost it but you'll buy another if he wishes.

DEAR ANN: Why in the world do people send wedding invitations to friends and relatives thousands of miles away when they know good and well they can't attend?

In my opinion this is glorified begging and I wish someone had the nerve to call it by its right name. And while I'm on the subject, I'd like to mention another well-worn gimmick. Why do people send wedding announcements? Those who are close enough to be interested in the happy happenings in the lives of those around them, don't need an engraved announcement.

You'd be doing a service of tremendous magnitude if you'd print this letter and wise people up. FRANKLY SPEAKING.

DEAR FRANKLY: People have been arguing about this sort of thing since the Year One. Some readers even love showers—and have written to say so, when others bellyached. No doubt I'll receive letters from people saying they enjoy receiving wedding invitations even though they know they can't attend.

An announcement doesn't call for a gift. It is just to let you know the hitching took place.

DEAR ANN: Excuse the looks of this letter, please. I can't see very well. I have two black eyes and one is almost shut.

I married a man I knew only two weeks. He was a bartender in this place and I was a cocktail waitress. He had a wonderful personality, swell sense of humor and everyone liked him. My husband died the year before and I was lonesome. Besides, I had two growing sons who needed a father.

When we got married he insisted on a nice honeymoon. He was tapped out but I had a few thousand dollars. He talked me into buying a second-hand Jaguar. The third night out he got absolutely plastered on tequila, accused me of making eyes at a piano player and beat me up.

He has punched me so many times I've lost count. I wear sun-glasses all the time because no sooner am I rid of one mouse than he gives me another.

When he's nice there's no one sweeter. I really love him in spite of his faults, which makes it tough. I want to make my marriage work but I'm afraid he'll knock my block off one of these days. Please help me.

—TRIXIE.

DEAR TRIXIE: How can I help a woman who can't even count the black eyes and winds up saying "I love him?"

A woman who continues to live with a man who beats her brains out is sick. Your children don't need a father like this—so stop making excuses. See a doctor and try to get well. And move out before he cripples you.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Arion Band To Give Concert

FROSTBURG—The Arion Band of Frostburg will present a concert Saturday at 7:15 p. m. in front of the Gunter Hotel, Main Street. The concert will be given in conjunction with the crab feast being held Sunday at Junior Order Park.

Named President

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Raymond J. Long, Martinsburg, was named to the presidency of the Cumberland Valley Volunteer Firemen's Assn. at the annual three day convention in Harrisonburg, Va. He succeeds Raymond T. Kimble, Hagerstown, Md., who was named secretary.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I went steady with a boy for four months. We got along fine until two weeks ago when he began to act unsociable toward me. I can't figure it out but we just lost interest in each other and now we hardly speak.

Yesterday I heard he's going strong with another girl. I decided then to give him his ring back. I looked all over and that ring is nowhere in sight.

Do I owe it to him to replace the ring? Or shall I wait until he asks for it and then tell him he's out of luck?

—FOGGY MIND.

DEAR FOGGY: Since he hasn't mentioned the ring he probably attached little importance to it. Let the matter drop.

If he should ask you for it later explain you lost it but you'll buy another if he wishes.

DEAR ANN: Why in the world do people send wedding invitations to friends and relatives thousands of miles away when they know good and well they can't attend?

In my opinion this is glorified begging and I wish someone had the nerve to call it by its right name. And while I'm on the subject, I'd like to mention another well-worn gimmick. Why do people send wedding announcements? Those who are close enough to be interested in the happy happenings in the lives of those around them, don't need an engraved announcement.

You'd be doing a service of tremendous magnitude if you'd print this letter and wise people up. FRANKLY SPEAKING.

DEAR FRANKLY: People have been arguing about this sort of thing since the Year One. Some readers even love showers—and have written to say so, when others bellyached. No doubt I'll receive letters from people saying they enjoy receiving wedding invitations even though they know they can't attend.

An announcement doesn't call for a gift. It is just to let you know the hitching took place.

DEAR ANN: Excuse the looks of this letter, please. I can't see very well. I have two black eyes and one is almost shut.

I married a man I knew only two weeks. He was a bartender in this place and I was a cocktail waitress. He had a wonderful personality, swell sense of humor and everyone liked him. My husband died the year before and I was lonesome. Besides, I had two growing sons who needed a father.

When we got married he insisted on a nice honeymoon. He was tapped out but I had a few thousand dollars. He talked me into buying a second-hand Jaguar. The third night out he got absolutely plastered on tequila, accused me of making eyes at a piano player and beat me up.

He has punched me so many times I've lost count. I wear sun-glasses all the time because no sooner am I rid of one mouse than he gives me another.

When he's nice there's no one sweeter. I really love him in spite of his faults, which makes it tough. I want to make my marriage work but I'm afraid he'll knock my block off one of these days. Please help me.

—TRIXIE.

DEAR TRIXIE: How can I help a woman who can't even count the black eyes and winds up saying "I love him?"

A woman who continues to live with a man who beats her brains out is sick. Your children don't need a father like this—so stop making excuses. See a doctor and try to get well. And move out before he cripples you.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Judge Commits W.Va. Girl To State School

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Greenbrier County Juvenile Judge Nickell Kramer Monday sentenced a 17-year-old girl implicated in her father's murder to the state industrial school for girls until she is 21 years of age.

The girl, Patricia Reynolds of Quinwood, was the last of three persons to be sentenced in connection with the slaying of Eliza Reynolds, 47, a coal miner, last March.

Earlier Judge Krammer sentenced Billy and James Moore, Ansted, to prison terms for their part in the shooting. Billy admitted firing the shotgun blast but said his brother and the girl helped him dispose of the body.

They placed it in a coal car and covered it with coal. The body was discovered a month later when the coal was being loaded into an Italian merchant ship at Newport News, Va.

Rotarians Plan Activities For September

LONACONING — Lonaconing Rotary Club planned for their September meetings and the District Governor's official visitation Thursday, October 1, at their dinner meeting Thursday at the VFW home.

Harry Warnick will be host to the Rotarians Thursday, September 3, at his home at Gilmore. A corn roast will be held.

A dinner and program will be held Thursday, September 10, at the VFW home.

James McElvie will be host to the Rotarians on Thursday, September 17, at his home on Dudley Front Street.

A softball game is planned for Sunday, September 13, at 2 p. m. at the Little League baseball field, Railroad Street. Cecil Inskeep, manager of the Rotarians men's team, is planning for the softball game to be played with the Lonaconing Lions Club men's team.

Dr. Leslie Miles Jr., president, welcomed and presented a Rotary membership pin to Harvey Frye, who was inducted into the club last Thursday.

Robert Hadley prepared a list for transportation arrangements to have two boys of the Boys Forestry camp honored once a month, at the first Thursday dinner meeting.

The board of directors meeting was held at the home of William McElvie following the dinner at VFW home, Thursday.

Famed Songwriter Dies In Room Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember that old melody, "For Me and My Gal?"

George W. Meyer, 75, who wrote the music for that hit and scores of other songs that have been hummed throughout America, died Friday in a fire in his bedroom in the Hotel Shoreham. His body was found in bed after smoke was seen pouring from his room.

Meyer wrote the music, too, for such songs as "Brown Eyes, Why are You Blue?," "There Are Such Things" and "I Believe in Miracles."

Too Few Students

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—University of Wichita students desiring instruction in home economics will be referred to Friends University across town next year, Wichita President Harry F. Corbin said too few students are taking the course to make it pay.

BYF Elects

Gary Darr was selected president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship at the annual meeting. Others serving with him are Joy Twigg, vice president; Elaine Armstrong, secretary; Vicki Bittinger, corresponding secretary; Taylor Sheets, treasurer, and Karen Durr, chaplain.

Suzanne Shoup and Judith Phillips were named pianists; David Trumbull, song leader; Lyle Trumbull, librarian with Henry Shoup assistant; and Janet Armstrong, missionary secretary.

LUKE — James E. Walker, commissaryman first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence N. Walker of 99 Mullen Avenue, and husband of the former Miss Margaret Lease of Lonaconing, is serving at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

Bands In Festival

SPENCER, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia Black Walnut Festival Chairman W. B. Parrish said Wednesday at least 10 high school bands will participate in the festival Oct. 10, windup day of the affair. He said the bands are all from the Little Kanawha Regional Council.

Child Kills Self

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. (UPI)—A six-year-old Mingo County boy Tuesday night accidentally shot and killed himself while playing with a .22 caliber rifle. State police said Gary Dean Blankenship, Edgarton, apparently entered his grandfather's house and took the rifle from the wall. They said he was probably playing with the weapon when it went off and the bullet struck him between the eyes.

Wins Top Award

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — The top award for the grand champion bull at the West Virginia State Fair at nearby Fairlea went to Poca Dot Farm of Charles Town Tuesday. Hill Dobbs Rance of Oakland, Tenn., placed the reserve champion bull.

End Vacation

LONACONING — Mr. and Mrs. James O. Marshall returned to their home, West Main Street, Lonaconing, after a vacation of ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Holsing of Arlington, Va. They also visited at Harrisburg, Pa., Hershey, Pa., and York, Pa.

Judge Commits W.Va. Girl To State School

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Greenbrier County Juvenile Judge Nickell Kramer Monday sentenced a 17-year-old girl implicated in her father's murder to the state industrial school for girls until she is 21 years of age.

The girl, Patricia Reynolds of Quinwood, was the last of three persons to be sentenced in connection with the slaying of Eliza Reynolds, 47, a coal miner, last March.

Earlier Judge Krammer sentenced Billy and James Moore, Ansted, to prison terms for their part in the shooting. Billy admitted firing the shotgun blast but said his brother and the girl helped him dispose of the body.

They placed it in a coal car and covered it with coal. The body was discovered a month later when the coal was being loaded into an Italian merchant ship at Newport News, Va.

Rotarians Plan Activities For September

LONACONING — Lonaconing Rotary Club planned for their September meetings and the District Governor's official visitation Thursday, October 1, at their dinner meeting Thursday at the VFW home.

Harry Warnick will be host to the Rotarians Thursday, September 3, at his home at Gilmore. A corn roast will be held.

A dinner and program will be held Thursday, September 10, at the VFW home.

James McElvie will be host to the Rotarians on Thursday, September 17, at his home on Dudley Front Street.

A softball game is planned for Sunday, September 13, at 2 p. m. at the Little League baseball field, Railroad Street. Cecil Inskeep, manager of the Rotarians men's team, is planning for the softball game to be played with the Lonaconing Lions Club men's team.

Dr. Leslie Miles Jr., president, welcomed and presented a Rotary membership pin to Harvey Frye, who was inducted into the club last Thursday.

Robert Hadley prepared a list for transportation arrangements to have two boys of the Boys Forestry camp honored once a month, at the first Thursday dinner meeting.

The board of directors meeting was held at the home of William McElvie following the dinner at VFW home, Thursday.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember that old melody, "For Me and My Gal?"

George W. Meyer, 75, who wrote the music for that hit and scores of other songs that have been hummed throughout America, died Friday in a fire in his bedroom in the Hotel Shoreham. His body was found in bed after smoke was seen pouring from his room.

Meyer wrote the music, too, for such songs as "Brown Eyes, Why are You Blue?," "There Are Such Things" and "I Believe in Miracles."

Too Few Students

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—University of Wichita students desiring instruction in home economics will be referred to Friends University across town next year, Wichita President Harry F. Corbin said too few students are taking the course to make it pay.

Three Held For Attempt Of Burglary

Safecracking Tools; Loaded Guns Found By Authorities

Three men arrested here late Thursday night by City Police are being held in Allegany County Jail in default of $500 bond each on charges of conspiring to break into the Montgomery Ward Store here.

The men are identified as Albert Samuel Wright, 42, of 2035 Linden Road, Newport, Ky.; Andrew Joe Forkes, 51, of 3014 East Whitton Avenue, Phoenix, Ariz., and Charles Issacs, 32, of 513 East Sixth Street, Newport, Ky.

$500 Bond Set

The three men were taken before Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday afternoon who set bond at $500 each for their appearance at a preliminary hearing in Trial Magistrate Court on September 2.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason requested that bond be set at $1,000 for each of the men and Edward J. Ryan, local attorney who is representing the three men, asked that bond be set at $500 for his clients.

City Police arrested the three men about 10:45 p.m. Thursday and held them at the City Jail for investigation.

Officers Harold Gibson, Royce Clayton and William Norris made the initial arrest and the three men later were questioned by Assistant Police Chief John Sherry and Detective Kenneth Morrissey.

Lt. James E. Van questioned the trio yesterday and later released them to the state's attorney's office where they were formally charged with unlawfully conspiring together to break into the Montgomery Ward Store with intent to steal goods from the store.

A fourth man is believed to be involved in the case and City Police obtained a warrant for Nathan Bartell, also of Newport, Ky., from Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

A car belonging to one of the arrested men was found parked along the C&P Telephone Company building on Union Street. When it was examined by the police they found two loaded pistols.

Another car registered to Nathan Bartell was found parked across the street from the other vehicle. It also was searched by police who found an array of burglar tools in the trunk.

Among the items found were a large pair of bolt cutters, various size bits and drills, an emory wheel, gloves and foam rubber to keep the tools from rattling inside the trunk.

Complete Set

One veteran officer said he had never seen such a complete set of burglar tools. Police noted that even the tips of the bits for the drills were covered with adhesive tape for protection.

The arresting officers also found a large screwdriver forced into the lock at the rear of the Montgomery Ward store and several pairs of gloves and a flashlight lying nearby. A small poper bag with several dollars in nickels also was found near the scene.

Lt. Van contacted authorities in Cincinnati, Ohio, who said they would forward police records here of the men involved in the case.

Miss Jean M. Reinhard Feted

Miss Jean M. Reinhard, who plans to resign at the end of the month as executive secretary of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association, was honored yesterday afternoon at the association's office. Miss Reinhard is shown receiving a gift from State Sen. Charles M. See, president of the association, for her work during the past nine and one-half years.

TB Executive Secretary Resigns; Honored At Party

Sen. Charles M. See, who is president of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association, has announced that Miss Jean M. Reinhard has submitted her resignation as executive secretary of the association.

Miss Reinhard, who has been the executive secretary of the association since January 1950, has resigned in order to return to college to work on her doctorate in social research. She will complete her duties Monday.

Miss Reinhard was honored yesterday afternoon at a party at the association's office in the County Building on Union Street.

Sen. See presented Miss Reinhard with a leather brief case on behalf of the association and her co-workers as a token of appreciation for her work during the past nine and a half years.

Miss Reinhard said she has been awarded a graduate assistantship to Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and hopes to complete the work on her doctorate in two years.

A graduate of Mt. St. Agnes High School in Baltimore, Miss Reinhard received her bachelor of arts degree from College Misericordia at Dallas, Pa., and received her master of arts degree from Catholic University.

Attending the party yesterday were members of the executive board of the TB association, members of the Allegany County Lay Health Council and co-workers of Miss Reinhard.

Sen. See said the association is accepting applications for the executive secretary position and application blanks may be obtained at the association's office at 111 Union Street.

Members of the personnel committee of the association will act on the applications and the final approval for the position will be made by the executive committee.

Sen. See said a successor to Miss Reinhard is expected to be announced in January.

Four Men Join Army Reserve

Four local and area men have enlisted in the Army Reserve under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955, Capt. Stanley L. Sliviak, commanding officer of the 265th Ordnance Company, (Field Supply), announced last night.

They are Pvt. Everett B. Yankie Jr., 447 Waverly Terrace; Pvt. Garland G. Hiser Jr., Locust Grove; Pvt. Robert I. Burkett, Corriganville, and Pvt. Albert D. Spataro, RD 2, Frostburg.

Captain Sliviak explained that under the program in which the young men enlisted they will depart sometime in September for six months of active duty for training during which time they will receive basic training as well as specialist training.

Upon completion of their six months of active duty they will return to their homes and complete their service obligation by participating with their local Army Reserve unit in weekly drills and annual summer training periods of 15 days.

Captain Sliviak stated that young men, ages 17 to 26, who have completed their schooling and who are interested in the six months program could obtain additional information by contacting the U.S. Army Reserve Center, 219 Walnut Place, or by phoning PA 2-4404.

Captain Sliviak also stated that he has a limited number of vacancies in his unit for prior service personnel.

Cyclists Get Riding Tips From Police

With the reopening of school only days away, Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney reminds students depending upon bicycles for transportation of the responsibilities they assume upon riding in traffic.

"Bike riders must obey all traffic signals and signal stops and turns, as do the operators of motor vehicles. They should ride in single file on the right-hand side of the street at all times, and not against traffic," Chief Gaffney said.

He also reminds automobile drivers that young cyclists will be joining the early morning traffic flow and urges them to show riders the proper direction courtesies.

"Drivers should be alert for bike riders during the pre-school hours in the morning," he said, "and at all times when in the vicinity of schools." And motor vehicle operators should observe school zone signs at all times, as is required by law, for the safety of the students.

Chief Gaffney indicated his satisfaction with the extremely low bicycle accident rate in Cumberland and said that the interest taken in bikes and bike riding by various civic and fraternal groups had much to do with the reduction of cycling mishaps.

All bike riders, the chief added, should have their two-wheelers checked by a competent mechanic at the start of the school term each fall to insure that lights, brakes and signaling revices are working properly and safely.

Chief Gaffney also reminds drivers that a state law prohibits any vehicle from passing a halted school bus from any direction.

Tax Collections At Court House Reach $12,042

A mild rush was experienced yesterday in the office of Allegany County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff at the Court House as a total of $12,042.47 was received during the day.

The speedup was anticipated as only two more working days remain for the taxpayers to obtain a three per cent discount on county real estate taxes. The office will be open from 9 a. m. until noon today and from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Monday.

Mailed checks and money orders postmarked before midnight Monday, August 31, also will be entitled to the three per cent discount. Beginning in September one-half per cent interest will be charged on county taxes. State and county tax collections by Mr. Orndorff and his staff so far this month total nearly $125,000.

Cresaptown Firemen Plan Annual Jubilee Sept. 3-5

The annual jubilee of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company and its auxiliary unit will be held at the fire hall on September 3, 4 and 5.

Fire Chief Louis Winter, who is chairman of the annual event, said last night that the public is cordially invited to the jubilee which has been held by the volunteers for about 20 years.

Proceeds of the event are used for company equipment, said Chie Winter. Games and concessions will be located in the fire hall where the auxiliary members will sell refreshments.

Friday night, September 4, will be the big night of the jubilee. Chief Winter said at least 25 fire companies and three drum and bugle corps are expected to march in the parade scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

The parade will form on Meadowview Drive, proceed ento U.S. Route 220 to Winchester Road and disband at the fire hall.

A special attraction during the evening will be a kiddie's bike parade with prizes being awarded to the best decorated bicycle and also to the youngest cyclist.

After the parade a dance will be held in the fire hall from 9 p. m. to midnight with music by Walter Wheeler and his orchestra.

Gasoline Leak Is Blamed For $10,000 Suit

Five-County Action Is Docketed Here

A Bowman's Addition couple yesterday filed a $10,000 damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court for damage to their well and septic tank which they contend was caused by the seepage of gasoline onto their property.

The five-count declaration was filed by Sebastian Spera and Ruth Virginia Spera, his wife, through Attorney James Alfred Avirett. The Speras own property on Forrest Avenue in Bowman's Addition.

Defendants in the action are James H. Brotemarkle and Elva Brotemarkle, his wife, also of Forrest Avenue; the Shriver Company, Inc., and John E. Mertens, John F. Mertens, Robert P. Mertens and Russell L. Mertens, trading as Mertens Plumbing and Heating Company.

The Brotemarkles are described as the owners and operators of a gasoline station situated higher up Forrest Avenue than the Speras' property. The declaration states that during July 1958 the Brotemarkles allowed gasoline to escape from the storage tanks, pumps and pipe lines and the gasoline permeated and saturated the plaintiffs' land. The plaintiffs charge that the seepage of gasoline destroyed the well and damaged their septic tank.

The Shriver Company Inc. was named a defendant in the suit as the owner of the gasoline tanks, pumps and pipe lines at the Brotemarkle station.

The Mertens' were named as defendants on the grounds that they installed the tanks, pumps and pipe lines at the Brotemarkle station during 1957.

Back on February 27, Marvin Clem and Annabell Clem, his wife, who also live on Forrest Avenue in Bowman's Addition, brought a $15,000 damage suit against the Brotemarkles for alleged damage to their well and septic tank by gasoline seepage. Subsequently, the declaration was amended July 30 to include the Shriver Company and the Mertens' firm. This suit was filed by Attorneys William C. Walsh and William Walsh.

Bridge Speed Limit Upped

Cumberland and area residents who are planning a trip to Ocean City or the Eastern Shore might be interested in learning that the speed limit on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge has been raised from 35 to 40 miles an hour during the two remaining summer weekends.

Sunday evening traffic congestion on the bridge during the vacation season has been under constant study by the staff of the State Roads Commission.

Generally, this study has shown that if motorists maintain a reasonably good speed, congestion is kept to a minimum.

The speed limit has been 35 miles an hour. During peak times between 5 and 10 p. m. on summer Sundays, nearly 1,200 westbound vehicles use the bridge every hour. At 35 miles an hour that is just about the capacity of the bridge.

The SRC wants to make every effort it can to insure that homeward-bound traffic will move across the bridge with a minimum of delay.

Equity Suit Filed

Eugenia Fredricka Miller yesterday filed a bill of complaint in Allegany County Circuit Court against Vernon Harold Miller.

76 Per Cent Of County Land Is In Forests

Conservation Unit Makes Estimates

About 76 per cent of the rural land in Allegany County is woodland, the County Conservation Need Committee decided yesterday at its first meeting in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Martin M. Gordon, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, who acted as chairman at yesterday's session, said that the committee figured that 33,805 acres are in cropland, 19,202 acres in pasture, 197,000 acres in woodland and 7,061 other land which is essentially idle.

These four figures add up to 257,068 acres whereas the total county acreage is 272,640 acres. The rest includes the urban areas of the county and 1,360 acres covered with water, including the Potomac River and its tributaries and the C&O Canal.

In arriving at these estimates, the committee used figures from the 1954 farm census and expanded soil survey data which was compiled by Kenneth M. Stone, soil scientist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

These estimates now will be submitted to M. B. Fussell, College Park, chairman of the State Conservation Needs Committee. If approved, a second meeting will be held by the county group to project the outlook for this county for 1975.

Attending yesterday's meeting with Mr. Gordon were the five members of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, Floyd Buser, Charles S. Harbey, D. T. Puffinberger, Wilbert Paul and Ernest R. Slider; County Agent Joseph M. Steger, B. Beeson Snyder of Oakland, Farmers Home Administration supervisor for Allegany and Garrett counties; Bradye H. Dolly, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee; George Clingerman, vice president of the County Farm Bureau; District Forester William H. Johnson, Stanley Alexander of Hagerstown, area wildlife field superintendent for the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments in Allegany County, also was invited but sent his regrets. He was in Ocean City for the convention of the Maryland Association of Assessors.

Barton Church Will Observe First Century

A committee has been formed to plan the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the First Presbyterian Church of Barton.

This group will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The celebration is planned from October 4 through October 11.

Rev. James Eakin, pastor, and Mrs. Alexander Cross are co-chairmen of the arrangements committee.

Church Supper Today

Mt. Tabor Church on Oldtown Road will hold a chicken and ham supper today from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Local 'Y' Youth Completes European Education Tour

Eric Fable, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kight, 817 Braddock Road, has returned from a six weeks' YMCA - Hi-Y Educational tour of Europe.

He was one of 16 boys and girls accepted by the Newark, N. J., YMCA as members of a group to represent the youth of the United States to the youth of Europe.

The tour, sponsored by the Central Atlantic Area YMCA's, was for selected older high school youth and was planned in cooperation with the World YMCA Travel Service of Geneva, Switzerland.

The group left Idlewild Airport on July 14 on a KLM Constellation, arriving at Glasgow, Scotland. From there, the itinerary included nine different countries; not only seeing the sights, but meeting the people in Scotland, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Belgium, and Holland.

Highlighting the tour were occasional weekend camping trips and evenings with YMCA members in the different countries, interviews with officials in London, Paris, Geneva, Rome, Bonn, and Amsterdam; an evening in a YMCA Refugee Camp in Salzburg, and a visit to a German Rehabilitation village in the Ruhr.

These youth, accompanied by their adult chaperones, returned to the United States by plane from Amsterdam to New York on August 27.

Eric will start his senior year at Allegany High School this fall. He is president of the Hi-Y, co vice president of the senior class, captain of the band, a member of the National Honor Society and the varsity track team at Allegany, junior councillor of the Cumberland Order of the DeMolay, a member of Boy Scout Explorer Post 13, and one of the leaders of the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

22 B&O Cars Are Derailed

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Twenty-two cars of a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train derailed near here Friday night.

A spokesman for the B&O in Baltimore said there were no injuries. Cause of the accident was not determined immediately.

He said the derailment occurred at the Halpine Crossing near here and blocked the railroad's main east-west line, which runs between Washington toward Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Trains leaving Washington were being detoured over an old route via Point of Rocks.

The east-bound freight No. 94 was en route from Cumberland, to New York. The engine and four freight cars remained on the track, the next 22 derailed, and 50 others stayed intact.

Passenger trains from Washington being detoured included the Cleveland night express leaving at 9:30 p.m. (EDT), the Diplomat leaving at 9:45 p.m. and the Shenandoah leaving at 12:30 a.m.

Board Approves Home Permit

The Zoning Board of Appeals of Cumberland has approved a building permit sought by Charles E. Waterman who plans to build a home at 16 South Allegany Street.

The permit was disapproved by Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Waterman appealed to the Board.

Farm Agent Secretary

Mrs. Maryjane Iden, of Frostburg, has assumed her duties as secretary to Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent. She succeeds Miss Leona M. Phillips, also of Frostburg, who retired August 1 after 37 years of service. Mrs. Iden, a native of Martinsburg, W. Va., has a daughter, Susan Odgers Iden, 16.

Deep Creek Boat Laws To Be Heard

Property Owners Will Air Rules

Proposed boating rules and regulations prepared by a special committee will be the highlight of the meeting today at 10 a.m. of the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association in Deep Creek Lodge.

The meeting, ironically, had been called before the tragic death of a 26-year-old swimmer in the Red Run Inlet of the lake last Sunday.

A spokesman for the association said earlier this year the committee was appointed to study boating regulations.

This group met with the State Game and Inland Fish Commission which has jurisdiction over the waters in the lake.

At this session, the committee pointed to some of the regulations which it would like to have enforced.

The spokesman pointed out that a federal boating law has been passed and will take effect in April in every state which does not have a similar law.

The Deep Creek group also explained to the commission that regulations adopted on a statewide basis could be so that they would not apply to the lake, or make the operatons there too restrictive.

He said, for instance, that some rules for the Chesapeake Bay would not work in the Lake. The Coast Guard bay regulations on lighting of boats at night could apply, but rules of the road, such as passing on the right and no turning in the main body of water, would curtail the Deep Creek activity.

The spokesman also said owners of docks at the lake have been warning people about allowing youngsters to operate high powered boats.

The Deep Creek laws, he said, that have been studied by the special committee include the limiting of the number of persons in a boat when pulling persons on water skis, restricting the nearness to the shore that powerboats may run, age of drivers, etc.

The death of Miss Margaret Ann Kitzmiller of Keyser, has stirred feeling over the need for more stringent boating regulations.

Miss Kitzmiller died when she was struck by a boat while swimming. The boat was operated by nine-year-old Dale Upperman of Pittsburgh.

Other accidents added to the feeling. Mike Currence, 19, of Rivesville, W. Va., who will be a junior at Fairmont State Teachers College, was struck by a motorboat driven by Harold G. Yutzy of Oakland. Currence suffered a slashed shoulder and was hospitalized in Garrett Memorial Hospital. Currence was reportedly swimming from a raft and was underwater at the time the boat approached. Yutzy said he did not see the swimmer.

Eleven persons were thrown in the lake when a boat driven by an 11-year-old made a sharp turn and upset. All reached shore safely.

In another accident, a young boy reportedly driving a 25-horsepower outboard motor and towing a skier, made a sharp turn and was tossed overboard. The boat continued in a wide circle for a half hour until the gasoline supply was exhausted. In the meantime, the boy had a difficult time keeping out of the boat's path. He suffered a broken thumb and finger, it was reported.

Mayles Appointed New Constable

William E. Mayles, 406 Spruce Street, Westernport, yesterday was appointed as new constable-at-large for a four-year term by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

His salary will be $600 a year for the part-time job and his bond will be $500.

Before appointing Mr. Mayles, John J. Rowan and John T. Mason, the two Democratic commissioners terminated the service of James W. Griffith of Westernport and Robert W. Matthews of Lonaconing as constables-at-large effective August 31.

Commissioner William A. Wilson, the lone Republican, abstained from voting.

Sen. Kennedy Meets Tawes, Congressmen

Discuss Plans For Md. Primary

By MARTIN SUTPHIN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland Gov. J. Millard Tawes Friday night repeated his hope that state Democrats will send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention next year, but he left the way open for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to enter the Maryland primary.

Tawes said after a three-hour meeting with Kennedy and leading Maryland Democrats that his attitude about the convention had nothing to do with Kennedy's prospective candidacy for president.

"I wish to state further," he said, "that should Sen. Kennedy feel that to enter the Maryland primary would enhance his prospects as a presidential candidate, I certainly would defer to his analysis of his own personal situation and, despite my expressed views, would welcome him as a candidate in our primary.

"I have no desire to enter such a primary myself. I fee. that Sen. Kennedy and I share common views on many important subjects which concern our party and our nation," the governor said.

Kennedy said he will decide by December or January whether he will become a candidate. "It is quite obvious that I am interested in Maryland, and I will continue to be. Maryland is a key state," he said.

The governor said he hopes to discuss the matter further with Kennedy if the senator announces his candidacy.

Kennedy said he was grateful to the governor for arranging Friday night's meeti g and giving him an opportunity to meet party leaders in Maryland. He said his plans had not been changed any by the session.

Kennedy arrived at the dinner meeting about 70 minutes late because of a night session in the Senate.

He has an eye on Maryland's convention votes and would like to test his strength in several primaries next year.

Many Maryland Democrats, especially in Baltimore, would like to see Kennedy enter the Maryland primary, but Tawes is cool to the idea.

Maryland's first Democratic governor in eight years has nothing against Kennedy, but he wants Maryland's convention delegation to be uncommitted for bargaining purposes.

The state has had 18 votes at recent conventions, and party leaders hope to get the number increased to 20 or more in light of the 1958 election of a Democratic governor and a solid Democratic congressional delegation.

Some Maryland Democrats who agree with Tawes have gone so far as suggesting the presidential preference primary be called off in order to keep the delegation unfettered. The Democrat-controlled General Assembly meets next February, in time to take such action.

The threat of a write-in vote for Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's unsuccessful candidate, also has been mentioned in an effort to scare off Kennedy.

If Kennedy files here and wins over another candidate or an uninstructed delegation, the state's delegates would be bound to vote for him on at least the first ballot.

University Gets $176,000 Grants

The University of Maryland School of Nursing has been officially informed that federal and private grants totaling $176,000 have been assigned to the school for traineeships in master's degree work.

Included in the new grants are funds for nurses who are graduates of hospital diploma schools who are attempting to reach full four-year collegiate status as beginning practitioners in approved public health agencies and general hospital staffs.

Areas of graduate study which will be financed by the grants include administrative, psychiatric, medical, and surgical, maternal and child nursing.

In making the announcement this week, Nursing Dean Florence M. Gipe said the money would be used for scholarships, research, and additional faculty to further extend graduate study opportunities at the School of Nursing.

Three Held For Attempt Of Burglary

Safecracking Tools; Loaded Guns Found By Authorities

Three men arrested here late Thursday night by City Police are being held in Allegany County Jail in default of $500 bond each on charges of conspiring to break into the Montgomery Ward Store here.

The men are identified as Albert Samuel Wright, 42, of 2035 Linden Road, Newport, Ky.; Andrew Joe Forkes, 51, of 3014 East Whitton Avenue, Phoenix, Ariz., and Charles Issacs, 32, of 513 East Sixth Street, Newport, Ky.

$500 Bond Set

The three men were taken before Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday afternoon who set bond at $500 each for their appearance at a preliminary hearing in Trial Magistrate Court on September 2.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason requested that bond be set at $1,000 for each of the men and Edward J. Ryan, local attorney who is representing the three men, asked that bond be set at $500 for his clients.

City Police arrested the three men about 10:45 p.m. Thursday and held them at the City Jail for investigation.

Officers Harold Gibson, Royce Clayton and William Norris made the initial arrest and the three men later were questioned by Assistant Police Chief John Sherry and Detective Kenneth Morrissey.

Lt. James E. Van questioned the trio yesterday and later released them to the state's attorney's office where they were formally charged with unlawfully conspiring together to break into the Montgomery Ward Store with intent to steal goods from the store.

A fourth man is believed to be involved in the case and City Police obtained a warrant for Nathan Bartell, also of Newport, Ky., from Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

A car belonging to one of the arrested men was found parked along the C&P Telephone Company building on Union Street. When it was examined by the police they found two loaded pistols.

Another car registered to Nathan Bartell was found parked across the street from the other vehicle. It also was searched by police who found an array of burglar tools in the trunk.

Among the items found were a large pair of bolt cutters, various size bits and drills, an emory wheel, gloves and foam rubber to keep the tools from rattling inside the trunk.

Complete Set

One veteran officer said he had never seen such a complete set of burglar tools. Police noted that even the tips of the bits for the drills were covered with adhesive tape for protection.

The arresting officers also found a large screwdriver forced into the lock at the rear of the Montgomery Ward store and several pairs of gloves and a flashlight lying nearby. A small poper bag with several dollars in nickels also was found near the scene.

Lt. Van contacted authorities in Cincinnati, Ohio, who said they would forward police records here of the men involved in the case.

Miss Jean M. Reinhard Feted

Miss Jean M. Reinhard, who plans to resign at the end of the month as executive secretary of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association, was honored yesterday afternoon at the association's office. Miss Reinhard is shown receiving a gift from State Sen. Charles M. See, president of the association, for her work during the past nine and one-half years.

TB Executive Secretary Resigns; Honored At Party

Sen. Charles M. See, who is president of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association, has announced that Miss Jean M. Reinhard has submitted her resignation as executive secretary of the association.

Miss Reinhard, who has been the executive secretary of the association since January 1950, has resigned in order to return to college to work on her doctorate in social research. She will complete her duties Monday.

Miss Reinhard was honored yesterday afternoon at a party at the association's office in the County Building on Union Street.

Sen. See presented Miss Reinhard with a leather brief case on behalf of the association and her co-workers as a token of appreciation for her work during the past nine and a half years.

Miss Reinhard said she has been awarded a graduate assistantship to Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and hopes to complete the work on her doctorate in two years.

A graduate of Mt. St. Agnes High School in Baltimore, Miss Reinhard received her bachelor of arts degree from College Misericordia at Dallas, Pa., and received her master of arts degree from Catholic University.

Attending the party yesterday were members of the executive board of the TB association, members of the Allegany County Lay Health Council and co-workers of Miss Reinhard.

Sen. See said the association is accepting applications for the executive secretary position and application blanks may be obtained at the association's office at 111 Union Street.

Members of the personnel committee of the association will act on the applications and the final approval for the position will be made by the executive committee.

Sen. See said a successor to Miss Reinhard is expected to be announced in January.

Four Men Join Army Reserve

Four local and area men have enlisted in the Army Reserve under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955, Capt. Stanley L. Sliviak, commanding officer of the 265th Ordnance Company, (Field Supply), announced last night.

They are Pvt. Everett B. Yankie Jr., 447 Waverly Terrace; Pvt. Garland G. Hiser Jr., Locust Grove; Pvt. Robert I. Burkett, Corriganville, and Pvt. Albert D. Spataro, RD 2, Frostburg.

Captain Sliviak explained that under the program in which the young men enlisted they will depart sometime in September for six months of active duty for training during which time they will receive basic training as well as specialist training.

Upon completion of their six months of active duty they will return to their homes and complete their service obligation by participating with their local Army Reserve unit in weekly drills and annual summer training periods of 15 days.

Captain Sliviak stated that young men, ages 17 to 26, who have completed their schooling and who are interested in the six months program could obtain additional information by contacting the U.S. Army Reserve Center, 219 Walnut Place, or by phoning PA 2-4404.

Captain Sliviak also stated that he has a limited number of vacancies in his unit for prior service personnel.

Named PPG Official

The appointment of Richard P. Bell as general manager of paint sales for the merchandising division of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, effective September 1, has been announced by Felix T. Hughes, vice president, merchandising division.

The Deep Creek laws, he said, that have been studied by the special committee include the limiting of the number of persons in a boat when pulling persons on water skis, restricting the nearness to the shore that powerboats may run, age of drivers, etc.

The death of Miss Margaret Ann Kitzmiller of Keyser, has stirred feeling over the need for more stringent boating regulations.

Miss Kitzmiller died when she was struck by a boat while swimming. The boat was operated by nine-year-old Dale Upperman of Pittsburgh.

Other accidents added to the feeling. Mike Currence, 19, of Rivesville, W. Va., who will be a junior at Fairmont State Teachers College, was struck by a motorboat driven by Harold G. Yutzy of Oakland. Currence suffered a slashed shoulder and was hospitalized in Garrett Memorial Hospital. Currence was reportedly swimming from a raft and was underwater at the time the boat approached. Yutzy said he did not see the swimmer.

Eleven persons were thrown in the lake when a boat driven by an 11-year-old made a sharp turn and upset. All reached shore safely.

In another accident, a young boy reportedly driving a 25-horsepower outboard motor and towing a skier, made a sharp turn and was tossed overboard. The boat continued in a wide circle for a half hour until the gasoline supply was exhausted. In the meantime, the boy had a difficult time keeping out of the boat's path. He suffered a broken thumb and finger, it was reported.

22 B&O Cars Are Derailed

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Twenty-two cars of a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train derailed near here Friday night.

A spokesman for the B&O in Baltimore said there were no injuries. Cause of the accident was not determined immediately.

He said the derailment occurred at the Halpine Crossing near here and blocked the railroad's main east-west line, which runs between Washington toward Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Trains leaving Washington were being detoured over an old route via Point of Rocks.

The east-bound freight No. 94 was en route from Cumberland, to New York. The engine and four freight cars remained on the track, the next 22 derailed, and 50 others stayed intact.

Passenger trains from Washington being detoured included the Cleveland night express leaving at 9:30 p.m. (EDT), the Diplomat leaving at 9:45 p.m. and the Shenandoah leaving at 12:30 a.m.

Board Approves Home Permit

The Zoning Board of Appeals of Cumberland has approved a building permit sought by Charles E. Waterman who plans to build a home at 16 South Allegany Street.

The permit was disapproved by Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Waterman appealed to the Board.

Sen. Kennedy Meets Tawes, Congressmen

Discuss Plans For Md. Primary

By MARTIN SUTPHIN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland Gov. J. Millard Tawes Friday night repeated his hope that state Democrats will send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention next year, but he left the way open for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to enter the Maryland primary.

Tawes said after a three-hour meeting with Kennedy and leading Maryland Democrats that his attitude about the convention had nothing to do with Kennedy's prospective candidacy for president.

"I wish to state further," he said, "that should Sen. Kennedy feel that to enter the Maryland primary would enhance his prospects as a presidential candidate, I certainly would defer to his analysis of his own personal situation and, despite my expressed views, would welcome him as a candidate in our primary.

"I have no desire to enter such a primary myself. I fee. that Sen. Kennedy and I share common views on many important subjects which concern our party and our nation," the governor said.

Kennedy said he will decide by December or January whether he will become a candidate. "It is quite obvious that I am interested in Maryland, and I will continue to be. Maryland is a key state," he said.

The governor said he hopes to discuss the matter further with Kennedy if the senator announces his candidacy.

Kennedy said he was grateful to the governor for arranging Friday night's meeti g and giving him an opportunity to meet party leaders in Maryland. He said his plans had not been changed any by the session.

Kennedy arrived at the dinner meeting about 70 minutes late because of a night session in the Senate.

He has an eye on Maryland's convention votes and would like to test his strength in several primaries next year.

Many Maryland Democrats, especially in Baltimore, would like to see Kennedy enter the Maryland primary, but Tawes is cool to the idea.

Maryland's first Democratic governor in eight years has nothing against Kennedy, but he wants Maryland's convention delegation to be uncommitted for bargaining purposes.

The state has had 18 votes at recent conventions, and party leaders hope to get the number increased to 20 or more in light of the 1958 election of a Democratic governor and a solid Democratic congressional delegation.

Some Maryland Democrats who agree with Tawes have gone so far as suggesting the presidential preference primary be called off in order to keep the delegation unfettered. The Democrat-controlled General Assembly meets next February, in time to take such action.

The threat of a write-in vote for Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's unsuccessful candidate, also has been mentioned in an effort to scare off Kennedy.

If Kennedy files here and wins over another candidate or an uninstructed delegation, the state's delegates would be bound to vote for him on at least the first ballot.

University Gets $176,000 Grants

The University of Maryland School of Nursing has been officially informed that federal and private grants totaling $176,000 have been assigned to the school for traineeships in master's degree work.

Included in the new grants are funds for nurses who are graduates of hospital diploma schools who are attempting to reach full four-year collegiate status as beginning practitioners in approved public health agencies and general hospital staffs.

Areas of graduate study which will be financed by the grants include administrative, psychiatric, medical, and surgical, maternal and child nursing.

In making the announcement this week, Nursing Dean Florence M. Gipe said the money would be used for scholarships, research, and additional faculty to further extend graduate study opportunities at the School of Nursing.

Attend Training Session

Roy Nicholson and James Schrock, Cumberland sales-service representatives of Allstate Insurance Company, have returned from Washington, D.C., where they attended a two-day training session.

Cyclists Get Riding Tips From Police

With the reopening of school only days away, Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney reminds students depending upon bicycles for transportation of the responsibilities they assume upon riding in traffic.

"Bike riders must obey all traffic signals and signal stops and turns, as do the operators of motor vehicles. They should ride in single file on the right-hand side of the street at all times, and not against traffic," Chief Gaffney said.

He also reminds automobile drivers that young cyclists will be joining the early morning traffic flow and urges them to show riders the proper direction courtesies.

"Drivers should be alert for bike riders during the pre-school hours in the morning," he said, "and at all times when in the vicinity of schools." And motor vehicle operators should observe school zone signs at all times, as is required by law, for the safety of the students.

Chief Gaffney indicated his satisfaction with the extremely low bicycle accident rate in Cumberland and said that the interest taken in bikes and bike riding by various civic and fraternal groups had much to do with the reduction of cycling mishaps.

All bike riders, the chief added, should have their two-wheelers checked by a competent mechanic at the start of the school term each fall to insure that lights, brakes and signaling revices are working properly and safely.

Chief Gaffney also reminds drivers that a state law prohibits any vehicle from passing a halted school bus from any direction.

Tax Collections At Court House Reach $12,042

A mild rush was experienced yesterday in the office of Allegany County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff at the Court House as a total of $12,042.47 was received during the day.

The speedup was anticipated as only two more working days remain for the taxpayers to obtain a three per cent discount on county real estate taxes. The office will be open from 9 a. m. until noon today and from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Monday.

Mailed checks and money orders postmarked before midnight Monday, August 31, also will be entitled to the three per cent discount. Beginning in September one-half per cent interest will be charged on county taxes. State and county tax collections by Mr. Orndorff and his staff so far this month total nearly $125,000.

Cresaptown Firemen Plan Annual Jubilee Sept. 3-5

The annual jubilee of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company and its auxiliary unit will be held at the fire hall on September 3, 4 and 5.

Fire Chief Louis Winter, who is chairman of the annual event, said last night that the public is cordially invited to the jubilee which has been held by the volunteers for about 20 years.

Proceeds of the event are used for company equipment, said Chie Winter. Games and concessions will be located in the fire hall where the auxiliary members will sell refreshments.

Friday night, September 4, will be the big night of the jubilee. Chief Winter said at least 25 fire companies and three drum and bugle corps are expected to march in the parade scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

The parade will form on Meadowview Drive, proceed onto U.S. Route 220 to Winchester Road and disband at the fire hall.

A special attraction during the evening will be a kiddie's bike parade with prizes being awarded to the best decorated bicycle and also to the youngest cyclist.

After the parade a dance will be held in the fire hall from 9 p. m. to midnight with music by Walter Wheeler and his orchestra.

Mayles Appointed New Constable

William E. Mayles, 406 Spruce Street, Westernport, yesterday was appointed as new constable-at-large for a four-year term by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

His salary will be $600 a year for the part-time job and his bond will be $500.

Before appointing Mr. Mayles, John J. Rowan and John T. Mason, the two Democratic commissioners terminated the service of James W. Griffith of Westernport and Robert W. Matthews of Lonaconing as constables-at-large effective August 31.

Commissioner William A. Wilson, the lone Republican, abstained from voting.
